Interim Report – June 30, 2024
Investment Manager Commentary

Market Environment

The current market environment continues to be dominated by macro related factors especially a hyper focus on U.S. inflation data. The year started out with higher-than-expected inflation data that supported a far more cautious approach to start of the rate cuts. Late in 2023 Federal Reserve Chair, Jerome Powell postulated that three rate cuts would occur in 2024, and the market was convinced even a higher number which could be implied from market data. With the negative surprise to inflation in the early part of the year, we are only now seeing the start of lower inflation. The Fed needed to have more of these data points in the first half of the year to feel confident in a rate cut at all in 2024. Now the debate with investors is the path of rate cuts going forward. While this is clearly still an unknown, we do feel that the pressure on inflation is likely to continue to subside as the economy grows at a more subdued pace than it did in 2023. We are seeing this clearly in the consumer space where bellwether companies like Nike and Levis's announced lackluster results late in June. McDonald's has seen consumer pushback on prices and as a result introduced a new lower priced $5 value menu. While these are just anecdotes, it shouldn't surprise anyone that when our debt takes a bigger piece of our budgets, there is less money to buy things, especially at these higher prices. As we approach the back half of the year, the inflation data will continue to be in focus and be a key determining factor in sentiment, particularly in small cap stocks and Pioneer companies.

Distinguishing Features

GIM builds the Focused Growth portfolio from the bottom-up; sector weightings are secondary to stock selection. The Focused Growth portfolio maintained a significant overweight in Information Technology versus the Russell 2000 Growth benchmark. The fund is also overweight Financials and Real Estate. The fund has no exposure to Energy, Telecommunications, Utilities or Consumer Staples.

Performance Discussion

For H1, the Granahan US Focused Growth UCITS Fund returned -3.61% (USD), underperforming the Russell 2000, benchmark return of 4.44%.

The largest penalty in the portfolio came from Technology in H1. While our overweight was a positive, it wasn't enough to offset challenged selection in an extremely narrow market. Selection in Health Care, Consumer Discretionary, and Industrials also detracted from performance. Strong selection in Financials was a bright spot for the portfolio during the period.

Positioning

A Market of The Haves and The Have Nots

From 2010 until late 2021, amidst a favorable backdrop, small-to-mid cap secular growth stocks were the "belles of the ball." Growth was robust, interest rates were near 0%, inflation was not a concern, and investor appetites were ripe for the risk tolerance perceived in higher duration assets. Since November of 2021, however, these once favorable tailwinds have been fierce headwinds driven by historic interest rate hikes, slowing GDP and overall growth, a spike in inflation, and multiple layers of macro uncertainty. The "average" well-positioned secular growth company has seen its growth slow, earnings estimates cut, and valuation multiples slashed to the point where these once belles of the ball are currently spending their Friday and Saturday nights working in the stockroom at K-Mart, half-watching the fourth season of Stranger Things on their cousin's Netflix account.

Put another way, stocks are either blessed to be on the short list of "Haves"; or are on the much longer list of "Have Nots." As we and others have documented, the "Haves" bucket" has included the Mag 7 and AI Infrastructure "winners" (such as Nvidia (NVDA) Meta (META) in large cap, and Super Micro (SMCI) and Vertiv (VRT) in small cap) and a narrow list of "other" stocks that have captured investor interest for idiosyncratic reasons (such as MicroStrategy (MSTR) Coinbase (COIN), Abercrombie & Fitch (ANF) and Sweetgreen (SG).

Meanwhile, the "Have Not" bucket is spilling over with a wide range of companies. Among these, we believe, are a significant number of "desert island-worthy" companies whose valuations are meaningfully disconnected with their earnings power. Many of these companies have some common characteristics which enable us to group them in one of three buckets below. In each category, investors broadly are shunning companies with these characteristics, leading to some particularly attractive investment opportunities. We list a few of the investments in the Focused Growth portfolio which fit the category:

Estimates Have/Will be Cut, but Long-term Earnings Power and Stock Risk/Reward are Compelling	Special Situations - Too Complicated for the Market Today, Should be Clearer in 6-9 Months	Executing Well, Market Just Hasn't Cared...But We Believe It Will
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Globant (GLOB) • Smartsheet (SMAR) • Evolent Health (EVH) • Sprout Social (SPT) • Porch Group (PRCH) • Indie Semiconductor (INDI) • Kura Sushi (KRUS) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Kornit (KRNT) • Porch Group (PRCH) • Phreesia (PHR) • Enovix (ENVX) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Oddity Labs (ODD) • Genius Sports (GENI) • Magnite (MGNI) • Marex (MRX) • Paylocity (PCTY)

