Granahan US Focused Growth Fund (GUSFGAA) Annual Report – December 31, 2023 Investment Manager Commentary

Investment Manager Commentary

Despite stock markets being up in 2023, many smaller companies struggled as valuations and earnings were significantly impacted by higher interest rates and inflation. It is important to note that the S&P 500 and the Russell 2000, on an equally weighted basis, both hit lows in October from their peaks in 2021. This suggests we have been in a bear market for most stocks for two years despite strong performance coming from some of the largest market cap stocks. While there are plenty of macro uncertainties still in the mix, we see noteworthy positives. In the middle of December, the Fed signaled a more dovish stance on interest rates and lower inflation data points have also been encouraging.

Distinguishing Features

GIM builds the Focused Growth portfolio from the bottom-up; sector weightings are secondary to stock selection. The Focused Growth portfolio increased its overweight in Information Technology versus the Russell 2000 Growth benchmark in 2023. We are overweight in Real Estate and Financials as well. All other sectors are underweight. We have no exposure to Basic materials, Consumer Staples, Telecommunications and Utilities.

Performance Discussion

For the year 2023, the Granahan Focused Growth portfolio's return of 10.06% lagged the Russell 2000 Growth benchmark return of 18.68%.

It was a rough year both in terms of things within our control and those outside of our control. Weakness in the portfolio came from the Consumer Discretionary, Technology, Health Care and Energy sectors. Industrials and Financials contributed positively.

Positioning

The macro environment remains uncertain – as always. Among the known unknowns are the resilience of the consumer and the broader economy, inflation, the direction and level of interest rates, developments in the wars in Ukraine and the mid-east, and the 2024 US presidential election. And, of course, we will no doubt be faced with additional macro curve balls as the year progresses. However, as was the case in 2023, I don't think the macro is likely to drive absolute returns for the portfolio. In last year's Q4 letter I predicted while 2022 was about the P/E, the key to 2023 was to get the E right. This was an accurate prediction. And while the companies we owned largely grew their earnings (on average 20%), what caused the negative performance relative to the benchmark were disappointing results from several large holdings.

This is a humbling profession. After several strong years of absolute and relative performance (capped by an exceptional 2020 which returned +83% vs. the +35% benchmark), the past few years have been far less rewarding. As noted in prior commentaries, much of this poor absolute and relative performance has been multiple contraction caused by higher interest rates and greater uncertainty—which combine to reduce investor appetite for longer duration growth stocks. However, we have also shot ourselves in the foot much more than I would like. To mix metaphors, if one goes up to bat one will undoubtedly make outs — but the hit rate is crucial in investment management just as it is in baseball. Since 11/15/21 the Focused Growth portfolio is down -35%, vs. the Russell 2000 Growth down -20%, underperforming by 15%. Of this, 11% is due to three stocks (KRNT -4.9, ETSY -3.8, PAYC – 2.1). We are going to have stocks that don't work out. But this is too much. We need to do better.

Granahan US Small Cap Discoveries Fund (GUSDFUA) Annual Report – December 31, 2023 Investment Manager Commentary

Distinguishing Features

GIM builds the US Small Cap Discoveries UCITS Fund portfolio from the bottom-up; sector weightings are secondary to stock selection. That said, the fund focuses on small cap innovation-driven companies, which tend to reside disproportionately in biotech, life sciences, technology and to a lesser extent consumer discretionary. The portfolio increased its overweight in Health Care versus the Russell 2000 Growth benchmark, while remaining underweight in most other sectors.

Performance Discussion

For the year 2023, the Granahan US Small Cap Discoveries UCITS Fund returned 21.22% outperforming the Russell 2000 Growth benchmark return of 18.68%.

Strength in the portfolio came from the Health Care sector where we are overweight Biotech as well as Energy and Basic Materials. Industrials, Technology, Consumer Staples and Discretionary companies were detrimental to performance.

In terms of our Lifecycles, Pioneers significantly outperformed the index, Core Growth performed in line and Special Situations lagged.

