General Investment Climate

1st October 2022 - 30th September 2023

General overview

Economic context

The first months of 2022 were marked by rising inflation, a consequence of the disruptions caused by the Covid crisis. The situation worsened dramatically after the invasion of Ukraine by Russian forces on 24th February. Prices of energy and industrial raw materials went through the roof, adding to the inflation problem.

During the course of 2022, the increased cost of living led to a fall in consumer confidence. Energy costs in particular rose spectacularly. High inflation prompted households to adjust their spending patterns and tighten the purse strings. This sparked unease among companies, too, with a concomitant negative impact on producer confidence. Inflation fell in the euro area on the back of falling energy prices. Inflation also fell in the United States ("US"). This changed the outlook for economic growth, leading to easing recessionary fears during the reporting period. Improved economic data prompted an upward revision of the growth outlook, especially in the US.

Central banks reacted robustly to the rising inflation rate, hiking key rates sharply in 2022, a policy which has continued in 2023. In the US, especially, key rates were raised at an unprecedented pace. Despite the cooling headline inflation referred to above, core inflation remained too high, forcing central banks to raise key rates further in a bid to meet their inflation target.

Monetary policy

After first raising interest rates by 25 basis points ("bps") in March 2022, the US Federal Reserve ("Fed") has followed up with even more rate hikes since June 2022. Fed Chairman Jerome Powell announced to central bankers at the Economic Symposium in Jackson Hole in August 2022 that he would do everything in his power to curb inflation, no matter the impact on the economy and households. He proved to be as good as his word, and raised key rates sharply. Where in the past interest rates have tended to be raised in small steps, this time the Fed has hiked interest rates by 0.75% several times. The persistence of core inflation has raised expectations of further key rate hikes in the US in 2023. Recently, the Fed Chairman announced a possible pause in rate hikes. However, this does not mark the end of the increases. At the end of the reporting period, the US key rate stood at 5.5%.

In Europe, the European Central Bank ("ECB") stressed in 2022 that the jump in inflation in the euro area would be temporary. However, this assertion proved to be short-lived, and was soon followed by an announcement that the bond purchase programme would end in June 2022. This in turn was followed by the first rate hike of 50 bps in July 2022. In Europe, too, rates were systematically raised in 2022 and again in 2023. At the time of writing, the European deposit rate stood at 4%.

Currency markets

The euro increased by 7.87% against the USD, and even by 11.33% against the Japanese yen. The euro made limited gains against the CHF (0.02%) and actually lost ground against the pound sterling (-1.24%).

Stock markets

After a strong rally in the summer of 2022, international stock markets dipped sharply again at the start of the reporting period. Fed Chairman Jerome Powell's speech at the central bankers' meeting in Jackson Hole in August made clear that the Fed was prepared to raise interest rates even more sharply to bring inflation under control, a move which he acknowledged would weigh heavily on growth. Afterwards, the stock markets mainly moved sideways. The improved economic outlook and the fall in energy prices enabled European stock markets to start 2023 with a flourish. This was partly thanks to the reopening of the Chinese economy, but this optimism soon ebbed away as the economic data continued to disappoint in both Europe and China. The market resumed its upward trend from the spring onwards, spurred by a strong US economy, declining inflation, better-than-expected corporate results and buoyant sentiment. Ultimately, the world index ended the reporting period up 11.8%.

Among the traditional markets, US shares have risen by 12.01% in euro terms during the reporting period. US indices fell particularly sharply in the autumn of 2022, with the Nasdaq leading the way. Higher long-term interest rates weighed on the heavyweights of the US stock market, which are largely found in the media and technology sectors. Falling producer confidence in the manufacturing sector and the potentially negative impact on economic growth weighed on sentiment in autumn 2022. Fourth quarter results in 2022 were in line with expectations, though overall earnings were still down slightly. Technology shares in the US fell in both revenue and earnings terms.

The outlook for the companies concerned when publishing their results was revised downwards. Yet it was precisely these same technology shares that caused a strong recovery in the US stock market over the past six months. The hype created around new applications within artificial intelligence ("AI") was decisive in this.

KBC BONDS

The euro area, which has been hit harder by the war in Ukraine and fears of interest rate hikes due to high inflation, recorded a gain of 24.29% during the reporting period. The war in Ukraine had a major impact because of the dependence of several European countries on energy supplies (gas and oil) from Russia. The gas tap being turned off in certain countries led to persistently high energy prices. The prospect of falling inflation due to lower energy prices in the closing months of 2022 prompted a reversal. Updated economic growth figures provided a boost in Europe. However, the sharp rise seen in the first few months was not sustained. Gaining 16.54% over the past year, Japan also proved its worth as a defensive player.

2022 was a difficult year for shares from emerging markets (countries or regions that are expected to experience rapid economic growth to make up their lag with the West). China's growth came under severe pressure in 2022 and the Chinese government had to pull out all the stops to achieve growth. The lifting of the zero-Covid policy at the start of 2023 was a shot in the arm for the Chinese stock market. The Chinese stock market lost 2.42% over the reporting period as the initial surge after the economy reopened was not sustained. The increase was mainly consumption-driven, while manufacturing lagged behind. Contact-intensive services benefited from the reopening, but industrial production remained below expectations, resulting in weaker growth. Among other things, problems in the real estate sector and increased concerns about local government debt meant that investments contributed less to the revival in China's growth. Stock markets in Latin America did better (10.48%) thanks to the rise in commodity prices on the back of the reopening of the Chinese economy.

Cyclical companies have had a tough time in the past 12 months, impacted by the bleak economic outlook (especially in Europe), along with China's sluggish economy and the war in Ukraine. With an improved economic outlook for 2023, materials shares rebounded, gaining 8.08% over the past 12 months thanks to the reopening of China's economy. Industrials showed a similar trend, benefitting from a recovery. Industrials gained 16.99%.

Energy was the sector of choice in the first half of 2022. Falling energy prices weighed on share prices in early 2023, but a recovery set in from the summer in the wake of a recovery in oil prices. Energy stocks closed the reporting period 17.82% higher.

The financial sector gained 8.68% over the past 12 months, as financial institutions benefited from the higher interest rates. The upward revision of the economic growth outlook is also good news, as it reduces the likelihood of defaults. European banks got off to a strong start in 2023, outperforming their US counterparts. In March, however, we faced a mini financial crisis. The collapse of SVB and Signature Bank in the US and UBS's takeover of Credit Suisse in Europe damaged confidence in the financial sector. Calm was restored fairly quickly thanks to the decisive action taken by central banks.

Over the past reporting period, consumer discretionary sectors rose by 7.99%.

Defensive sectors such as consumer staples (+0.06%) and utilities (-7.45%) struggled during the reporting period. Health care, another defensive sector, held up better (+2.38%).