AI Through the Lens of History

As we have discussed in the past, we believe AI is going to be hugely transformative and impactful across virtually every segment of the economy and our lives. As noted above, the stock market has thus far anointed AI winners as those companies central to or in the supply chain of the infrastructure build of Hyperscale AI Data Centers. It is our belief that, as with every transformative technology, it is unclear in these early days who the ultimate "winners" will be from AI. History reminds us that often those stocks that the stock market initially anoints as the "winners" of transformative technologies, are often not in the long-term. Consider:

Some of the Early Anointed Winners In Transformative Technologies

We believe many of the companies in the Focused Growth portfolio, despite not participating in the initial infrastructure wave of spending, stand to enjoy significant positive impact from AI in the coming quarters and years.

Granahan US SMID Select Fund (GUSSIGA)
Interim Report – June 30, 2024
Investment Manager Commentary

Distinguishing Features

GIM builds the SMID Select portfolio from the bottom-up; sector weightings are secondary to stock selection. The SMID Select portfolio maintained an overweight in Information Technology and Communication Services versus the Russell 2500 Growth benchmark this period, while also adding to Consumer Staples. We are underweight Energy, Financials, Consumer Discretionary, Industrials, and Real Estate, and have no exposure to Utilities.

Performance Discussion

For H1, the Granahan US SMID Select UCITS Fund returned 2.04% (USD), underperforming the Russell 2500, benchmark return of 3.43%.

Penalties to performance during the period came from stock selection in Health Care and Technology. Stock selection and allocation in Materials were a positive, and Communication Services contributed positively as well, despite being hurt modestly by our sector overweight.

In terms of our Lifecycles, Core Growth names outperformed the benchmark while Special Situations and Pioneers lagged – Pioneers most notably.

Positioning

In the second quarter we trailed our benchmark. However, there was meaningful outperformance in the month of May which importantly coincided with Q1 earnings season. This is different; it feels like we are at the beginning stages of having a broader range of companies getting credit for strong growth reflected in positive stock price movements. This, however, is still not universal, particularly with our Pioneer companies which were down for the quarter and accounted for 90% of the negative contribution in the quarter. While this is a difficult result, the good news is that many of our Pioneers are poised for continued growth and are positioned to become profitable. What we have observed in some of our holdings is that there is an unusually large penalty being placed on small losses. A company growing 20% with $10 MM of EBITDA losses might trade at 2-3X EV/Sales and a similar company that is in the same industry growing 20% with positive EBITDA of $20MM might trade at 7X EV/Sales.

We believe Pioneer names like indie Semiconductor, SI Bone, Porch and Quanterix all have the makings of becoming profitable companies because of their strong growth characteristics. If we continue to see inflation slowing and interest rates decrease, these stocks could do very well imminently. Importantly, we are not counting on this; our patience should be rewarded over time.

Our newest Major Leage position in the strategy is Parsons Corporation, a Core Growth Company that provides software cybersecurity solutions and a myriad of services largely to the US intelligence community. Parsons had very strong organic growth in the most recent quarter. Additionally, bookings were strong across the board with a 1.4X Book to Bill and several large $100MM awards. The company is winning across a host of opportunities in Transportation, Defense, Security, Middle East development and Environmental remediation including PFAS. Parsons is emblematic of what we look for in many of our Core Growth companies; strong internal and sustainable growth, improving margins, an excellent management team, all with a very reasonable valuation that should allow the stock trajectory to follow the earnings trajectory.

Granahan Future Pathways Fund (IE000LZFKM59)
Interim Report – June 30, 2024
Investment Manager Commentary

Distinguishing Features

GIM builds the Future Pathways portfolio from the bottom-up; sector weightings are secondary to stock selection.

Our focus is to invest in companies that not only drive innovation and growth, but offer solutions for individuals, companies and government needing healthier, safer and more efficient solutions from health care to energy transition. During the period, the Future Pathways portfolio was overweight Information Technology, Industrials and Consumer Staples and underweight the Russell 2500 Growth benchmark in all other sectors. The portfolio has no exposure to Utilities, Communication Services, Financials, Real Estate, or Materials.