Positioning

We write this commentary fresh off attending the venerated JP Morgan Health Care conference in San Francisco, which takes place each January and plays host to virtually every U.S. Health Care company, many international names, and a range of financial service professionals from buyside's to bankers. With Health Care representing more than 50% of the fund, this is a grand opportunity for us to meet with our existing names, yet new ideas, and to gauge management's outlook for the sector compared to that of the street. We come away with the sense that after two to three very tough years of health care equity performance, the worst is likely over, but the street may be a bit ahead of itself after an M&A-induced sugar rush that occurred late in 2023. We therefore lean a bit more cautiously on the overall risk-reward setup for the sector and are deploying capital accordingly. Unlike this time last year when we added to some of our more speculative biotech names that were receiving little to no credit for promising pipelines, this year we favor names with solid fundamentals that lagged the late year health care rally, often due to exclusion from the takeout darlings list. For example, Shockwave Medical is a profitable, high-growth, innovative med device name that has underperformed recently in part due to reimbursement headwinds that we believe will prove transient. Bluebird bio is a stock that has been rewarded with an 80% haircut after winning FDA approval for three life-changing gene therapies within the past 18 months. The bear case is that bluebird will run out of cash before the economic viability of its business model can be proven. Maybe. The company's balance sheet is undeniably sub-optimal with roughly one year of cash runway. However, its gene therapies save lives, and by virtue have strong pricing power. The company has established an unrivaled network of nearly 50 medical centers capable of performing the complex procedure for curing a disease with gene therapy and has negotiated reimbursement contracts covering roughly 200 million U.S. lives. In other words, tiny bluebird arguably possesses the industry's most comprehensive infrastructure for developing, manufacturing, and commercializing gene therapy. What is this worth in terms of the stock price? From the street's perspective, virtually nothing. We disagree and are confident that the disconnect between intrinsic value and share price will resolve favorably.

Granahan US SMID Select Fund (GUSSIGA) Annual Report – December 31, 2023 Investment Manager Commentary

Distinguishing Features

GIM builds the SMID Select portfolio from the bottom-up; sector weightings are secondary to stock selection. The SMID portfolio is overweight the Russell 2500 Index in Information Technology, Industrials, and Communications Services. We are underweight in all other sectors except Real Estate and Utilities where we have no exposure. Weights in the portfolio have changed from last year with an increase in Health Care, Industrials and Consumer Staples and lowered weightings in Information Technology, Financials and Communication Services.

Performance Discussion

For the year ending December 31, 2023 the Granahan US SMID Select UCITS Fund returned 1.24% underperforming the Russell 2500 benchmark return of 18.96%.

Weakness in the portfolio came largely from Information Technology where many of our green energy companies are located. Industrials also include green energy companies and this sector negatively affected the portfolio as well. Financial stocks in the portfolio did poorly. Consumer Staples was a bright spot and Health Care rebounded strongly in the fourth quarter.

In terms of Lifecycles, Pioneers and Special Situations outperformed the benchmark while Core Growth lagged.

Positioning

It was another highly volatile year for small cap growth and the SMID Cap Select portfolio. The narrative affecting the market was "higher for longer," as the Fed's battle against inflation ushered in a period of rapidly rising interest rates, creating a challenging environment for small cap growth companies. Fortunately, inflation appears to be stabilizing, and both Jerome Powell and Janet Yellen successfully calmed the bond market. Investor optimism returned, and the markets rallied to close the year. The last two months of the year were stronger for the strategy, which is hopefully a sign of things to come, as inflation continues its path downward, earnings growth resumes and valuations recover.

We took advantage of the volatility during the fourth quarter to significantly add weight to two companies in the portfolio, Chef's Warehouse and Gentherm. Chef's Warehouse is a premier distributor of specialty food products to independent restaurants that delivers quality products and service to over 30,000 locations. Chef was down almost 40% given concerns about the impact GLP-1s (newest class of weight-loss drugs) would have on its business. We believed the fears of how GLP-1s would impact restaurants and companies like Chef Warehouse were overblown, providing an attractive opportunity to increase our weighting given their attractive long-term growth outlook. In Gentherm's case, investors became fearful that the United Auto Worker strike would continue endlessly and essentially ignored a very strong showing in long-term bookings from the company.