Technology lost ground in 2022 due to rising interest rates but has picked up again recently. The sector was up 25.74%, driven mainly by the semiconductor subsector, where inventories were run down faster than expected and the market leader in AI chips did very well. Communication services increased by 19.43%. This sector consists of the telecommunications subsector (defensive) plus the media and entertainment subsector (more focused on IT).

Bond markets

Bond yields in the US and euro area have been highly volatile again in recent months. Uncertainties regarding the economic growth outlook and inflation that is cooling only slowly have regularly made investors hesitant. Persistently high core inflation means central banks have no choice but to keep a tight hold on the monetary policy reins for the time being. Key rates are close to their peak, but both the Fed and the ECB remain unconvinced that inflation is under control. An interest rate cut is not on the cards any time soon, and the clear message is one of higher interest rates for longer. This makes the picture a complex one for bond investors. Bond yields may even have peaked at last. Compared to a year ago, US and German 10-year yields are now some 73 bps higher. The rise in yields was much more limited for corporate bonds: in fact, by the end of the reporting period the spread versus safe government bonds, which had risen sharply in the first half of 2022, had narrowed to 153 bps for high-grade euro-denominated corporate bonds.

The Fed's key rate has been raised from 0.125% to 5.5% in a series of steps since March 2022. The ECB has also raised the deposit rate to 4% since July 2022. Their priority remains to combat high inflation despite the weak economic outlook. Further increases in key rates are possible and will depend on the economic data. The inflation outlook remains key. On the other hand, monetary policy is gradually coming to be seen as sufficiently restrictive.

Economic context

Confidence indicators suggest that economic growth is slowing down worldwide. For now, this is mainly apparent in Europe and China; in the US, economic growth continues to surprise on the upside. Here, too, however, the Fed's stricter interest rate policy is expected to have a negative impact on growth after the usual time lag. A weakening labour market and the steady depletion of savings buffers built up during the Covid pandemic are likely to lead to slowing consumption growth from the turn of the year.

Monetary policy

Central banks are expected to take their foot off the gas a little after the sharp interest rate hikes over the past 18 months. While the risk of further rises cannot be ruled out, we are not anticipating any new increases in key rates in the near term. It seems likely that central banks will hold the current (restrictive) interest rates at their present level for a somewhat longer period, with little prospect of downward adjustments before the second half of 2024.

Currency markets

Reducing interest rate spreads led to a weakening of the USD against the euro during the reporting period. We do not expect any major changes in the short term.

Financial markets

Economic conditions have become highly uncertain as the impact of the post-Covid reopening on Western economies slowly fades and the effects of stimulus policies during the pandemic give way to a strict monetary policy aimed at fighting inflation.

Despite steadily increasing interest rates and inflation figures not seen in 40 years, the economy has so far held up quite well, due in part to a very buoyant labour market. The military conflict in Ukraine, (temporarily) much higher energy prices and a 'light' banking crisis have all failed to derail the economy. Nonetheless, most economists expect that, with the normal time lag, the fading of the fiscal stimulus from the Covid period and the strict interest rate policy could cause a sharp slowdown in growth or even a slight downturn in the economy in the second half of this year.

Stock markets do not seem to be pricing in that scenario for the time being and are counting on a 'soft landing' of the economy, to be achieved among other things via a quick adjustment of interest rate policy and the rapid roll-out of AI. We remain cautious and are invested slightly below benchmark level in shares.

The bond markets are predicated on the belief that the worst inflation problems are behind us and that central banks are nearing the end of their cycle of interest rate hikes. Judging from the yields on longer maturities, the assumption is that banks will change tack and raise key rates to only just above the current levels. We have accordingly increased the bond weightings in recent months and are now actually invested slightly above the benchmark level.

We are holding cash in reserve to enable us to respond to opportunities as they arise.

Stock markets

After a surprisingly strong first quarter, growth in subsequent quarters is set to be weaker in both the US and Europe. The US is also forecast to undergo several quarters of slightly negative growth. Confidence indicators in industry sunk below critical levels in the US. By contrast, the service sector is holding up reasonably well, although a slowdown is setting in there, too. Inflation is cooling, but core inflation remains stubbornly high. The strong labour market is pushing up wages as well as increasing purchasing power for households. This could force the Fed to keep rates fairly high for a considerable length of time. In the euro area, the feared energy crisis failed to materialise in the spring, but a sharp downturn in confidence was nevertheless visible in the summer months, especially in industry. However, core inflation remains high, forcing the ECB to strike a delicate balance between containing inflation (by raising rates) and avoiding a recession (thus preventing it from raising rates too sharply).

We are maintaining a fairly defensive positioning in the share strategy.

At regional level, the portfolio is relatively well balanced. We are moving Emerging Asia to a neutral recommendation, whereas we are even reducing the view on China to an underweight position. The abolition of the zero-Covid policy in early 2023 gave a positive impulse to Chinese growth, but this effect wore off quite quickly. This summer, it became clear that the problems in the Chinese real estate sector have not yet been resolved, and economic growth slowed again. This had an impact on prices, which fell slightly. This leaves China's central bank free to pursue policies to boost the economy and cut key rates. The government has also announced other – albeit limited so far – measures to accelerate growth again. For the time being, we are opting for certainty, and scaled back our positions to a slight underweight in China. Other Asian countries did manage to sustain growth: the Indian economy remained in good shape, while growth also accelerated in South Korea.

Within Asia, we do remain positive on the Pacific region, which consists mainly of Japanese companies. This region has decidedly defensive qualities and is benefiting from the recovery of the economy in emerging Asia. The cheap yen is an advantage for Japanese export companies and low inflation is also still allowing the central bank to pursue an accommodative monetary policy.

In the major Western economic centres, our regional preference depends mainly on the sectors we choose. At the start of 2023, we reduced our position in the technology sector, which puts North America in an underweight position. Meanwhile, we are taking a neutral stance on the euro area. Europe excluding the Economic and Monetary Union ("EMU"), on the other hand, is being bolstered by the increased presence of more defensive industries, leading us to recommend an overweight position for Europe as a whole.

We are underweight in cyclical companies. We are invested below the benchmark level in industrials, following a fall in confidence indicators. Reduced demand for products is leading to reduced investment. In the short term, the conflict in Ukraine, high energy and input prices and high interest rates are also weighing on the earnings outlook for the sector. We are also underweight in the materials sector. Commodity markets are being weighed down by weaker demand from industry – not least from China – while margins in the chemical sector are being eroded by higher energy prices and increasing price pressure from end-customers, such as car manufacturers.

We are maintaining a neutral recommendation on financial stocks. Following the collapse of a few US banks and the acquisition of Credit Suisse by UBS, we have become more cautious on the banking sector, although we are maintaining a slightly overweight position for European banks, which are very cheap. The more defensive insurers remain slightly overweight.