Performance Discussion

The Granahan Future Pathways strategy returned -6.11% (USD) in H1, underperforming the +3.93% return of its Russell 2500 Growth benchmark.

Challenges during the period were largely tied to selection in Information Technology, Industrials, and Health Care, partially offset by stronger performance in Consumer Staples and Consumer Discretionary. The Fund does not own Financials, Materials, Communication Services, Utilities, Energy or Real Estate.

With respect to LifeCycle categories Core Growth and Pioneer underperformed the benchmark return, while Special Situation outperformed.

Positioning

The second quarter was a difficult one compared to our benchmark. Most of this dynamic was created by poor performance in our Health Care-related stocks. This includes Viking Therapeutics, Arcturus Therapeutics and Evolent Health. We will briefly discuss all three and then move on to talk about the outlook for ongoing trends with our clean energy investments.

We believe that we can add significant value in our Health Care-related holdings, not only through diversification, but by making long-term strategic investments. In the case of Viking Therapeutics, we think we will be rewarded by investing in one of the most desirable early stage GLP-1 clinical programs. Many large cap pharma companies have added tens of billions of dollars to their valuation by announcing emerging GLP-1 programs with scant data. Meanwhile Viking has presented very strong early data that rivals existing therapies including an oral drug program while only having a valuation of $6 Billion (after being down over 30% in the quarter). Ultimately the strength of Viking's program, combined with the size of this market should make Viking an incredible partner or acquisition for a larger company. Not every new program with larger competitors will be able to replicate the success of Viking's early program results, and the ones with losing hands will likely look elsewhere to participate in what is likely to be a very key strategic class of drugs for most large Pharma companies. Even if that doesn't occur, the value of Viking's program should start getting more recognition. We believe our patience with Viking could be rewarded meaningfully even without a short-term benefit of its acquisition.

Granahan Future Pathways Fund (IE000LZFKM59)
Interim Report – June 30, 2024

In the case of Arcturus, we believe the company is grossly undervalued because of confusion surrounding one of its key mRNA programs in Cystic Fibrosis (CF). The company released data on its Phase 1 program and the drug seemed to work well, but some patients had febrile reactions (sensation of a fever) at the highest dose given in this small trial. What is important is that the highest dose will not be used in the Phase I trial and the Phase II trial is only going on Class 1 patients that cannot take the standard modulation therapy that helps many people with CF. While only one Class 1 patient was in the Phase I trial, she did not have a febrile reaction, but did have a very significant improvement of lung function. We view the totality of all of this as a minor positive, but we need the Phase II study to really make a decent determination as to probability of success (which is totally normal). Unfortunately, the market did not view it that way and Arcturus's stock went down close to 50% in the last few weeks of the quarter. At this valuation ($600 MM market cap), however, we feel that we don't even need the CF program to be successful. The company has an agreement with the largest health care company in Australia (CSL) for its vaccine programs that could generate billions of dollars in commercial and development milestones alone. With the first vaccine for Covid coming to the Japanese market this fall, the company has over $300 MM of cash and should have a very fairly small cash burn going forward - they do not need to access capital. If Arcturus and CSL have any success at all going forward, we are likely to see a nice recovery in the coming months and year. We will likely make small additions to our position.