We would characterize both of these stocks as lower valuation, lower volatility, and lower Beta, although they did not exactly act that way in 2023. We felt like we were buying very stable, well-run companies where business was relatively sound, and the long-term outlook was stable or improving. The market did not believe in any of those things in the Fall, and both companies ended up going materially lower - similar to where they were at the peak of the COVID fears in 2020.

We feel these additions are great examples of what we were trying to execute as the year progressed - reducing some of the volatility of the strategy without compromising our ability to bring outsized returns. It turns out both companies were in fact outperformers in the last two months of the year and they both are actively looking at share repurchases as a way of creating shareholder value.

In short, we are glad to be putting 2023 behind us. We continue to feel that we have tremendous upside potential in the strategy's highest conviction names, and we look forward to what should be a better year for small cap growth stocks.

Granahan Future Pathways Fund (IE000LZFKM59) Annual Report – December 31, 2023 Investment Manager Commentary

Distinguishing Features

GIM builds the Future Pathways portfolio from the bottom-up; sector weightings are secondary to stock selection. Our focus is to invest in companies that not only drive innovatin and growth, but offer solutions for all those needing healthier, safer and more efficient solutions from health care to energy capabilities. The Future Pathways portfolio was overweight Industrials and Information Technology and underweight the Russell 2500 benchmark in all other sectors. The portfolio has no exposure to Communications Services, Financials, Materials, Real Estate or Utilities.

Performance Discussion

The Granahan Future Pathways strategy returned 6.15% for the year ending December 31, 2023 underperforming the Russell 2500 Growth Index return of 18.96%.

Weakness in the portfolio came largely from Information Technology where many of our green energy companies are located. Industrials also include green energy companies and this sector negatively affected the portfolio as well. Both Consumer Discretionary and Staples were also penalties. Health Care, while underweight, was the one bright spot.

In terms of Lifecycles, Pioneers and Special Situations outperformed the benchmark while Core Growth lagged.

Positioning

Despite a strong rally to finish to the year, 2023 was a difficult year for Future Pathways to outperform its broad-based Russell 2500 growth index. Clean energy and climate change-oriented companies' stocks significantly underperformed for both the fourth quarter and the year, which resulted in notable headwinds. In some ways, this felt unavoidable given the nature of clean energy projects being capital intensive and subject to long-term financing. As interest rates and the cost of financing went up, the growth of climate change investments and spending materially slowed, particularly in residential applications. What was much harder to predict was the fact that the U.S. Treasury Department would still not have given guidance on what qualifications are necessary to earn a 10% U.S. domestic content bonus credit that can be earned and is retroactive to the start of 2023. This in turn delayed many projects that were waiting in the wings as project sponsors wanted to make sure they could take full advantage of the bonus at the lowest possible cost for qualification.

The good news is we anticipate the outlook being much better going forward. Interest rates have started to come down and the cost of solar supplies has begun to decrease dramatically. The Treasury Department is bound to finally give guidance in 2024, at which time we anticipate a strong inflow of project awards and projects starts that have been pushed out from 2023. Solar energy was over 40% of new generation capacity in the United States in the last year, and we think its market share going forward will go up as costs for solar decrease more than alternative generation modalities.

During the year, we did our best to mitigate the downward pressure in the clean energy space by reducing our position to the low end of our targeted range, including selling most of our residential-oriented solar company positions. We anticipate residential will likely be more challenged from an investment perspective than the Utility scale space in the years to come. Going forward, we will look to rebuild this position size strategically as some of the headwinds to growth abate.

During the quarter, the most significant addition to the portfolio was our addition of SunOpta, a processor of plantbased beverages including Oat Milk and Almond milk. These beverages have been consistently gaining popularity over the years and are a far less carbon intensive product than dairy-based milks. During the fourth quarter, we built our position as the company showed much better results from market share wins and growth than the market was anticipating, overshadowing slowing growth in the traditional retail market, which is not SunOpta's primary distribution channel. We are also highly encouraged by the company's sale of its frozen fruit business. This transaction will serve to accelerate growth, improve margins, and lower the debt level of the company, which should lessen volatility and lead to a higher valuation of the company over time.