We have moved the weighting of consumer discretionary sectors to neutral. US consumers are still enjoying healthy purchasing power thanks to the strong labour market. Retailers make up the bulk of this sector. E-commerce companies were again able to post strong quarterly results. To some extent, these companies are being carried along on the coat-tails of the AI boom. Traditional retailers also continue to do well, especially in the US, thanks to the strong labour market and falling inflation. We are keeping consumer services at a neutral weighting. We are keeping the automotive sub-segment underweight due to fears of waning demand as a result of the mild recession in the second half of the year. After the strong rally in the luxury segment (partly due to demand from China), we took a certain amount of profit on this industry group.

We are neutral on the technology sector, with its strong US preference, but underweight in the hardware subsector owing to the prospect of lower growth in the short term. We are again taking a neutral stance on the semiconductor subsector. Due to the strong rally linked to AI and ChatGPT, this segment had initially become particularly expensive, but recently it has cooled somewhat, allowing us to pick up some of the theme more cheaply. We expect these companies with their strong pricing power to continue making higher profits for some time, which is why we moved the position to neutral. However, within the technology sector we are maintaining a heavily overweight position in software companies. Its pricing power means this subsector is less impacted by inflation. Media companies were able to post better figures again after several difficult quarters. The potential drop in advertising revenue is proving to be less severe than anticipated thanks to strong US consumer spending. We are therefore maintaining a neutral stance on this sector.

We are continuing to focus on defensive sectors. Health care is a defensive sector which is able to generate solid corporate earnings and where the risk of increased regulation in the US has eased. We recently built up the holdings in pharmaceuticals and medical technology again in the light of the latter sector's cheaper valuation and better quarterly results. We are also maintaining a neutral weighting for telecom companies, which are listing at very low valuations.

We are also overweight in consumer staples. These companies, which include food and beverage producers as well as household and personal products manufacturers, provide stable income in uncertain times. We are taking a neutral stance on utilities.

We are maintaining a slightly underweight position in real estate shares. These companies are sensitive both to a slowdown in growth – which weighs on rental income, for example – and to high interest rates.

Finally, we are sticking to our neutral stance on the traditional energy sector. Oil prices remain fairly high, supporting short-term gains, although we think the slowdown in the economy could put some pressure on the sector in the autumn.

Bond markets

The economic outlook is weak. High inflation is forcing central banks to take a restrictive approach. However, bonds are also seen as a safe haven; positions are built up whenever fears of recession increase, which causes yields to fall. In this complex situation, it is unclear whether investors will focus more on the economic dip, inflation or on a potential reversal of the central bank's interest rate policy. Against this backdrop, we still expect to see major fluctuations in bond yields, although German ten-year yields may have now peaked.

The main priority of the Fed is to combat sky-high inflation. In March 2022, the bond purchase programme was discontinued and for the first time since 2015, the Fed initiated a cycle of sharp rate hikes, which pushed rates from 0.125% to the current 5.5%. All options remain on the table for the next meetings, with further steps depending on growth and inflation data becoming available. Nonetheless, a peak in the key rate seems imminent. Fed Chairman Jerome Powell has however also indicated that once rates have peaked, they are unlikely to be cut any time soon.

The ECB is also concerned about inflation being far above its 2% target rate. Its bond purchase programme was discontinued at the end of June 2022, with a first rate hike following in July and the deposit rate being raised from -0.5% to +4% since then. Core inflation remains stubbornly high. The ECB has also indicated that the peak in interest rates is in sight but that key rates will need to remain higher for longer in order to cool inflation.

We are slightly overweight in the bond allocation. Following the sharp rise in both interest rates and credit premiums since early 2022, bonds are once again attractive after a long period of very low yields. KBC is forecasting weak economic growth, but we will avoid a deep recession. We therefore prefer blue-chip corporate bonds to government bonds. Our slight overweight position in growth market bonds was reduced in favour of US government bonds, as the risk-return balance here was much more interesting due to the higher rates of interest the US.

Maturities have been regularly adjusted in recent months, but generally kept shorter than the reference (benchmark). We recently adjusted this and are now invested at the benchmark level. Considerable fluctuations in interest rates are likely to continue for a while, although the trend will be much flatter than in 2022. Holding a steady course will be key in 2023.

REPORT OF THE REVISEUR D'ENTREPRISES AGREE

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of KBC BONDS (the «SICAV») and of each of its sub-funds, which comprise the statement of net assets and statement of investments and other net assets as at 30th September 2023, and the statement of operations and other changes in net assets for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the SICAV and of each of its sub-funds as at 30th September 2023, and of the results of their operations and changes in their net assets for the year then ended in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Law of 23rd July 2016 on the audit profession ("Law of 23rd July 2016") and with International Standards on Auditing ("ISAs") as adopted for Luxembourg by the "Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier" ("CSSF"). Our responsibilities under the Law of 23rd July 2016 and ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF are further described in the «Responsibilities of "Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé" for the Audit of the Financial Statements» section of our report.

We are also independent of the SICAV in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants, including International Independence Standards, issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code) as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities under those ethical requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information

The Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information stated in the report on activities of the Board of Directors of the SICAV but does not include the financial statements and our report of the “Réviseur d’Entreprises Agréé” thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report this fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the SICAV for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of the SICAV is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the SICAV determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the SICAV is responsible for assessing the SICAV’s ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the SICAV either intends to liquidate the SICAV or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the “Réviseur d’Entreprises Agréé” for the Audit of the Financial Statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue a report of the “Réviseur d’Entreprises Agréé” that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23rd July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law dated 23rd July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the SICAV's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the SICAV.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of Board of Directors of the SICAV's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the SICAV's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our report of the "Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé" to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our report of the "Réviseur d'Entreprises Agréé". However, future events or conditions may cause the SICAV to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

The report on activities of the Board of Directors of the SICAV is consistent with the financial statements and has been prepared in accordance with applicable legal requirements.

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

At the start of the reporting period sentiment on the financial markets remained very nervous. Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures remained far above the comfort level of the central banks. The Fed in the US and the ECB continued to hike their policy rates. Central Bank policy pushed up 2-year German Government yields by 100 bps in fourth quarter of 2022. As 10-year German yields only rose by 45 bps, the yield curve flattened dramatically. Short end yields ended the calendar year at 2.75%, while 10-year yields stood at 2.55%. This is what professionals refer to as an 'inverse yield curve', which indicates that monetary policy is getting increasingly restrictive.

As the end of the year approached, the outlook started to get brighter. European gas prices dropped as the flow of Russian gas was quite easily replaced with Norwegian, US and even Australian supplies. Negative base effects from energy and food prices drove headline consumer price indices lower. Bond yields followed suit, dropping especially in the US. German 10-year yields dropped 20 bps in first half of 2023, while 2-year yields rose another 45 bps. Hence, at the end of June yield curve inversion was even more pronounced.