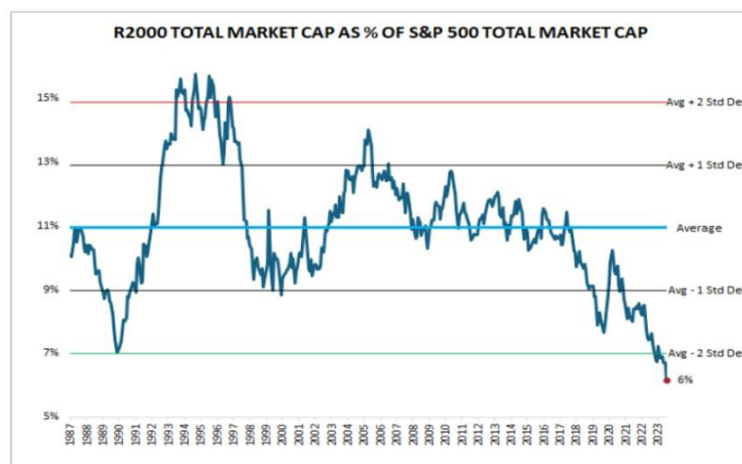

Lastly with Evolent, we again think there is a large mismatch between the fundamentals and the performance of the stock. As a reminder, Evolent is a value-based care provider that helps other health care companies improve outcomes for their members/patients while reducing cost and does share some risk with some of them as part of their agreement. During the quarter, Evolent signaled to the market that the prevalence of patients with cancer or heart issues expanded significantly in two markets, and it seems that investors have rushed to the exit doors because of this. We feel this is potentially overblown, but also very myopic and reflects a lack of understanding of Evolent's business model. Even if this situation continued and expanded, it is not Evolent's job to control the number of patients that show up with cancer. Their goal is to treat them well and cost effectively. If the prevalence of cancer continues at higher levels, Evolent has the ability to be compensated for this change fairly. Furthermore, if there were consistently higher incidences of cancer, it would incentivize the company even more to help control the cost of its patients. The whole reason Evolent's customers work with them is because costs keep going up. While this might be a short-term issue until Evolent can remedy its contract provisions, we don't believe this to be a long-term issue, in fact it could prove to be a positive. With the stock trading at an all-time low valuation on EV/EBITDA basis (stock was down over 40% in the quarter,) we think Evolent represents a tremendous value even if 2024 numbers prove to be modestly lower. We have added to our position.

Before concluding, we wanted to provide a brief update on Clean Energy. We continue to have a relatively smaller allocation to clean energy names as developments continue. We have seen a major increase in tariffs in the United States, which raises the cost of Solar, and continued project related delays associated with regulatory uncertainty and bottlenecks with the Electrical infrastructure in the United States. Most of this is likely to continue for an extended period of time. Furthermore, the chances of a Republican sweep in the November elections could eventually take significant funding away from the IRA that is supporting clean energy earnings and lower project costs. The best investment we have made in this space in the second quarter was with First Solar, which as a U.S. manufacturer is getting the most benefit from the punitive tariffs now in place. That said, it did give up some of its gains after the Presidential debate in June. We will continue to be relatively cautious with this space for now and look for better opportunities that reflect solutions for equally important outcomes. One of our newest positions, Montrose Environmental Group, is a key provider of solutions to remediate PFAS chemicals which have emerged as very concerning threat to our environment and health. While tariffs in the United States and a Trump presidency might slow down the pace of change to more sustainable solutions, we think the market very much underappreciates the long-term secular trend (even with Solar) that should continue for decades.

Granahan Future Pathways Fund (IE000LZFKM59)
Interim Report – June 30, 2024

Outlook

The second quarter of 2024 proved to be a challenging period for small cap growth companies. The headwinds of historic interest rate increases, persistent levels of inflation, political uncertainty, and numerous concerns about macro weakness all have pressured small cap growth stocks. While the broader market indices such as the S&P 500 continued to show advance on the backs of the AI related stocks, the performance of the Russell 2000 Growth index was more subdued. Small cap stocks have lagged large cap by 12.5% in the first half of 2024, the widest spread since 1973. The Russell 2000 total market capitalization is now just 6% of the S&P 500 total market capitalization, well below the historical average of 11%, representing a new low. Small cap valuations compared to large cap valuations are in a territory that we have seldom seen.

Source: Furey Research Partners and FactSet. Data as of 6/28/24.

The market has become extremely narrow with leadership concentrated in the Magnificent 7 and a handful of select stocks leading to a short list of stocks that are “Haves” and a much longer list of “Have Notes”. While investors have increasingly become short-sighted, we believe there are a significant number of our companies operating very well with long-term secular drivers that have extremely compelling growth prospects and valuations. Over GIM’s 39-year history, we have demonstrated compelling returns buying long-term growth stocks where valuations are meaningfully disconnected from their earnings power.

A separate portfolio of assets is maintained for each Fund and invests in accordance with its investment objectives and policies.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Company in the preparation of its financial statements. These policies are in conformity with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (“US GAAP”).

- a) Valuation of Securities – Securities that are primarily traded on an official stock exchange are valued at the last traded price (or if no last traded price is available the latest mid-market price) on the exchange on which they are primarily traded on the day of valuation. Any securities or other assets for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at such value as shall be certified with care and good faith as the probable realization value by a competent person, appointed for such purpose by the Directors in consultation with the Investment Manager and approved by the Depository. The values for foreign securities are reported in local currency and converted to US Dollar (“$”) using currency exchange rates at the time of valuation. Exchange rates are provided daily by recognized independent pricing agents.