While we were disappointed in our 2023 results, we do feel that the Clean Energy stocks should have a better year in 2024 and that the push to sustainable solutions will continue unabated.

Outlook

Earnings for small cap companies, as measured by the Russell 2000, are estimated to increase almost 20% in 2024 following two years of declining EPS. According to both Lori Calvasina from RBC and Steve DeSanctis of Jefferies, balance sheets of Russell 2000 companies have near-record levels of cash. We believe our portfolio valuations are at extremely low levels, and a handful of our portfolio companies are trading at or near cash levels. While it is not possible to predict outcomes, this combination of low valuations and strong expected growth in earnings leaves us optimistic regarding the outlook for our portfolios.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF GRANAHAN FUNDS PLC

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report and Audited Financial Statements, other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The directors are responsible for the other information contained within the Annual Report and Audited Financial Statements. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in our report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of directors

As explained more fully in the Directors' Responsibilities Statement, the directors are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view and otherwise comply with the Companies Act 2014, and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the directors either intend to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on IAASA's website at: https://iaasa.ie/publications/description-of-the-auditors-responsibilities-for-the-audit-of-the-financial-statements. This description forms part of our auditor's report.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Company in the preparation of its financial statements. These policies are in conformity with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("US GAAP").

a) Valuation of Securities – Securities that are primarily traded on an official stock exchange are valued at the last traded price (or if no last traded price is available the latest mid-market price) on the exchange on which they are primarily traded on the day of valuation. Any securities or other assets for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at such value as shall be certified with care and good faith as the probable realization value by a competent person, appointed for such purpose by the Directors in consultation with the Investment Manager and approved by the Depositary. The values for foreign securities are reported in local currency and converted to US Dollar using currency exchange rates at the time of valuation. Exchange rates are provided daily by recognized independent pricing agents.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

- b) Distributions to Shareholders For all accumulating classes of shares, the Directors intend to accumulate and to automatically reinvest all earnings, dividends and other distributions of whatever kind pursuant to the investment objectives and policies of the relevant fund for the benefit of Shareholders in the relevant fund. The Directors intend to declare a quarterly dividend in respect of the distributing classes for the net income earned in the period (interest plus dividends, less fund expenses). To date, none of the distributing share classes have accumulated net income in any period. Any change to the distribution policy of a fund will be notified in advance to Shareholders and will be noted in an addendum or a revision to the Prospectus.
- c) Basis of preparation The accompanying financial statements have been prepared in conformity with US GAAP. The accompanying financial statements have been prepared under a going concern basis.
- d) Use of Estimates The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with US GAAP requires Directors to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Directors believe that the estimates utilized in preparing its financial statements are reasonable and prudent; however, actual results could differ from these estimates.
- e) Guarantees and Indemnification In the normal course of business, the Company enters into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Company's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Company that have not yet occurred. Based on experience, however, the Company expects the risk of loss to be remote.
- f) Other Investment and Shareholder transactions are recorded on trade date. The Company determines the gain or loss realized from the investment transactions by comparing the original cost of the security sold with the net sales proceeds on a high cost basis. Within the Funds, dividend income is recognized on the ex-dividend date or as soon as information is available and interest income is recognized on an accrual basis.
- g) Functional and Presentation Currency Items included in the financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates (the "Functional Currency"). The Company's Functional and presentation currency is US Dollar.
- h) Foreign Exchange Contracts Transactions during the financial year ended denominated in foreign currencies have been translated at the rates of exchange ruling at the dates of the transactions. Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates of exchange ruling at the financial year ended end date. The results of operations due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates on investments from gains or losses arising from the sales or changes in values of the portfolio securities are reported separately. Net realized gains (losses) and net change in unrealized gains (losses) on foreign currency related transactions arise for sales of foreign currencies and currency gains or losses between trade date or ex-date and settlement date on security or dividend transactions.
- i) Transaction Costs Transaction costs are incremental costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition, issue or disposal of a financial asset or financial liability. An incremental cost is one that would not have been incurred if the entity had not acquired, issued or disposed of the financial instrument. Only transaction costs which are separately identifiable are disclosed. These include transaction costs paid to depositaries and sub-custodians, identifiable brokerage charges and commissions. These requirements are disclosed in note 7.
- j) Expenses are recognized in the statement of operations on an accruals basis.