During summer, however, constructive sentiment on bond markets ended, with a shift in Central Bank communication. Although both ECB and Fed indicated that policy rates were close to, or even at the peak of the cycle, they pushed back against market pricing of rate cuts in 2024. As money market curves moved higher, that also pushed bond curves into a bear steepening move. A 45 bps rally in 10-year German Rates, took them to a level of 2.84% at the end of the reporting period.

Until June of this year, we have been holding on to a neutral stance relative to the benchmark, while managing the duration of the portfolio dynamically in order to profit from interest rate volatility. In June, we initiated an overweight position in the US, United Kingdom ("UK") and Europe, reflecting our view that the lagged effect of past interest rates hikes will start weighing more heavily on economic activity in the West. The exception is Japan where inflation started to inch higher, which was used to initiate a underweight duration position. In fourth quarter of 2022 we sold all our out-of-bench Inflation Linked Bond positions. Looking back, the overweight position was opened to early and pulled performance down heavily. The overweight on Japan performed positively to performance, albeit not enough to offset the position in the rest of the portfolio.

In 2022 yields had been trending higher. After having reached a 3% top in third quarter of 2023, our economists expect yields to keep trading around 2.80% in the foreseeable future. Future positions will depend on how the geopolitical environment changes.

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

At the start of the reporting period sentiment on the financial markets remained very nervous. Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures remained far above the comfort level of the central banks. The Fed in the US and the ECB continued to hike their policy rates. Central Bank policy pushed up 2-year German Government yields by 100 bps in fourth quarter of 2022. As 10-year German yields only rose by 45 bps, the yield curve flattened dramatically. Short end yields ended the calendar year at 2.75%, while 10-year yields stood at 2.55%. This is what professionals refer to as an 'inverse yield curve', which indicates that monetary policy is getting increasingly restrictive.

As the end of the year approached, the outlook started to get brighter. European gas prices dropped as the flow of Russian gas was quite easily replaced with Norwegian, US and even Australian supplies. Negative base effects from energy and food prices drove headline consumer price indices lower. Bond yields followed suit, dropping especially in the US. German 10-year yields dropped 20 bps in first half of 2023, while 2-year yields rose another 45 bps. Hence, at the end of June yield curve inversion was even more pronounced.

During summer, however, the constructive sentiment on bond markets ended, with a shift in Central Bank communication. Although both ECB and Fed indicated that policy rates were close to, or even at the peak of the cycle, they pushed back against market pricing of rate cuts in 2024. As money market curves moved higher, that also pushed bond curves into a bear steepening move. A 45 bps rally in 10-year German Rates, took them to a level of 2.84% at the end of the reporting period.

Until June of this year, we have been holding on to a neutral stance relative to the benchmark, while managing the duration of the portfolio dynamically in order to profit from interest rate volatility. In June, we initiated an overweight position in the US, UK and Europe, reflecting our view that the lagged effect of past interest rates hikes will start weighing more heavily on economic activity in the West. The exception is Japan where inflation started to inch higher, which was used to initiate a UW duration position. In fourth quarter of 2022 we sold all our out-of-bench Inflation Linked Bond positions. Looking back, the overweight position was opened too early and pulled performance down heavily. The overweight in Japan performed positively to performance, albeit not enough to offset the overweight position in the rest of the portfolio.

In 2022 yields had been trending higher. After having reached a 3% top in third quarter of 2023, our economists expect yields to keep trading around 2.80% in the foreseeable future. Future positions will depend on how the geopolitical environment changes.

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

At the start of the accounting period the sentiment on the financial markets remained very jittery. Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of the winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures remained far above the comfort level of the central banks. The Fed in the US and the ECB continued to hike their policy rates.

As the end of 2022 approached, the outlook started to brighten. European gas prices started to drop dramatically as the flow of Russian gas was quite easily replaced with Norwegian, US and even Australian supplies. Negative basis effects from energy and food prices drove headline consumer price indices lower. Bond yields followed suit, dropping especially in the US.

Emerging markets bonds held up quite well with China once again acting as cavalier seul. During fourth quarter the country remained in a series of lockdowns but mid-January, the authorities suddenly decided to abolish the restrictive measures.

During the first half of the reporting period, bond yields in Europe moved little while US Treasury yields declined modestly.

The economic picture changed in the latter half of the accounting with a more divergent pattern on both sides of the Atlantic. The US economy continued to thrive with a resilient services sector, solid consumption figures and a big spending government. Europe was much less buoyant with a general weakness in manufacturing. The disappointing Chinese recovery that followed the sudden end of the lockdown, affected European luxury goods and car manufacturers in a big way.

Bonds reacted negatively with higher US Treasury yields pulling yields higher elsewhere. By the end of third quarter 2023, the US 10-year yield peaked at 4.57%, 75 bps above the level one year ago.

On the forex markets the euro was able to recoup most of the losses in fourth quarter and first quarter of 2023 as sentiment improved. The greenback lost 7% versus the euro. Very few emerging market currencies performed well. Among them, the Mexican and Columbian peso and the Central European forint and zloty performed best, with gains of 5% and more against the euro.

Investment policy

The sub-fund kept an overweight in a selected number of emerging markets with good fundamentals and a decent carry like Mexico, Indonesia and Brazil. Low yielding bond markets like China, Thailand & co were underweight.

In the developed markets the sub-fund remained underweight duration with a modest overweight of USD bonds. The weight of the high yielding British market was increased while the low yielding Swiss bond positions were sold completely.

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR") through the General exclusion Policy and the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through the General exclusion Policy were exposure to controversial weapons ('indicator 14'), exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector ('indicator 4') and Violations of the principles of the UN Global Compact or the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development ("OECD") Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises ('indicator 10').

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through KBC Asset Management Group's the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy were greenhouse gas emissions ('indicator 1'), carbon footprint ('indicator 2'), greenhouse gas intensity of investee companies ('indicator 3'), exposure to fossil fuel companies ('indicator 4') and gender diversity on the board of directors ('indicator 13').

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

The sub-fund primarily invests in USD denominated bonds issued by borrowers that operate in emerging markets ("EM") or whose head office is located in the emerging markets. EM mainly include economies in Southeast Asia, Latin America, Eastern Europe and Africa.

The performance of the sub-fund is driven by two factors: the pattern of US government bond yields ('core yields') and the credit risk premiums EM ('credit spreads') have to pay on top of these.

Over the period under review, the sub-fund returned +6.7%. This was the result of a substantial rise in core yields (attributing -1.6%) that was more than offset by interest income (5.7%) and a substantial decline in credit spreads (attributing 2.6%). With investors looking to lock in high absolute yields, emerging market credit spreads moved in a benign direction.