For the financial period ended June 30, 2024

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

- b) Distributions to Shareholders – For all accumulating classes of shares, the Directors intend to accumulate and to automatically reinvest all earnings, dividends and other distributions of whatever kind pursuant to the investment objectives and policies of the relevant fund for the benefit of Shareholders in the relevant fund. The Directors intend to declare a quarterly dividend in respect of the distributing classes for the net income earned in the period (interest plus dividends, less fund expenses). To date, none of the distributing share classes have accumulated net income in any period. Any change to the distribution policy of a fund will be notified in advance to Shareholders and will be noted in an addendum or a revision to the Prospectus.
- c) Basis of preparation – The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with US GAAP. The accompanying financial statements have been prepared under a going concern basis except for Granahan US Small Cap Discoveries Fund which was terminated on May 16, 2024 and thus the financial statements have been prepared on a non-going concern basis.
- d) Use of Estimates – The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires Directors to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Directors believe that the estimates utilized in preparing its financial statements are reasonable and prudent; however, actual results could differ from these estimates.
- e) Guarantees and Indemnification – In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Company’s maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. Based on experience, however, the Company expects the risk of loss to be remote.
- f) Other – Investment and Shareholder transactions are recorded on trade date. The Company determines the gain or loss realized from the investment transactions by comparing the original cost of the security sold with the net sales proceeds on a high cost basis. Within the Funds, dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date or as soon as information is available and interest income is recognized on an accrual basis.
- g) Functional and Presentation Currency – Items included in the financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates (the “Functional Currency”). The Company’s Functional and presentation currency is US Dollar (“$”).
- h) Transaction Costs – Transaction costs are incremental costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, issue or disposal of a financial asset or financial liability. An incremental cost is one that would not have been incurred if the entity had not acquired, issued or disposed of the financial instrument. Only transaction costs which are separately identifiable are disclosed. These include transaction costs paid to depositaries and sub-custodians, identifiable brokerage charges and commissions. These requirements are disclosed in note 7.
- i) Expenses - are recognized in the statement of operations on an accruals basis.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

- j) Income - Dividend income is recorded gross of any non-reclaimable withholding taxes suffered on an ex-date. Interest revenue is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount basis.
- k) Recent Accounting Pronouncements – A number of new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations in issue are not yet effective, and have not been applied in preparing these financial statements. None of these are currently expected to have a material effect on the financial statements of the Company.
- l) Recognition/Derecognition – The Company recognizes financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss on the trade date, which is the date on which the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Other financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized on the date on which they originated. Financial instruments are measured initially at fair value (transaction price) on trade date with transaction costs recognized immediately in the Statement of Operations directly. In cases where a financial asset or financial liability is not measured at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset or financial liability are recognized in the Statement of Operations. Subsequent to initial recognition, all instruments classified at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with changes in their fair value recognized in the Statement of Operations. Financial liabilities, other than those at fair value through profit or loss, are measured at amortized cost. Financial liabilities arising from the redeemable shares issued by each Fund are carried at the redemption amount representing the investors' right to a residual interest in each Fund's assets.
- m) Realized gains and losses - The Company records investment transactions on a trade date basis, matching the cost of investments for the purpose of calculating realized gains and losses on an average cost basis. The Company records an unrealized gain or loss to the extent of the difference between the cost and the fair value of the position at any particular point in time. The Company records a realized gain or loss when the position is sold or closed. Realized gains and losses and the movement in unrealized gains and losses are recorded in the Statement of Operations within "Net realized and unrealized gain/ (loss) on investments".
- n) Uncertain tax positions - Accounting Standards Codification 740, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes ("ASC 740") clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in the Company's financial statements. ASC 740 prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. ASC 740 requires that the Company determines whether it is more likely than not that a tax position will be sustained upon examination including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes based on the technical merit position. In evaluating whether a tax position has met the more likely than not recognition threshold, the Company should presume that the position will be examined by the appropriate taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information.

A tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is measured to determine the amount of benefit to recognize in the financial statements. The tax position is measured at the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50 percent likely of being realized upon settlement.