- k) Income Dividend income is recorded gross of any non-reclaimable withholding taxes suffered on an ex-date. Interest revenue is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable, which is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial asset to that asset's net carrying amount basis.
- Recent Accounting Pronouncements A number of new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations in issue are not yet effective, and have not been applied in preparing these financial statements. None of these are currently expected to have a material effect on the financial statements of the Company.
- m) Recognition/Derecognition The Company recognizes financial assets or financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss on the trade date, which is the date on which the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Other financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized on the date on which they originated. Financial instruments are measured initially at fair value (transaction price) on trade date with transaction costs recognized immediately in the Statement of Operations directly. In cases where a financial asset or financial liability is not measured at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial asset or financial liability are recognized in the Statement of Operations. Subsequent to initial recognition, all instruments classified at fair value through profit of loss are measured at fair value with changes in their fair value recognized in the Statement of Operations. Financial liabilities, other than those at fair value through profit or loss, are measured at amortized cost. Financial liabilities arising from the redeemable shares issued by each Fund are carried at the redemption amount representing the investors' right to a residual interest in each Fund's assets.
- n) Realized gains and losses The Company records investment transactions on a trade date basis, matching the cost of investments for the purpose of calculating realized gains and losses on an average cost basis. The Company records an unrealized gain or loss to the extent of the difference between the cost and the fair value of the position at any particular point in time. The Company records a realized gain or loss when the position is sold or closed. Realized gains and losses and the movement in unrealized gains and losses are recorded in the Statement of Operations within "Net realized and unrealized gain/ (loss) on investments".
- o) Uncertain tax positions Accounting Standards Codification 740, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes ("ASC 740") clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in the Company's financial statements. ASC 740 prescribes a recognition threshold and measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. ASC 740 requires that the Company determines whether it is more likely than not that a tax position will be sustained upon examination including resolution of any related appeals or litigation processes based on the technical merit position. In evaluating whether a tax position has met the more likely than not recognition threshold, the Company should presume that the position will be examined by the appropriate taxing authority that has full knowledge of all relevant information.

A tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is measured to determine the amount of benefit to recognize in the financial statements. The tax position is measured at the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50 percent likely of being realized upon settlement.

4. Taxation

The Company intends to conduct its affairs so that it is resident in Ireland for tax purposes. On the basis that the Company is Irish tax resident, the Company qualifies as an 'investment undertaking', as defined in Section 739B (1) of the Taxes Acts and, consequently, is exempt from Irish corporation tax on its income and gains.

However, tax can arise on the happening of a "chargeable event" in the Company. A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to Shareholders or any encashment, redemption, cancellation or transfer of Shares or appropriation or cancellation of Shares of a Shareholder by the Company for the purposes of meeting the amount of the tax payable on a gain arising on a transfer of an entitlement to a Share. It also includes "Eighth Anniversary Events" regardless of whether the Shares have been encashed, redeemed, cancelled or transferred.

No tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events in respect of a Shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor Irish ordinarily resident at the time of the chargeable event provided that a Relevant Declaration is in place and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is not or is no longer materially correct, or provided a written notice of approval from the Revenue Commissioners of Ireland (the "Revenue Commissioners") to the effect that a Relevant Declaration is deemed to be in place has been provided to the Company and not withdrawn. In the absence of a Relevant Declaration, or a written notice of approval from the Revenue Commissioners, there is a presumption that the investor is Irish resident or Irish ordinarily resident.

A chargeable event does not include:

1. an exchange by a Shareholder, effected by way of an arm's length bargain of Shares in the Company for other Shares in the Company;

2. any transactions (which might otherwise be a chargeable event) in relation to Shares held in a recognized clearing system as designated by order of the Irish Revenue Commissioners;

3. a transfer by a Shareholder of the entitlement to a Share where the transfer is between spouses and former spouses, subject to certain conditions;

4. an exchange of Shares arising on a qualifying amalgamation or reconstruction of the Company with another investment undertaking (within the meaning of Section 739H or Section 739HA of the Taxes Act);

5. any transaction in relation to, or in respect of, relevant Shares in an investment undertaking which transaction only arises by virtue of a change of court funds manager for that undertaking.

