PAYDEN GLOBAL FUNDS PUBLIC LIMITED COMPANY

INVESTMENT MANAGER'S REPORT FOR THE PERIOD ENDED 30 JUNE 2024

Investment Manager's Report, Half Year 2024

After posting strong returns in 2023, risk assets continued their move upwards in the first half of 2024 with equity indices hitting record highs, initially buoyed by mounting optimism for a soft landing fuelled by upbeat global economic indicators. Despite this bullish trend, government bonds faced headwinds as persistent inflation and robust economic conditions led to diminishing expectations for interest rate cuts, resulting in a broad increase in government bond yields over the period. We also saw mixed economic signals in the second half of the period, and divergence amongst developed central banks' policies. Overall, investors were cautiously optimistic amid signs of potential easing of financial conditions, although inflationary pressures and geopolitical uncertainties continued to weigh on market sentiment.

In the United States, the economic environment became much more dynamic, initially defying expectations of a slowdown and fuelling expectations of a soft landing, and later buoyed by the ISM manufacturing index which entered expansion territory for the first time since 2022 whilst non-farm payrolls showed substantial job growth. Even as robust economic data propelled risk assets, bond markets paused due to persistent inflation concerns, driven by higher-than-anticipated inflation readings and hawkish sentiments from Federal Reserve officials, prompting a reassessment of rate cut probabilities for the year as United States treasury yields rose.

In Europe, we continued to see divergence compared to the United States, but the market narrative was occupied by central bank policy and political events. The European Central Bank (ECB) enacted a 25 basis point rate cut in June while revising inflation forecasts upward. The Euro area saw declining headline inflation, but concerns about persistent inflationary pressures remained. Political developments, including French President Emmanuel Macron's call for snap parliamentary elections following Marie Le Pen's right-wing party's success in European Parliamentary elections, added volatility to European markets. Against this backdrop, yields on both the 10-year German Bunds and United Kingdom Gilts rose.

Elsewhere, the Bank of Japan (BoJ) lifted rates from -0.1% to a range of 0.0% to 0.1%, marking a significant policy shift, while also ending yield curve control. China's economy strengthened slightly, driven by the manufacturing export sector and fiscal stimulus measures, although domestic demand remained constrained by low consumer confidence and ongoing issues in the property sector. Geopolitical tensions in the Middle East, particularly between Israel and Iran, added a layer of uncertainty to global markets and contributed to volatility in oil prices, with Brent Crude Oil reaching highs of $91/bbl in April before stabilizing later in the period.

In emerging markets (EM), central banks have been responding to disinflation by cutting rates, though the pace of easing has been subject to the unique domestic and external conditions facing each country. Economic activity has been resilient in EM countries. A steady growth backdrop, combined with lower inflation, has resulted in reduced market volatility and overall support for risk assets. Systemically important EM countries and EM corporates are navigating an uncertain global environment well; however, it is important to remain alert to global and country specific risk factors. Renewed bouts of inflationary pressure, weaker growth, and geopolitical or political risks, including the implications of numerous 2024 elections, may generate volatility.

The first half of 2024 has seen more resilient growth than many investors and economists had forecasted at the beginning of the year. Growth expectations have generally been revised to the upside for this year with the United States expected to stay the main driver of economic growth in developed markets. The first half of the year has also seen some divergence in terms of growth, unemployment, and inflation across developed economies. Since February, several central banks (ECB, Bank of Canada) have reduced rates ahead of the Fed, and the BoJ has raised its policy rate for the first time since 2007. Global bond markets expect most central banks to cut in synchronicity with the Fed following soon, but this is not our own base case. We continue to expect the Fed to be one of the last central banks to cut rates, as progress on the United States inflation has stagnated compared to Canada and the ECB. The drivers of global inflation have become domestically driven, with services prices playing a key role, which means monetary policy settings will diverge. Consequently, we think BoC and ECB policymakers are comfortable with reducing rates further ahead of the Fed as long as inflation evolves as expected since divergence among central banks has been common.