4. Taxation

The Company intends to conduct its affairs so that it is resident in Ireland for tax purposes. On the basis that the Company is Irish tax resident, the Company qualifies as an ‘investment undertaking’, as defined in Section 739B (1) of the Taxes Acts and, consequently, is exempt from Irish corporation tax on its income and gains.

However, tax can arise on the happening of a “chargeable event” in the Company. A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to Shareholders or any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of Shares or appropriation or cancellation of Shares of a Shareholder by the Company for the purposes of meeting the amount of the tax payable on a gain arising on a transfer of an entitlement to a Share. It also includes “Eighth Anniversary Events” regardless of whether the Shares have been encashed, redeemed, cancelled or transferred.

No tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events in respect of a Shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor Irish ordinarily resident at the time of the chargeable event provided that a Relevant Declaration is in place and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is not or is no longer materially correct, or provided a written notice of approval from the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland (the “Revenue Commissioners”) to the effect that a Relevant Declaration is deemed to be in place has been provided to the Company and not withdrawn. In the absence of a Relevant Declaration, or a written notice of approval from the Revenue Commissioners, there is a presumption that the investor is Irish resident or Irish ordinarily resident.

A chargeable event does not include:

1. an exchange by a Shareholder, effected by way of an arm’s length bargain of Shares in the Company for other Shares in the Company;
2. any transactions (which might otherwise be a chargeable event) in relation to Shares held in a recognized clearing system as designated by order of the Irish Revenue Commissioners;
3. a transfer by a Shareholder of the entitlement to a Share where the transfer is between spouses and former spouses, subject to certain conditions;
4. an exchange of Shares arising on a qualifying amalgamation or reconstruction of the Company with another investment undertaking (within the meaning of Section 739H or Section 739HA of the Taxes Act);
5. any transaction in relation to, or in respect of, relevant Shares in an investment undertaking which transaction only arises by virtue of a change of court funds manager for that undertaking.

If the Company becomes liable to account for tax where a chargeable event occurs, the Company shall be required to deduct from the payment arising on a chargeable event an amount equal to the appropriate tax and/or where applicable, to appropriate or cancel such number of Shares held by the Shareholder or the beneficial owner of the Shares as are required to meet the amount of tax. The relevant Shareholder shall indemnify and keep the Company indemnified against loss arising to the Company by reason of the Company becoming liable to account for tax on the happening of a chargeable event if no such deduction, appropriation or cancellation has been made.

Director fees

The Constitution provides that the Directors shall be entitled to a fee by way of remuneration for their services at a rate to be determined from time to time by the Directors. Directors affiliated with the Investment Manager are not entitled to a fee. The aggregate amount of Directors' remuneration in any one year shall not exceed €100,000 without the approval of the Directors. All Directors will be entitled to reimbursement by the Company of expenses properly incurred in connection with the business of the Company or the discharge of their duties.

The Directors earned fees of $35,991 for the the financial period ended June 30, 2024 (June 30, 2023: $35,752). Directors' fees payable as at June 30, 2024 amounted to $18,580 (December 31, 2023: $27,426).

The Manager assists the Company with payroll compliance services.

Performance fees – Granahan US Focused Growth Fund

In respect to Class P and Class P1 Shares, the Investment Manager is entitled to a performance fee (the "Performance Fee") if there is an Outperformance (the net asset value of Class P and Class P1 Shares less the value of the Hurdle (the amount of capital subscribed during the initial offer period adjusted for any subsequent subscriptions, redemptions and dividends paid) as adjusted by the Hurdle Rate (the return of the Russell 2000 Growth Index) (provided that the resulting number is positive) during a Performance Period (the first Business Day through to the last Business Day of the annual period which commences on 1 April and ends on 31 March, with the exception of the First Performance Period (commences on the close of the initial offer period for Class P1 Shares and ends on 31 March 2021)) and, where Shares are redeemed during a Performance Period, to a pro-rata portion of the Performance Fee accrual (if any) at the time of redemption.

The Performance Fee will be calculated in respect of each Performance Period. The Performance Fee will accrue on each Business Day and the accrual will be reflected in the net asset value per Class P and P1 Share.

Entitlement to a Performance Fee will be calculated if the Outperformance of Class P and P1 Shares on the last Dealing Day of a Performance Period are positive. The Performance Fee will be equal to Outperformance multiplied by 15%.