If the Company becomes liable to account for tax where a chargeable event occurs, the Company shall be required to deduct from the payment arising on a chargeable event an amount equal to the appropriate tax and/or where applicable, to appropriate or cancel such number of Shares held by the Shareholder or the beneficial owner of the Shares as are required to meet the amount of tax. The relevant Shareholder shall indemnify and keep the Company indemnified against loss arising to the Company by reason of the Company becoming liable to account for tax on the happening of a chargeable event if no such deduction, appropriation or cancellation has been made.

Director fees

The Constitution provides that the Directors shall be entitled to a fee by way of remuneration for their services at a rate to be determined from time to time by the Directors. Directors affiliated with the Investment Manager are not entitled to a fee. The aggregate amount of Directors' remuneration in any one year shall not exceed $\in 100,000$ without the approval of the Directors. All Directors will be entitled to reimbursement by the Company of expenses properly incurred in connection with the business of the Company or the discharge of their duties.

The Directors earned fees of $71,900 for the financial year ended December 31, 2023 (December 31, 2022: $72,250). Directors' fees payable as at December 31, 2023 amounted to $27,426 (December 31, 2022: $78,854).

The Manager assists the Company with payroll compliance services.

Performance fees - Granahan US Focused Growth Fund

In respect to Class P and Class P1 Shares, the Investment Manager is entitled to a performance fee (the "Performance Fee") if there is an Outperformance (the net asset value of Class P and Class P1 Shares less the value of the Hurdle (the amount of capital subscribed during the initial offer period adjusted for any subsequent subscriptions, redemptions and dividends paid) as adjusted by the Hurdle Rate (the return of the Russell 2000 Growth Index) (provided that the resulting number is positive) during a Performance Period (the first Business Day through to the last Business Day of the annual period which commences on 1 April and ends on 31 March, with the exception of the First Performance Period (commences on the close of the initial offer period for Class P1 Shares and ends on 31 March 2021)) and, where Shares are redeemed during a Performance Period, to a pro-rata portion of the Performance Fee accrual (if any) at the time of redemption.

The Performance Fee will be calculated in respect of each Performance Period. The Performance Fee will accrue on each Business Day and the accrual will be reflected in the net asset value per Class P and P1 Share.

Entitlement to a Performance Fee will be calculated if the Outperformance of Class P and P1 Shares on the last Dealing Day of a Performance Period are positive. The Performance Fee will be equal to Outperformance multiplied by 15%.

The Performance Fee is payable on the last Dealing Day of each Performance Period, or if the Class is terminated before the end of a Performance Period, the Dealing Day on which the final redemption of Class P and P1 Shares takes place, or in the case of Shares redeemed during a Performance Period, the accrued Performance Fee in respect of those Shares will be payable within 14 calendar days of the date of redemption (each a "Payment Date"). Any amount of Performance Fee calculated with respect to redeemed Class P and P1 Shares during a Performance Period will be calculated according to the net asset value of the redeemed Shares, and the Hurdle Rate as at the date of redemption (as opposed to at the end of the Performance Period in which the redemption takes place). It is therefore possible that, although the net asset value is not in Outperformance for a full Performance Period, a Performance Fee may be earned by the Investment Manager in respect of Shares redeemed where the redemption took place when the net asset value at redemption was higher than the Hurdle Rate.

Outperformance will be adjusted for any dividends paid by the Fund during the Performance Period.

In the event of an Outperformance on the last Dealing Day of a Performance Period, the value of the Hurdle for the next Performance Period will be reset on 1 April to the net asset value of the Class P and P1 Shares on the last Dealing Day of the preceding Performance Period. If there is no Outperformance on the last Dealing Day of a Performance of the Class P and P1 Shares in the preceding Performance Period, by reference to the Hurdle adjusted by the Hurdle Rate, will be clawed back (i.e. until under performance is made good) before a Performance Fee becomes due in a subsequent Performance Period. For the avoidance of doubt, any Performance Fee payable in relation to a given Performance Period will not be clawed back.