The Fund's US Dollar share class had a return 3.45% during the period.

Yields continued to move higher in the first half of 2024, as persistent inflation and robust economic conditions led investors to price out multiple rate cuts expected in 2024 and 2025. Fixed income sectors with structurally less interest rate risk benefited relative to longer duration bonds in this environment. Credit spreads began the year at relatively tight levels by historical standards but continued to remain rangebound and even tighten until the French snap election created volatility in risk assets, where credit spreads widened. Positive economic growth surprises led credit sectors to outperform government bonds with lower rated credits generally outperforming.

In this environment, carry (income) was the dominant component of returns, benefitting asset classes less sensitive to interest rates as the Fund experienced positive returns over the period. As global bond yields continued to rise, the Fund's US Dollar share class yield remained relatively unchanged at 7.21% as at the end of June, whilst the Fund marginally increased duration from 0 to 0.24 years over the period. The average credit quality remained at BBB+ throughout the period.

The Fund continues to actively manage its credit allocation to take advantage of market volatility and rotate allocations into issuers and industries which are better positioned to withstand a period of slower growth. In particular, the Fund favoured industries and corporate issuers that are expected to be able to maintain profitability despite higher funding rates and sticky inflationary pressures. Attractive all-in yields in high-quality fixed income allow for solutions that are resilient in various macro-outcomes, helping to minimise price risk whilst maintaining attractive running yield.

Global developed equities (MSCI World Index, net in US Dollar) ended the first half of 2024 near record highs after posting gains of +11.7%. Robust corporate earnings growth, which highlighted continued enthusiasm surrounding secular themes such as Artificial Intelligence, drove the strong returns despite higher interest rate concerns and central bank policy uncertainties. From a regional perspective, most developed countries posted gains in dollar terms with Denmark, Netherlands, and the United States among the best performers, while France, Portugal, and Australia were among the worst performers. From a sector perspective, most sectors posted gains for the period with technology (+25.2%), communications (+22.2%), and financials 10.5%) leading markets higher, while real estate (-3.4%), materials (unchanged), and consumer staples (+3.9%) were the market laggards.

The US Dollar share class of the Global Equity Income Fund returned +10.0% for the trailing six-month period ending 30 June 2024, outperforming the MSCI World Value Index (+6.2%, net in US Dollar) with lower volatility. The Fund benefited from strong security selection within the technology, industrials, and health care sectors, which was supported by strong performances from United States computer hardware company Dell, Swiss electrification company ABB Limited, and global pharmaceutical company Eli Lilly. The Fund maintained a focus on fundamentally-sound companies with sustainable cashflow companies that have the ability to pay and grow dividends, which was highlighted by dividend initiations from current portfolio holdings Meta Platforms and Alphabet. Over the period, the Fund modestly added to the financial and real estate sectors, while reducing exposures to consumer discretionary and industrials to capture better relative value opportunities.

The Fund's US Dollar share class had a return of 3.12% during the period.

Yields continued to move higher in the first half of 2024, as persistent inflation and robust economic conditions led investors to price out multiple rate cuts expected in 2024 and 2025. Fixed income sectors with structurally less interest rate risk benefited relative to longer duration bonds in this environment. Credit spreads began the year at relatively tight levels by historical standards but continued to remain rangebound and even tighten until the French snap election created volatility in risk assets, where credit spreads widened. Positive economic growth surprises led credit sectors to outperform government bonds with lower rated credits generally outperforming.

In this environment, carry (income) was the dominant component of returns, benefitting asset classes less sensitive to interest rates. The Fund experienced positive returns over the period.

As global bond yields continued to rise, the Fund's US Dollar share class yield rose from 7.14% at the beginning of the year to 7.34% at the end of June, whilst the Fund marginally decreased duration from 3.31 years to 3.03 years over the period. The average credit quality remained unchanged at BB+.

The Fund actively managed its credit allocation to take advantage of market volatility and rotate allocations into issuers and industries which are better positioned to withstand a period of slower growth. In particular, the Fund favoured industries and corporate issuers that are expected to be able to maintain profitability despite higher funding rates and sticky inflationary pressures. We remain focused on bottom-up security selection and diversification.