The Performance Fee is payable on the last Dealing Day of each Performance Period, or if the Class is terminated before the end of a Performance Period, the Dealing Day on which the final redemption of Class P and P1 Shares takes place, or in the case of Shares redeemed during a Performance Period, the accrued Performance Fee in respect of those Shares will be payable within 14 calendar days of the date of redemption (each a "Payment Date"). Any amount of Performance Fee calculated with respect to redeemed Class P and P1 Shares during a Performance Period will be calculated according to the net asset value of the redeemed Shares, and the Hurdle Rate as at the date of redemption (as opposed to at the end of the Performance Period in which the redemption takes place). It is therefore possible that, although the net asset value is not in Outperformance for a full Performance Period, a Performance Fee may be earned by the Investment Manager in respect of Shares redeemed where the redemption took place when the net asset value at redemption was higher than the Hurdle Rate.

Outperformance will be adjusted for any dividends paid by the Fund during the Performance Period.

For the financial period ended June 30, 2024

In the event of an Outperformance on the last Dealing Day of a Performance Period, the value of the Hurdle for the next Performance Period will be reset on 1 April to the net asset value of the Class P and P1 Shares on the last Dealing Day of the preceding Performance Period. If there is no Outperformance on the last Dealing Day of a Performance Period, the value of the Hurdle will not be reset for the next Performance Period and the underperformance of the Class P and P1 Shares in the preceding Performance Period, by reference to the Hurdle adjusted by the Hurdle Rate, will be clawed back (i.e. until under performance is made good) before a Performance Fee becomes due in a subsequent Performance Period. For the avoidance of doubt, any Performance Fee payable in relation to a given Performance Period will not be clawed back.

The Performance Fee is calculated based on the net asset value of Class P and P1 Shares and no Shareholder level equalisation is undertaken. This may result in inequalities between Shareholders in relation to the payment of Performance Fees (with some Shareholders paying disproportionately higher performance fees in certain circumstances). Because there is no Shareholder level equalisation, this may also result in certain Shareholders having more of their capital at risk at any given time than other Shareholders. The methodology may, in certain circumstances, result in certain Shareholders being charged a Performance Fee in circumstances where the net asset value per Share of their Shares has not increased over the relevant calculation period as a whole.

Calculation of the Hurdle for the Performance Period beginning at launch

The initial value of the Hurdle, upon the launch of the Class P and P1 Shares, will be the net asset value of Class P Shares as at the close of the first Dealing Day of Class P and P1 Shares.

The Performance Fee is payable where there is an Outperformance during the Performance Period, although this may be due to market movements impacting on retained holdings in the Fund rather than specific actions undertaken by the Investment Manager.

Any change to the index relating to the Hurdle Rate will be disclosed in the periodic reports of the Fund.

For the purposes of the Performance Fee calculation, the net asset value shall be calculated before the deduction of any accrual for Performance Fee for that Performance Period, other than Performance Fee accrued in relation to the Class in respect of redemptions during the Performance Period but not yet paid.

As the Performance Fee depends on the performance of the net asset value per Share of Class P and P1 Shares, it is not possible to predict the amount of Performance Fee that will be payable and there is in effect, no maximum Performance Fee as it is impossible to quantify any outperformance in advance.

Investors may request additional information on the way in which the Performance Fee calculation works from the Company.

For the financial period ended June 30, 2024 the performance fees amounted to $Nil (June 30, 2023: $Nil). Performance fees payable as at June 30, 2024 amounted to $Nil (December 31, 2023: $Nil).

9. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks

The securities and instruments in which the Company invests are subject to normal market fluctuations and other risks inherent in investing in such investments and there can be no assurance that any appreciation in value will occur.

The Company’s activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market, liquidity and credit risk. The Investment Manager seeks to minimize these risks through diversification of the investment portfolio in accordance with the specific investment policies and restrictions set out in the Prospectus and Supplement for each Fund. The nature and extent of the financial instruments outstanding at the Statement of Assets and Liabilities date and the risk management policies employed by the Company are discussed below.

Market Risk

Market risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices of financial instruments held. It represents the potential loss the Company might suffer through holding market positions in the face of price movements.

The Company is exposed, particularly in its equity assets, to market risk. The Company invests in securities traded on global markets and market risk is a risk to which exposure is unavoidable.