Looking forward, a stabilisation of core yields is likely to be less disruptive for EM, unless inflation proves once again more persistent than expected and yields spike again. However, credit spreads could possibly still rise again, as the global economy moves further into slowdown mode, induced by the extensive monetary policy tightening since early 2022.

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR") through the General exclusion Policy and the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through the General exclusion Policy were exposure to controversial weapons ('indicator 14'), exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector ('indicator 4') and Violations of the principles of the UN Global Compact or the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development ("OECD") Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises ('indicator 10').

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through KBC Asset Management Group's the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy were greenhouse gas emissions ('indicator 1'), carbon footprint ('indicator 2'), greenhouse gas intensity of investee companies ('indicator 3'), exposure to fossil fuel companies ('indicator 4') and gender diversity on the board of directors ('indicator 13').

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

The beginning of the reporting period was characterised by a very swift and substantial decline of credit spreads. For most of 2022, European credit spreads had been on the rise to a level significantly above historical credit spread levels. Worries on gas prices and red-hot inflation started to subside towards the end of 2022, driving credit spreads down. The positive tone continued into the beginning of 2023 until some regional banks in the US came into trouble and globally systemic Credit Suisse had to be absorbed by UBS to avoid worldwide contagion. All-in-all, the Credit Suisse case has been handled well in light of the magnitude of the financial institution and considering the speed of events unravelling.

After a short-lived risk-off episode, markets had been reassured quickly and corporate spreads continued their decline, helped by expectations that the end of the aggressive hiking cycle was near. Since the end of the summer of 2023, credit spreads have been moving in a rather small range. Even a further increase in long-term risk-free rates could not derail the rally.

Investment policy

During the reporting period, the interest rate sensitivity of the sub-fund increased gradually from lower to higher than the reference index. Monetary policy is finding its way to the real economy while inflation pressures are subsiding thanks to base effects. As a result, we think the odds of rates declining is higher than the odds they will further increase substantially, barring some volatility every now and then. We expect to maintain the current duration of the portfolio until rates are substantially below levels at the end of the reporting period or in case inflation expectations increase again.

On the credit sensitivity of the portfolio, we are still in a rather neutral range but slightly above the benchmark. In spite of the weakening macroeconomic data, some pockets of the market still look attractive from a risk-return perspective such as subordinated financial instruments. Throughout most of the reporting period, we have preferred the financial sector (especially banks) over non-financial issuers. Fundamentals of the sector still look very sound whereas credit spreads provide an above-average compensation in our opinion. We expect to maintain the current stance in credit sensitivity unless we expect a macroeconomic scenario that would be harsher than a mild downturn.

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

The beginning of the reporting period was characterised by a very swift and substantial decline of credit spreads. For most of 2022, European credit spreads had been on the rise to a level significantly above historical credit spread levels. Worries on gas prices and red-hot inflation started to subside towards the end of 2022, driving credit spreads down. The positive tone continued into the beginning of 2023. Mid-March of 2023, however, markets were briefly shaken up by what seemed like a new banking crisis. Credit Suisse and some smaller US banks suffered from a liquidity crunch which resulted in some take-overs by other banks. As a result stock markets took a dive together with rates. And credit spreads widened by almost 55 bps.

Nevertheless, unrest in the market quickly subsided, and credit spreads had already tightened by 40 bps from their top by the end of March. Bank stocks and bonds recovered and confidence gradually returned. The market returned to a consensus of a mild-downturn scenario with stock markets recovering.

At the end of the reporting period, markets started to price in a higher for longer yield scenario with potentially some more rate hikes in the near future. Yields all over the curve jumped higher. This resulted in a repricing of stock markets as well with declines of 5% to 10%.

At the beginning of the reporting period, the sub-fund was positioned in line with our hard economic landing scenario, overweighting lower-delta names. Over the first 3 months the delta was brought down further from -5% to -7%. At the start of 2023, we increased the delta gradually to a range of -2% to -3%. This is in line with the move to a mild downturn economic scenario. At the end of the reporting period the delta stands at -3% compared to the benchmark. Going forward we prefer to keep our cautious positioning.

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

At the start of the reporting period Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures remained far above the comfort level of the central banks. The Fed in the US and the ECB continued to hike their policy rates.

At the end of the year 2022, the outlook started to get brighter. European gas prices started to drop dramatically. Negative base effects from energy and food prices drove headline consumer price indices lower. The collapse of Silicon Valley Bank and Signature Bank in March and the take-over of Crédit Suisse in Europe spurred fear among market participants, which took bond yields lower.

During the second half of the reporting period the economic picture changed with a more divergent pattern on both sides of the Atlantic. The US economy continued to thrive with a resilient services sector, solid consumption figures and a big spending government. Europe was much less buoyant with a general weakness in manufacturing. Not only the Fed but also the ECB kept tightening. Bond yields reacted negatively and peaked at the end of September.

Inflation expectations were relatively flat during the first half of the reporting period with a spike in March. Then we saw a huge drop due to the bank collapses in the US. During the second half inflation expectations rose again with a peak (2.66%) in August.

Most of the time the 10-year real German rates oscillated around 0.00% with a sharp increase during the month of September. The 10-year real German rate ended the year at +0.45%, a level we didn't see for many years.

During the whole reporting period, the sub-fund remained fully invested in inflation linked bonds in the eurozone, with an underweight position in duration, especially in the very long end of the curve. Country wise the sub-fund was overweight in Germany and Spain and underweight in France and Italy.

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

Over the reporting period 10-year US yields steadily rose from 3.47% to 4.57% due to persistent inflation and the fact that the Fed continues to raise interest rates to fight inflation. Credit spreads were more or less stable and tightened from 1.38% to 1.21% - in line with the better sentiment in the American stock market.

Investment policy

Throughout the reporting period the sub-fund benefited from the somewhat short duration versus the benchmark. The sub-fund was rebalanced monthly in order to replace less attractive bonds with more attractive ones.

Note: The information in this report represents historical data and is not an indication of future results.

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)
as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR") through the General exclusion Policy and the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through the General exclusion Policy were exposure to controversial weapons ('indicator 14'), exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector ('indicator 4') and Violations of the principles of the UN Global Compact or the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development ("OECD") Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises ('indicator 10').

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through KBC Asset Management Group's the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy were greenhouse gas emissions ('indicator 1'), carbon footprint ('indicator 2'), greenhouse gas intensity of investee companies ('indicator 3'), exposure to fossil fuel companies ('indicator 4') and gender diversity on the board of directors ('indicator 13').

KBC BONDS EMERGING EUROPE

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

The sub-fund invests primarily in bonds and debt instruments issued by borrowers in Eastern and Central Europe ("CEE") or denominated in a currency in circulation in the region.