The Fund's US Dollar share class had a return of -0.49% during the period.

Yields continued to move higher in the first half of 2023, before starting to revert this trend late in the year as major central banks paused rate hikes in the face of falling inflation. Likewise, recession fears supported demand for longer duration bonds early in the year, with yield curves inverting further before seeing a sharp steepening of the curve as the growth outlook improved. Whilst recessionary concerns created some volatility in credit markets, wider credit spread at the beginning of the year along with positive economic growth surprises led credit sectors to outperform government bonds with lower rated credits generally outperforming. In this environment, the Fund experienced positive returns for the year.

As global bond yields continued to rise, the Fund's US Dollar share class yield rose from 5.05% at the beginning of the year to 5.39% at the end of June, whilst the Fund marginally increased duration from 6.12 years to 6.42 years over the period. NOTES TO THE CONDENSED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS FOR THE PERIOD ENDED 30 JUNE 2024 (continued)

i) Basis of preparation and accounting convention (continued)

A Fund may invest in other investment funds, including other Funds of the Company. Investments held by a sub-fund of the Company in another sub-fund of the Company as at 30 June 2024 and 31 December 2023 are disclosed in Note 10.

The total columns in Condensed Profit and Loss Account, Condensed Balance Sheet and Condensed Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Redeemable Participating Shares have been adjusted in respect of the related cross investments.

ii) Financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

This category has two sub-categories: financial assets and liabilities held for trading, and those designated by management at fair value through profit or loss at inception.

In accordance with Section 11.2 and Section 12.2 of FRS 102, the Company has adopted the recognition and measurement provisions of IFRS 9 Financial Instruments and IAS 39 (as amended following the publication of IFRS 9), the disclosure requirements of Sections 11 and 12 of FRS 102 and the presentation requirements of paragraph 11.38A and 12.25W of FRS 102.

In accordance with FRS 102: “Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement”, all of the Company’s investments are classified as held for trading. Financial assets and liabilities held for trading are securities that were either acquired for generating a profit from short-term fluctuations in price or dealer margins, or are included in a portfolio where a pattern of short-term trading exists. Derivatives, unless designated as effective hedging instruments, are categorised as held for trading. While positions within the portfolio will often be held with a view to long term capital gains, the Company also undertakes short term trading and, accordingly, for the purpose of FRS 102, the Directors have classified the Company’s portfolio as financial assets and liabilities held for trading.

Regular-way purchases and sales of investments are recognised on the trade date – the date on which the Company commits to purchase or sell the assets. Investments are initially recognised at fair value, and transaction costs for all financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed as incurred. Investments are subsequently re-measured at fair value at period-end. Investments are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from the investments have expired or the Company has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

Transaction costs are costs incurred in connection with the purchase and sale of financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. They include such fees as commissions paid to agents, brokers or dealers. Details of transaction costs incurred by each Fund are disclosed in Note 5.

Gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the “financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss” category are included in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account in the period in which they arise. The fair value of financial instruments traded in active markets (such as publicly traded derivatives, trading securities and shares or units in investment funds) is based on quoted market prices at the balance sheet date. Realised gains and losses on financial assets and liabilities disposals are calculated using first in first out basis.

When the Company holds derivatives with offsetting market risks it uses mid-market prices as a basis for establishing fair values for the offsetting risk positions. In order to determine the net asset value of the Company for subscriptions and redemptions, investments have been valued using last traded prices in accordance with the prospectus. The quoted market price used for financial assets and liabilities held by the Company is the current last traded price.

iii) Investment Funds

Shares or units in open ended investment funds are valued by reference to the latest available net asset value of the shares or units of the relevant investment funds priced by the underlying Administrator and provided by a vendor. Shares or units in closed ended investment funds are valued by reference to the latest available net asset value of the shares or units of the relevant investment funds priced by the underlying Administrator and provided by a vendor. If such prices are unavailable and if appropriate in the opinion of the Directors, shares or units in investment funds are valued at the estimated net asset value of the shares or units as provided by the Administrator.

iv) Loans

The Company may purchase participations in or assignments of floating rate mortgages or other commercial loans that are liquid and which may be secured by real estate or other assets. These participations may be interests in, or assignments of, the loan and may be acquired from banks or brokers that have made the loan or members of the lending syndicate.