Market risk comprises of market price risk, currency risk and interest rate risk.

(i) Market price risk

Market price risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices, whether caused by factors specific to an individual investment, its issuer or all factors affecting equity instruments traded in the market.

As the majority of the Company’s investments are carried at fair value with fair value changes recognized in the Statement of Operations, all changes in market conditions will directly affect net income. The risk is mitigated through diversification of the portfolio in investments in various geographic zones and industries.

The investment strategy of the Company is not to replicate a market index and therefore correlation between the return from the Company and any market index is likely to vary. As a result, it is appropriate to use the financial period end portfolio as a risk variable in any market sensitivity analysis. To illustrate the sensitivity of the portfolio based on a reasonably possible estimate of market price movements for a financial year, if the price of each of the equity securities to which the Company had exposure had increased by 5% there would have been the following approximate increases in net assets.

	June 30, 2024	December 31, 2023
	$	$
Granahan US Focused Growth Fund	11,627,171	17,113,089

9. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks (continued)

(ii) Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. As the Company mainly enters into transactions denominated in USD ("$"), the Company's exposure to foreign currency risk is minimal.

(iii) Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. Interest rate risk arises when the Company invests in interest bearing financial instruments. At the financial period ended end, the Company held no interest bearing financial instruments and interest rate risk in relation to cash and cash equivalents is not regarded a material risk.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities.

The main liquidity risk to the Company arises from the redemption requests of investors. The Company's Shareholders may redeem their Shares on each dealing day for cash equal to a proportionate share of the relevant Fund's net asset value and it is therefore potentially exposed to the liquidity risk of meeting the daily redemptions by its Shareholders. In order for the Company to meet these requests, the Company may need to dispose of the underlying assets at an inopportune time.

To help manage this risk, if the number of Shares to be redeemed on any dealing day equals 10% or more of the total number of Shares of the Fund in issue on that day the Directors or their delegate may at their discretion refuse to redeem any Shares in excess of 10% of the total number of Shares in issue. If the Directors so refuse, the requests for redemption on such dealing day shall be reduced pro-rata and Shares which are not redeemed by reason of such refusal shall be treated as if a request for redemption had been made in respect of each subsequent dealing day until all Shares to which the original request related have been redeemed.

Each Fund's listed securities are considered readily realizable, as they are quoted on reputable stock exchanges. The Investment Manager monitors the liquidity position on a daily basis.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that the Company may incur a loss if other parties fail to perform their obligations under the financial instruments which comprise the Fund's investment portfolio. The Company assumes credit risk on parties with whom it trades and it will also bear the risk of settlement default. The Company has a credit risk exposure in relation to its transactions with counterparties such as brokers, banks and other financial intermediaries.

As at June 30, 2024, substantially all of the assets of the Company including investments and cash at bank as noted in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities are held in custody with the Depository. The Company monitors its risk by monitoring the credit quality and financial positions of the Depository. Depending on the requirements of the jurisdictions in which the investments of the Funds are issued, the Depository may use the services of one or more sub-custodians. As at June 30, 2024, cash deposits are held with CACEIS Bank, Ireland Branch and CACEIS Bank which are a part of CACEIS Bank Group, which is rated A+ by Standard & Poor's (December 31, 2023: A+).

The total credit risk for the Funds arising from recognized financial instruments is limited to the value of the Fund's investments shown on the Statements of Assets and Liabilities on pages 21 to 29.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

ASC 820 establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy that prioritises the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Level 1 – quoted prices in active markets for identical securities.

Level 2 – other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, credit risk, prepayment speeds, etc.).

Per the Central Bank UCITS Regulations, and as part of the risk management and reporting requirements, the Funds must be monitored and measured in accordance with the regulatory requirements. In accordance with the regulatory requirements, global exposure can be calculated in two ways, either Commitment Approach or Value at Risk ("VaR").

The Commitment approach is used by the Funds to calculate global exposure. The Funds held no financial derivative position at any point during the period but, in the event that it does in the future, it would convert the Funds' financial derivative position into an equivalent position of the underlying asset based on the market value of the underlying asset.

10. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash comprises current deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash, are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value and are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments rather than for investment or other purposes. The cash held on current accounts with the Depositary at June 30, 2024 represented 1.76% (December 31, 2023: 2.83%) of the net asset value of the Funds.