The Performance Fee is calculated based on the net asset value of Class P and P1 Shares and no Shareholder level equalisation is undertaken. This may result in inequalities between Shareholders in relation to the payment of Performance Fees (with some Shareholders paying disproportionately higher performance fees in certain circumstances). Because there is no Shareholder level equalisation, this may also result in certain Shareholders having more of their capital at risk at any given time than other Shareholders. The methodology may, in certain circumstances, result in certain Shareholders being charged a Performance Fee in circumstances where the net asset value per Share of their Shares has not increased over the relevant calculation period as a whole.

Calculation of the Hurdle for the Performance Period beginning at launch

The initial value of the Hurdle, upon the launch of the Class P and P1 Shares, will be the net asset value of Class P Shares as at the close of the first Dealing Day of Class P and P1 Shares.

The Performance Fee is payable where there is an Outperformance during the Performance Period, although this may be due to market movements impacting on retained holdings in the Fund rather than specific actions undertaken by the Investment Manager.

Any change to the index relating to the Hurdle Rate will be disclosed in the periodic reports of the Fund.

For the purposes of the Performance Fee calculation, the net asset value shall be calculated before the deduction of any accrual for Performance Fee for that Performance Period, other than Performance Fee accrued in relation to the Class in respect of redemptions during the Performance Period but not yet paid.

As the Performance Fee depends on the performance of the net asset value per Share of Class P and P1 Shares, it is not possible to predict the amount of Performance Fee that will be payable and there is in effect, no maximum Performance Fee as it is impossible to quantify any outperformance in advance.

Investors may request additional information on the way in which the Performance Fee calculation works from the Company.

For the financial year ended December 31, 2023 the performance fees amounted to $Nil (December 31, 2022: $Nil). Performance fees payable as at December 31, 2023 amounted to $Nil (December 31, 2022: $Nil).

9. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks

The securities and instruments in which the Company invests are subject to normal market fluctuations and other risks inherent in investing in such investments and there can be no assurance that any appreciation in value will occur.

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market, liquidity and credit risk. The Investment Manager seeks to minimize these risks through diversification of the investment portfolio in accordance with the specific investment policies and restrictions set out in the Prospectus and Supplement for each Fund. The nature and extent of the financial instruments outstanding at the Statement of Assets and Liabilities date and the risk management policies employed by the Company are discussed below.

Market Risk

Market risk arises mainly from uncertainty about future prices of financial instruments held. It represents the potential loss the Company might suffer through holding market positions in the face of price movements.

The Company is exposed, particularly in its equity assets, to market risk. The Company invests in securities traded on global markets and market risk is a risk to which exposure is unavoidable.

Market risk comprises of market price risk, currency risk and interest rate risk.

(i) Market price risk

Market price risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices, whether caused by factors specific to an individual investment, its issuer or all factors affecting equity instruments traded in the market.

As the majority of the Company's investments are carried at fair value with fair value changes recognized in the Statement of Operations, all changes in market conditions will directly affect net income. The risk is mitigated through diversification of the portfolio in investments in various geographic zones and industries.

The investment strategy of the Company is not to replicate a market index and therefore correlation between the return from the Company and any market index is likely to vary. As a result, it is appropriate to use the financial year end portfolio as a risk variable in any market sensitivity analysis. To illustrate the sensitivity of the portfolio based on a reasonably possible estimate of market price movements for a financial year, if the price of each of the equity securities to which the Company had exposure had increased by 5% there would have been the following approximate increases in net assets

9. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks (continued)

(ii) Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. As the Company mainly enters into transactions denominated in USD, the Company's exposure to foreign currency risk is minimal.

(iii) Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. Interest rate risk arises when the Company invests in interest bearing financial instruments. At the financial year ended end, the Company held no interest bearing financial instruments and interest rate risk in relation to cash and cash equivalents is not regarded a material risk.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities.