Loan participation notes are typically traded over the counter and will have similar liquidity to other debt instruments which are traded over the counter. The liquidity of loan participation notes may be affected by specific economic events, such as a deterioration in the creditworthiness of the borrower, and also may make it more difficult to assign a value to the loan participation note for the purposes of valuing a Fund's portfolio and calculating its net asset value.

To the extent that a Fund invests in loan participation notes, the notes in which it invests are securitised and result typically in the Fund having a contractual relationship with the issuer of the note and not with the underlying borrower. The Fund has the right to receive payments of principal, interest and any fees to which it is entitled from the issuer and typically only upon receipt by the issuer of the payments from the borrower. In connection with purchasing loan participations notes, a Fund generally has no right to enforce compliance by the borrower with the terms of the loan agreement relating to the loan participation note, nor any rights of set-off against the borrower, and a Fund may not directly benefit from any collateral supporting the loan to which the note relates.

In connection with purchasing participations in or assignments of floating rate mortgages or other commercial loans, a Fund generally has no right to enforce compliance by the borrower with the terms of the loan agreement relating to the loan, nor any rights of set-off against the borrower, and a Fund may not directly benefit from any collateral supporting the loan in which it has purchased the participation.

The fair value of loans is based on the market price at the balance sheet date. Unrealised gains or losses on loans are included in financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss on the Condensed Balance Sheet. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on loans are included within the net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and foreign currencies in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account.

v) Future contracts

Initial margin deposits are made upon entering into future contracts and are generally made in cash at bank. Future contracts are valued based upon their quoted daily settlement prices. Changes in the value of open future contracts are recognised as unrealised gains or losses on future contracts until the contracts are expired at which time realised gains and losses are recognised.

Unrealised gains or losses on future contracts are included in financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss on the Condensed Balance Sheet. The initial margin receivable or payable at the reporting date is reported as an asset or liability, as applicable on the Condensed Balance Sheet.

Realised and unrealised gains or losses on future contracts are included within the net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and foreign currencies in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account. Transaction costs for purchases and sales of futures are included in the net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and foreign currencies in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account for each Fund.

vi) Forward foreign currency contracts

The Company may use forward foreign currency exchange contracts to hedge the risk to the portfolio of exchange price movements or for share class hedging purposes. Contracts outstanding at the period-end are valued at their market value. The resulting gain or loss is included in net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and foreign currencies in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account.

The fair value of open forward foreign currency contracts is calculated as the difference between the contractual rate and the current forward rate that would close out the contract on the valuation date.

vii) Options

The unrealised gain or loss on open option positions is calculated and recorded as the fair value of the option less the premium paid on that option. The fair value of the options which are dealt in on a securities market are the settlement price as determined by the market. Unrealised gains or losses on open option positions are included in financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit and loss in the Condensed Balance Sheet.

The premium on purchased put options exercised is subtracted from the proceeds of the sale of the underlying security or foreign currency in determining the realised gain or loss. The premium on purchased call options exercised is added to the cost of the securities or foreign currency purchased. Premiums paid from the purchase of options, which expire unexercised, are treated as realised losses.

viii) Swaps

Credit default swaps, interest rate swaps and inflation swaps are recognised at fair value on the date on which the derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently remeasured at their fair value. The swaps are valued by the counterparty daily and verified at least weekly by a competent person appointed by the Directors (such as the Investment Manager) approved for such purpose by the Depositary and who is independent of the counterparty on the basis of their marked-to-market price.

Centrally cleared swaps

Centrally cleared swaps are cleared on a central clearing house and are subject to clearing house rules, including initial and variation margin requirements. Margin for centrally cleared swaps is included in the Condensed Balance Sheet in margin on derivative contracts.