At the start of the accounting period the sentiment on the financial markets remained very jittery. Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of the winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures remained far above the comfort level of the central banks. The Fed in the US and the ECB continued to hike their policy rates.

As the end of 2022 approached, the outlook started to brighten. European gas prices started to drop dramatically as the flow of Russian gas was quite easily replaced with Norwegian, US and even Australian supplies. And in 2023, negative basis effects from energy and food prices drove headline consumer price indices lower. Bond yields followed suit, dropping strongly in all of the main markets: Czech Republic, Poland, Hungary and Romania. The exception has once again been Turkey, where very high inflation and a rapidly depreciating currency compounded the losses in local bonds.

On the forex markets, the Euro was able to recoup most of the losses in fourth quarter of 2022 and first quarter of 2023 as the Eurozone averted the energy crunch and outright recession. And with improving sentiment towards emerging markets, CEE currencies performed well too, especially the Hungarian Forint and Polish Zloty.

Looking forward, with CEE central banks expected to embark on an interest rate cutting cycle, much will depend on the evolution of inflation

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

At the start of the accounting period the sentiment on the financial markets remained very jittery. Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of the winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures remained far above the comfort level of the central banks. The Fed in the US and the ECB continued to hike their policy rates.

As the end of 2022 approached, the outlook started to brighten. European gas prices started to drop dramatically as the flow of Russian gas was quite easily replaced with Norwegian, US and even Australian supplies. Negative basis effects from energy and food prices drove headline consumer price indices lower. Bond yields followed suit, dropping especially in the US.

Emerging markets bonds held up quite well with China once again acting as cavalier seul. During fourth quarter of 2022 the country remained in a series of lockdowns but mid-January, the authorities suddenly decided to abolish the restrictive measures.

During the first half of the reporting period, bond yields in Europe moved little while US Treasury yields declined modestly.

The economic picture changed in the latter half of the accounting period with a more divergent pattern on both sides of the Atlantic. The US economy continued to thrive with a resilient services sector, solid consumption figures and a big spending government. Europe was much less buoyant with a general weakness in manufacturing. The disappointing Chinese recovery that followed the sudden end of the lockdown, affected European luxury goods and car manufacturers in a big way.

Bonds reacted negatively with higher US Treasury yields pulling yields higher elsewhere. By the end of third quarter of 2023, the US 10-year yield peaked at 4.57%, 75 bps above the level one year ago.

On the forex markets the euro was able to recoup most of the losses in fourth quarter and first quarter of 2023 as sentiment improved. The greenback lost 7% versus the euro. Very few emerging market currencies performed well. Among them, the Mexican and Columbian peso and the Central European forint and zloty performed best, with gains of 5% and more against the euro.

Investment policy

The sub-fund kept an overweight in a selected number of emerging markets with good fundamentals and a decent carry like Mexico, Indonesia and Brazil. Low yielding bond markets like China, Thailand & co were underweight.

In the developed markets the sub-fund remained underweight duration with a modest overweight of USD bonds. The weight of the high yielding British market was increased while the low yielding Swiss bond positions were sold completely.

KBC BONDS HIGH INTEREST RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR").

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account through the general exclusion policy for conventional funds and Responsible Investing funds and the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds. In addition, the principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

More information on the principal adverse impact indicators taken into account can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS HIGH INTEREST RESPONSIBLE INVESTING'.

The sub-fund complies with the transparency obligations of Article 11(1) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on sustainability disclosure in the financial services sector ("SFDR"). More information on how the sub-fund promoted environmental and social characteristics can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS HIGH INTEREST RESPONSIBLE INVESTING' of this Annual Report. This annex refers specifically to the periodic reports for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2 a of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

KBC BONDS HIGH INTEREST RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Taxonomy related information (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund does not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("Taxonomy aligned investments"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in Taxonomy aligned investments, it cannot be excluded that the sub-fund does contain Taxonomy aligned investments.

The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was set at 30th September 2023. Given limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, IVESAM N.V. determined that insufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was therefore set at 0%.

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

At the start of the reporting period sentiment on the financial markets remained very nervous. Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures were pushed up by the aftermath of the covid-period and by the high energy prices. Headline inflation peaked in Europe at 10.6% in October 2022. Core inflation (without the bulk of the effects of the higher energy prices) would even continue to rise till March 2023 where it peaked at a level of 5.7%. So they remained far above the comfort level of the central banks, that want to see a decline towards the target level of 2%. The Fed in the US had been hiking its fed fund target policy rate since March 2022. In the final quarter it would add another 1.25% to it and raise it to a level of 4.5%. The Fed also started reducing its balance sheet as it no longer buys government bonds but also no longer reinvest the maturing bonds it holds (Quantitative Tightening or QT).

The ECB, that had raised its policy rates only since July 2022, also continued its hiking and reducing its balance sheet. In the fourth quarter of 2022 it would increase the deposit rate with another 1.25% to a level of 2.0% on 12th December 2022. As markets became more and more convinced that the Central banks were really focussing on the fight against inflation, this pushed up the 10-year German Government yields by 45 bps in fourth quarter of 2022. As 2-year German yields rose by 98 bps, the yield curve flattened dramatically. Short end yields ended the calendar year at 2.71%, while 10-year yields stood at 2.55%, an inverted yield curve. It indicates that monetary policy is getting increasingly restrictive. It is also an indicator of an approaching downturn or recession. But up to now this recession failed to realise, especially in the US where the labour market is very resilient. This is pushing the advent of rate cuts, expected when the recession would hit, further out in time and thus increasing long term yields.

After a brief decline in January 2023, the yields continued their increase till the start of March. In March a minor financial crisis erupted in the US. Three "regional" banks, still part of the largest 25 banks of the US, failed as they were hit by the higher bond yields: covid era deposits were invested in long term bonds and these positions gave rise to large capital losses as yields rose. In the Europe, the Swiss System bank Credit Suisse also got into trouble. But the Central Banks did not cut policy rates, on the contrary they further increased these even in March. They reassured financial markets by providing liquidity and arranging the takeover of the troubled banks. As Inflation was sticky, Central banks continued their policy tightening in the second quarter of 2023.

Still as the end of our reporting period approached, the end of the hiking cycle seems to be near. The Fed latest raised its target rate in June to 5.5% and has paused since. The ECB raised its policy rates for the last time in September, with the deposit rate standing at 4%. Chair Lagarde stated that the focus has shifted now from raising rates to keeping them high for longer, till inflation is under control. The end of the hiking cycle however has failed to stabilize long term rates. The German 10-year government bond yield stood at 2.84% end of September. An increase 36 bps this year of which 24 bps since the ECB decision on 14th September. The market is no longer factoring in an increase in the policy rates but does not count one rate cut either in the near future as the US economy seems strong and the inflation is cooling too slowly. Investors are also demanding a positive term premium for holding longer term government debt to compensate for the uncertainty and high volatility in the market and for the deterioration of government finances. The term premium had turned negative in previous years as the central banks were buying bonds at any price and suppressing yields.