The main liquidity risk to the Company arises from the redemption requests of investors. The Company's Shareholders may redeem their Shares on each dealing day for cash equal to a proportionate share of the relevant Fund's net asset value and it is therefore potentially exposed to the liquidity risk of meeting the daily redemptions by its Shareholders. In order for the Company to meet these requests, the Company may need to dispose of the underlying assets at an inopportune time.

To help manage this risk, if the number of Shares to be redeemed on any dealing day equals 10% or more of the total number of Shares of the Fund in issue on that day the Directors or their delegate may at their discretion refuse to redeem any Shares in excess of 10% of the total number of Shares in issue. If the Directors so refuse, the requests for redemption on such dealing day shall be reduced pro-rata and Shares which are not redeemed by reason of such refusal shall be treated as if a request for redemption had been made in respect of each subsequent dealing day until all Shares to which the original request related have been redeemed.

Each Fund's listed securities are considered readily realizable, as they are quoted on reputable stock exchanges. The Investment Manager monitors the liquidity position on a daily basis.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

ASC 820 establishes a three-tier fair value hierarchy that prioritises the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurement) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below. The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Level 2 – other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, credit risk, prepayment speeds, etc.).

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2022 in valuing the Fund's assets/liabilities carried at fair value:

Global Exposure

Per the Central Bank UCITS Regulations, and as part of the risk management and reporting requirements, the Funds must be monitored and measured in accordance with the regulatory requirements. The Commitment approach is used by the Funds to calculate global exposure. The Manager has designed and implemented a remuneration policy (the "Policy") in line with the provisions of S.I. 257 of 2013 European Union (Alternative Investment Fund Managers) Regulations 2013 (the "AIFM Regulations"), S.I. 352 of 2011 European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 (as amended) (the "UCITS Regulations") and of the ESMA Guidelines on sound remuneration policies under the UCITS Directive and AIFMD (the "ESMA Guidelines"). The Policy is designed to ensure that the remuneration of key decision makers is aligned with the management of short and long-term risks, including the oversight and where appropriate the management of sustainability risks in line with the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulations.

The Manager's remuneration policy applies to its identified staff whose professional activities might have a material impact on the Company's risk profile and so covers senior management, risk takers, control functions and any employees receiving total remuneration that takes them into the same remuneration bracket as senior management and risk takers and whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the Company. The Manager's policy is to pay identified staff a fixed component with the potential for identified staff to receive a variable component. It is intended that the fixed component will represent a sufficiently high proportion of the total remuneration of the individual to allow the Manager to operate a fully flexible policy, with the possibility of not paying any variable component. When the AIFM pays a variable component as performance related pay certain criteria, as set out in the Manager's remuneration policy, must be adhered to. The various remuneration components are combined to ensure an appropriate and balanced remuneration package that reflects the relevant staff rank and professional activity as well as best market practice. The Manager's remuneration policy is consistent with, and promotes, sound and effective risk management and does not encourage risk-taking which is inconsistent with the risk profile of the funds it manages.

These disclosures are made in respect of the remuneration policies of the Manager. The disclosures are made in accordance with the ESMA Guidelines.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

N/A – the Fund does not commit to making sustainable investments.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27 November 2019 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial services sector ("SFDR"), requires the Fund to make a "comply or explain" decision whether to consider the principal adverse impacts ("PAIs") of its investment decisions on sustainability factors, in accordance with a specific regime outlined in SFDR. The Fund has opted not to comply with that regime but will keep its decision not to comply with the PAI Regime under regular review.

The Fund has carefully evaluated the requirements of the PAI Regime in Article 4 of the SFDR, and in the draft Regulatory Technical Standards which were published in April 2020 (the "PAI Regime"). The Fund is supportive of the policy aims of the PAI Regime in order to improve transparency to investors and the market on how financial market participants integrate consideration of the adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors.

However, the Investment Manager does not believe that companies and market data providers are ready to make available all necessary data for the PAI Regime.

Notwithstanding the Fund's decision not to comply with the PAI Regime, the Investment Manager has implemented positive ESG-related initiatives and policies, as part of its overall commitment to ESG matters.