All derivatives are carried as assets when fair value is positive and as liabilities when fair value is negative.

Unrealised gains or losses on open swap contracts and initial upfront payment received or made upon entering into a swap contract, if any, are included in financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss on the Condensed Balance Sheet. Investment interest payable on swap contracts is recorded as Interest/dividends receivable/payable on the Condensed Balance Sheet.

Changes in unrealised gains or losses on swap contracts at the reporting period end are included within the net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and foreign currencies in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account. Investment interest expense on swap contracts is included in Interest expense on swaps in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account.

ix) Swaptions

When a Fund writes a swaption, an amount equal to the premium received by the Fund is recorded as a liability and is subsequently adjusted to the current fair value of the swaption written. Premiums received from the written swaptions which expire unexercised are treated by the Fund on the expiration dates as realised gains. If a written call swaption is exercised, the premium is added to the proceeds from the sale of the underlying swap in determining the realised gain or loss. If a written put swaption is exercised, the premium reduces the cost basis of the swap purchased.

When a Fund purchases a swaption, an amount equal to the premium paid by the Fund is recorded as an asset and is subsequently adjusted to the current fair value of the swaption purchased. Premiums paid for the purchase of swaptions which expire unexercised are treated on the expiration date as realised losses. If a purchased payer swaption is exercised, the premium is subtracted from the proceeds of the underlying swap in determining whether the relevant Fund has realised a gain or a loss. If a purchased receiver swaption is exercised, the premium is added to the cost basis of the floating rate investment that has been swapped.

Unrealised gains or losses on swaptions are included in financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss on the Condensed Balance Sheet. Realised and unrealised gains or losses on swaptions are included within the net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and foreign currencies in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account.

x) Interest income and expenses

Bank interest and income on debt securities are included in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account on an effective yield basis. Income and/or expenses on debt securities are included in income on debt securities in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account and may have a negative balance. Expenses and withholding taxes are accounted for on an accruals basis.

xi) Distribution policy

Distributions to holders of redeemable participating shares are classified as finance costs in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account. All net investment and net realised capital gains are retained by the Company and are reflected in the net asset value of the Funds. In the event that the Company has paid or decided to pay any dividend on behalf of a Fund, such dividend will be paid in compliance with Euronext Dublin regulations and in accordance with the Articles of Association, i.e. out of the profits available for distribution. The distributions for the period are set out in Note 8 to the financial statements.

xii) Dividend income

Dividends are credited to the Condensed Profit and Loss Account on the dates on which the relevant securities are listed as "ex-dividend". Income is shown gross of any non-recoverable withholding taxes and net of any tax credits. Withholding tax is recognised in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account.

xiii) Foreign currencies

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rates ruling at the period end.

Functional and presentation currencies of the Funds are disclosed in Note 11 to the financial statements. Transactions denominated in currencies other than the functional currency are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rates ruling at the dates of the transactions. All gains and losses arising on foreign currency translations are included in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account. xiv) Cash and cash collateral

Cash comprises current deposits with banks. Cash is held at face value at the period-end date.

Cash received as collateral is recorded as an asset on the Condensed Balance Sheet and is valued at its fair value. A related liability to repay the collateral is recorded as a liability on the Condensed Balance Sheet and is also valued at its fair value in line with the requirements of FRS 102.

Cash collateral which is pledged to a broker is recorded as an asset to the relevant Fund within “Cash collateral” on the Condensed Balance Sheet, and is valued at its fair value. A related liability (collateral broker-owned) is recorded as a liability within “Cash collateral payable” on the Condensed Balance Sheet and is also valued at its fair value.