Investment policy

The average duration of the KBC bond strategy portfolio was always between 6 and 8 years. As the yields increased during the reporting period and the end of the hiking cycle came close, we increased the duration relative to the benchmark to a neutral duration stance. In fourth quarter of 2022 we sold all our out-of-bench Inflation Linked Bond positions. We will be trading the interest rate sensitivity of the portfolio in a very dynamic way, trying to surf the waves of rising and falling interest rates in an expected yield range between 2.40% and 3.00% for the German 10-year yield. There will be also further focus on relative value opportunities in country allocation and yield curves. In December 2022 we initiated an underweight position in Italian and Spanish debt, while overweighting German, Dutch and Austrian bonds. But this was closed in July 2023.

The investment policy of the sub-fund is always directed at adjusting the combined strategy of the entire strategy bond portfolio in the required direction. The average maturity of the Government bond portfolio within the strategy was always between 6 and 8 years. The duration of the fund's eurozone government bond position was continuously adjusted to reach this target. In September 2023 as the duration of the strategy is at 100% of the benchmark, we have a duration of 115% of the benchmark to reach that goal. As over the short term the rates are expected to stay near the current levels, we will increase duration if they rise to fast and lower duration as they drop too much.

There will be also further focus on relative value opportunities in country allocation and yield curves. And we also keep searching for out of bench positions that can yield a profit. Since early April 2023, when the US yield curve was strongly inverse, we opened a position to profit from the steepening of US yield curve, going long in the 10-year end and short in the 2-year end of the curve.

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)
as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR") through the General exclusion Policy and the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through the General exclusion Policy were exposure to controversial weapons ('indicator 14'), exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector ('indicator 4') and Violations of the principles of the UN Global Compact or the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development ("OECD") Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises ('indicator 10').

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability taken into account through KBC Asset Management Group's the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy were greenhouse gas emissions ('indicator 1'), carbon footprint ('indicator 2'), greenhouse gas intensity of investee companies ('indicator 3'), exposure to fossil fuel companies ('indicator 4') and gender diversity on the board of directors ('indicator 13').

Investment policy and outlook

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

At the start of the reporting period sentiment on the financial markets remained very nervous. Europe was still threatened by a shortage of gas ahead of winter as the fallout from the Russian invasion in Ukraine continued. Both in Europe and the US, inflation figures were pushed up by the aftermath of the covid-period and by the high energy prices. Headline inflation peaked in Europe at 10.6% in October 2022. Core inflation (without the bulk of the effects of the higher energy prices) would even continue to rise till March 2023 where it peaked at a level of 5.7%. So they remained far above the comfort level of the central banks, that want to see a decline towards the target level of 2%. The Fed in the US had been hiking its fed fund target policy rate since March 2022. In the final quarter it would add another 1.25% to it and raise it to a level of 4.5%. The Fed also started reducing its balance sheet as it no longer buys government bonds but also no longer reinvest the maturing bonds it holds (Quantitative Tightening or QT).

The ECB, that had raised its policy rates only since July 2022, also continued its hiking and reducing its balance sheet. In the fourth quarter of 2022 it would increase the deposit rate with another 1.25% to a level of 2.0% on 12th December 2022. As markets became more and more convinced that the Central banks were really focussing on the fight against inflation, this pushed up the 10-year German Government yields by 45 bps in 22Q4. As 2-year German yields rose by 98 bps, the yield curve flattened dramatically. Short end yields ended the calendar year at 2.71%, while 10-year yields stood at 2.55%. This is what professionals refer to as an 'inverse yield curve', which indicates that monetary policy is getting increasingly restrictive. It is also an indicator of an approaching downturn or recession. But up to now this recession failed to realise, especially in the US where the labour market is very resilient. This is pushing the advent of rate cuts, expected when the recession would hit, further out in time and thus increasing long term yields.

After a brief decline in January 2023, the yields continued their increase till the start of March. In March a minor financial crisis erupted in the US. Three "regional" banks, still part of the largest 25 banks of the US, failed as they were hit by the higher bond yields: covid era deposits were invested in long term bonds and this position gave rise to large capital losses as yields rose. In Europe, the Swiss System bank Credit Suisse also got into trouble. But the Central Banks did not cut policy rates, on the contrary they further increased these even in March. They reassured financial markets by providing liquidity and arranging the takeover of the troubled banks. As Inflation was sticky, Central banks continued their policy tightening in the second quarter of 2023.

Still as the end of our reporting period approached; the end of the hiking cycle seems to be near. The Fed latest raised its target rate in June to 5.5% and has paused since. The ECB raised its policy rates for the last time in September, with the deposit rate standing at 4%. Chair Lagarde stated that the focus has shifted now from raising rates to keeping them high for longer, till inflation is under control. The end of the hiking cycle however has failed to stabilize long term rates. The German 10-year government bond yield stood at 2.84% end of September. An increase 36 bps this year of which 24 bps since the ECB decision on 14th September. The market is no longer factoring in an increase in the policy rates but does not count on a rate cut either in the near future as the US economy seems strong and the inflation is cooling too slow. Investors are also demanding again a positive term premium for holding longer term government debt to compensate for the uncertainty and high volatility in the market and for the deterioration of government finances. The term premium had turned negative in previous years as the central banks were buying bonds at any price and suppressing yields.

Investment policy

The average duration of the KBC bond strategy portfolio was always between 6 and 8 years. As the yields increased during the reporting period and the end of the hiking cycle came close, we increased the duration relative to the benchmark to a neutral duration stance, in fourth quarter of 2022 we sold all our out-of-bench Inflation Linked Bond positions. We will be trading the interest rate sensitivity of the portfolio in a very dynamic way, trying to surf the waves of rising and falling interest rates in an expected yield range between 2.40% and 3.00% for the German 10-year yield. There will be also further focus on relative value opportunities in country allocation and yield curves. In December 2022 we initiated an underweight position in Italian and Spanish debt, while overweighing German, Dutch and Austrian bonds. But this was closed in July 2023.

The investment policy of the sub-fund is always directed at adjusting the combined strategy of the entire strategy bond portfolio in the required direction. The average maturity of the Government bond portfolio within the strategy was always between 6 and 8 years. The duration of the sub-fund's eurozone government bond position was continuously adjusted to reach this target. In September 2023 as the duration of the strategy is at 100% of the benchmark, we have a duration of 95% of the benchmark in order to reach that goal. As over the short term the rates are expected to stay near the current levels, we will increase duration if they rise to fast and lower duration as they drop too much.