The Funds pledge and receive non-cash collateral against financial derivative instruments. Such collateral cannot be sold, re-invested or re-pledged. As a result, pledged collateral remains an asset of a Fund and is included in the Condensed Balance Sheet. Equally, securities received as collateral are not considered assets of a Fund and will not appear in the Condensed Balance Sheet. Under these collateral agreements, upon a counterparty default (including bankruptcy), the Funds may terminate all derivatives with that counterparty, determine the net amount owed by either party and sell or retain any collateral held up to the net amount owed to the Funds, with an obligation to return excess collateral to the counterparty.

xv) Redeemable participating shares

Redeemable participating shares are redeemable at the shareholder’s option and are classified as financial liabilities. The dividend, if any, on these redeemable participating shares is recognised in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account as finance costs. The shares can be redeemed at any time for cash equal to a proportionate share of the relevant Fund’s net asset value. A share is carried at the redemption amount that is payable at the Condensed Balance Sheet date if the shareholder exercised its right to put the share back to the Fund. The fair value of the financial liability for the shares is the redemption amount per share, calculated as the net asset value per share less any associated duties and charges and any redemption dividend which is payable on the shares redeemed.

xvi) Swing pricing

In the appropriate circumstances, swing pricing is employed as a mechanism to protect Shareholders against the effects of dilution. Dilution may occur as a result of transaction related costs associated with the price at which the underlying securities of a Fund are bought or sold relative to the mid-price of those securities. It is that mid-price which forms the basis of the valuation of the Fund in the absence of a price swing resulting from investor subscriptions or redemptions.

Net investor subscriptions above a materiality threshold (“Swing Threshold”, set by the Directors from time to time) will cause an upward swing in the net asset value per share; net investor redemptions a downward swing. The magnitude of the swing (the “Swing Factor”) is applied to all share classes of that Fund.

The price swing means that the transacting investor will contribute to the cost of the resulting transactions in underlying securities. The swung NAV will be the official NAV for that particular day and all investor transactions will take place at that value. Shareholders should note that due to adjustments being made to the NAV, the volatility of a Fund’s NAV may not fully reflect the true performance of the Fund’s underlying securities.

On 30 June 2024, a swing pricing adjustment was applied to Payden Global Emerging Markets Bond Fund (Hard Currency). The official net asset value per Share of this sub-fund following the application of the swing pricing adjustment on that date is set out below. All other financial information stated in this report is shown before any adjustments for swing pricing.

The Funds pledge and receive non-cash collateral against financial derivative instruments. Such collateral cannot be sold, re-invested or re-pledged. As a result, pledged collateral remains an asset of a Fund and is included in the Condensed Balance Sheet. Equally, securities received as collateral are not considered assets of a Fund and will not appear in the Condensed Balance Sheet. Under these collateral agreements, upon a counterparty default (including bankruptcy), the Funds may terminate all derivatives with that counterparty, determine the net amount owed by either party and sell or retain any collateral held up to the net amount owed to the Funds, with an obligation to return excess collateral to the counterparty.

4. FINANCIAL DERIVATIVE INSTRUMENTS AND EFFICIENT PORTFOLIO MANAGEMENT

The Investment Manager may invest in financial derivative instruments for investment purposes as specified in the Company's prospectus.

In addition, each Fund may utilise techniques and instruments for efficient portfolio management purposes or to protect against foreign exchange rate risks, subject to the conditions and within the limits laid down by the Central Bank. Such techniques and instruments include, but are not limited to, futures, options, swaps, warrants, stock lending arrangements, repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements, forward foreign currency contracts and when issued and/or delayed delivery securities.

Efficient portfolio management transactions relating to the assets of a Fund may be entered into with one of the following aims: a reduction of risk, a reduction of cost with no increase or a minimal increase in risk or generation of additional capital or income with no, or an acceptably low level of risk (relative to the expected return).

The Company currently invests in futures, options, swaps and forward foreign currency contracts in order to hedge currency and market exposure as well as increase capital and income returns. Forward foreign currency contracts are used to hedge against anticipated future changes in exchange rates which otherwise might either adversely affect the value of the Company's portfolio securities or adversely affect the price of securities which the Company intends to purchase at a later date. Forward foreign currency contracts are also used to take small active currency positions, where guidelines permit. The counterparties of the forward foreign currency contracts are shown in the Schedule of Investments. The details of all open transactions at the period end are disclosed in the Schedule of Investments.

During the periods ended 30 June 2024 and 30 June 2023, the Company has not used any stock lending arrangements or entered into any repurchase/reverse repurchase agreements.

5. TRANSACTION COSTS

Transaction costs are costs incurred in connection with the purchase and sale of financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. They include fees such as commissions paid to agents, brokers or dealers.

Transaction costs on equities, collective investment schemes, options and futures are included in the net gains/(losses) on financial assets and liabilities at fair value through profit or loss and foreign currencies in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account for each Fund.

Transaction costs on bonds are included in the purchase and sale price of the investment as per standard fixed income market practice. They cannot be practically or reliably gathered as they are embedded in the cost of investment and cannot be separately verified or disclosed.

Similarly, transaction costs on the purchase and sale of forward foreign currency contracts and swaps are included in the purchase and sale prices of the investment and cannot be separately verified or disclosed.

The depositary transaction costs for the periods ended 30 June 2024 and 30 June 2023 are disclosed in the Condensed Profit and Loss Account under the heading 'Depositary fees'.

6. SHAREHOLDERS' FUNDS

i) Authorised Shares

The authorised share capital of the Company is 500 billion shares of no par value initially designated as unclassified shares. The unclassified shares are available for issue as participating shares. The capital of the Company is equal to the net asset value of the Company.

Seven subscriber shares are in issue (issued for the purposes of the incorporation of the Company), one of which is held by Payden & Rygel and the remainder of which are each held by a Managing Director of Payden & Rygel for the benefit of Payden & Rygel. Each subscriber share gives the holder the right to vote and to one vote in relation to any matters relating to the Company which are submitted to shareholders for a vote by poll.

ii) Redeemable Participating Shares

Redeemable participating shares carry the right to a proportionate share in the net assets of the Funds and the holders of the shares are entitled to one vote for every share held in relation to any matters relating to the Company which are submitted to shareholders for a vote by poll. The issued redeemable participating share capital is at all times equal to the net asset value of the Company.

The net asset value per share is determined by dividing the value of the net assets of each Fund for each share class by the total number of shares in issue in the relevant Fund for that share class at that time.

7. FAIR VALUE ESTIMATION

The Company has classified fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. FRS 102 Section 2A.1 to 2A.6 on "Fair Value: Disclosure" requires disclosure relating to the fair value hierarchy in which fair value measurements are categorised for assets and liabilities. The disclosures are based on a three level fair value hierarchy for the inputs used in valuation techniques to measure fair value. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1: The unadjusted quoted prices in an active market for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date.
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable (i.e. developed using market data) for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3: Inputs are unobservable (i.e. for which market data is unavailable) for the asset or liability.

It will create a fair value hierarchy based upon inputs (observable and unobservable), that is familiar to preparers and users of financial statements, rather than on valuation techniques.

Fair value hierarchy of the financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value is as follows:

Investments, the values of which are based on quoted market prices in active markets, are classified within Level 1. They include government and government-related bonds that are both investment grade and denominated in their own currency, exchange traded derivatives and other quoted securities such as exchange traded investment funds and equities. The Company does not adjust the quoted price for these instruments.

Financial instruments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within Level 2. These include agency and corporate bonds, investment funds, leveraged loans and OTC derivatives. As Level 2 investments include positions that are not traded in active markets and/or are subject to transfer restrictions, valuations may be adjusted to reflect illiquidity and/or non-transferability, which are generally based on available market information.

Investments classified within Level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently. Unobservable inputs shall be used to measure fair value to the extent that relevant observable inputs are not available, thereby allowing for situations in which there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability at the measurement date. The fair value measurement objective remains the same, i.e. an exit price from the perspective of a market participant that holds the asset or owes the liability. Therefore, unobservable inputs shall reflect the assumptions that the Directors would use when pricing the asset or liability, including assumptions about risk.

There were no investments classified within Level 3 at the period ended 30 June 2024 (31 December 2023: none).