There will be also further focus on relative value opportunities in country allocation and yield curves. And we also keep searching for out of bench positions that can yield a profit.

from 1st October 2022 to 30th September 2023

As we have also done in the reporting period. Already at the start of the reporting period, we had a position in a basket of high yielding non-eurozone government bonds (in ZAR, NOK and CZK), which we closed mid of March 2023. In second half of June 2023, the spread between the 10-year UK bond yield and the 10-year German bond yield went above 200 bps, for the first time since the UK government crisis of September 2022. We took a position, to profit from the expected decline in this spread, till the end of July 2023.

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR").

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account through the general exclusion policy for conventional funds and Responsible Investing funds and the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds. In addition, the principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

More information on the principal adverse impact indicators taken into account can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC ACCENTS RESPONSIBLE INVESTING'.

The sub-fund complies with the transparency obligations of Article 11(1) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on sustainability disclosure in the financial services sector ("SFDR"). More information on how the sub-fund promoted environmental and social characteristics can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC ACCENTS RESPONSIBLE INVESTING' of this Annual Report. This annex refers specifically to the periodic reports for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2 a of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

Taxonomy related information (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund does not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("Taxonomy aligned investments"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in Taxonomy aligned investments, it cannot be excluded that the sub-fund does contain Taxonomy aligned investments.

The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was set at 30th September 2023. Given limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, IVESAM N.V. determined that insufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was therefore set at 0%.

KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 75/25 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR").

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account through the general exclusion policy for conventional funds and Responsible Investing funds and the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds. In addition, the principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

More information on the principal adverse impact indicators taken into account can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 75/25 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING'.

The sub-fund complies with the transparency obligations of Article 11(1) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on sustainability disclosure in the financial services sector ("SFDR"). More information on how the sub-fund promoted environmental and social characteristics can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 75/25 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING' of this Annual Report. This annex refers specifically to the periodic reports for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2 a of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 75/25 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Taxonomy related information (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund does not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("Taxonomy aligned investments"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in Taxonomy aligned investments, it cannot be excluded that the sub-fund does contain Taxonomy aligned investments.

The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was set at 30th September 2023. Given limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, IVESAM N.V. determined that insufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was therefore set at 0%.

KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 50/50 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR").

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account through the general exclusion policy for conventional funds and Responsible Investing funds and the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds. In addition, the principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

More information on the principal adverse impact indicators taken into account can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 50/50 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING'.

The sub-fund complies with the transparency obligations of Article 11(1) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on sustainability disclosure in the financial services sector ("SFDR"). More information on how the sub-fund promoted environmental and social characteristics can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 50/50 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING' of this Annual Report. This annex refers specifically to the periodic reports for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2 a of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 50/50 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Taxonomy related information (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund does not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("Taxonomy aligned investments"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in Taxonomy aligned investments, it cannot be excluded that the sub-fund does contain Taxonomy aligned investments.

The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was set at 30th September 2023. Given limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, IVESAM N.V. determined that insufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was therefore set at 0%.

KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 25/75 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Transparency of adverse sustainability impacts (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund took into account the principal adverse impacts of its investment decisions on sustainability factors ("PAI"), as described in the Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on Sustainability Disclosures in the Financial Services Sector ("SFDR").

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account through the general exclusion policy for conventional funds and Responsible Investing funds and the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds. In addition, the principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy.

More information on the principal adverse impact indicators taken into account can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 25/75 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING'.

The sub-fund complies with the transparency obligations of Article 11(1) of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 27th November 2019 on sustainability disclosure in the financial services sector ("SFDR"). More information on how the sub-fund promoted environmental and social characteristics can be found in the 'Annex for KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 25/75 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING' of this Annual Report. This annex refers specifically to the periodic reports for the financial products referred to in Article 8, paragraphs 1, 2 and 2 a of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 and Article 6, first paragraph, of Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

KBC BONDS STRATEGIC BROAD 25/75 RESPONSIBLE INVESTING

Taxonomy related information (unaudited)

as at 30th September 2023

The sub-fund does not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("Taxonomy aligned investments"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in Taxonomy aligned investments, it cannot be excluded that the sub-fund does contain Taxonomy aligned investments.

The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was set at 30th September 2023. Given limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, IVESAM N.V. determined that insufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in Taxonomy aligned investments was therefore set at 0%.

Notes to the financial statements as at 30th September 2023

Note 1 - Significant accounting policies

a) Presentation of the financial statements

The financial statements of the SICAV are established in accordance with the legal and regulatory requirements in force and with generally accepted accounting principles in Luxembourg concerning Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities.

b) Valuation of assets

- 1) The value of cash in hand, bills and demand notes payable and accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, received dividends and interest declared or accrued but not yet received is formed by the nominal value of such assets, unless it appears unlikely that the full value can be received at maturity, in which case the value will be determined by making such deduction as the Board of Directors of the SICAV considers appropriate to reflect the fair value thereof.
- 2) The value of all transferable securities and money market instruments traded or listed on a stock exchange or on another regulated market is determined on the basis of the last available price unless this price is not representative.
- 3) The value of transferable securities and money market instruments in portfolio on the valuation day that are not traded or listed on a stock exchange or other regulated market, and of securities and money market instruments traded or listed on a stock exchange or other regulated market where the price determined according to the stipulations of the above indent is not representative of the fair value of such transferable securities and money market instruments, will be determined on the basis of the foreseeable sale price, as estimated by the Board of Directors of the SICAV prudently and in good faith.
- 4) The money market instruments with an average residual term to maturity of less than one year are valued conservatively by using mark-to-model. The model accurately estimates the intrinsic value of the instrument based on all of the appropriate key factors. More specifically, the model includes interest rate risk and credit risk (constant spreads) for commercial papers and interest rate risk for term deposits.
- 5) The "commercial papers" are valued at acquisition cost, the difference between the nominal and the acquisition cost is recognised as interest receivable in proportion to the period of detention passed against the total length of the instrument. In case of significant changes of market conditions, the valuation of these instruments is adjusted to reflect the probable realisation value.
- 6) The value of the shares or units held in open-ended funds is based on the last net asset value available on valuation day.
- 7) If, as a result of special circumstances or features, the valuation based on the rules set out above proves to be impracticable or inaccurate, other generally accepted, verifiable valuation criteria are applied to obtain a fair value. These criteria shall be determined prudently and in good faith by the Board of Directors of the SICAV based on information or other market data. In these circumstances, the valuation of these assets is established on the basis of mathematical or financial models or other alternative methods of valuation to reflect in the financial statements their fair value at valuation date.

c) Acquisition cost of securities in the portfolio

The acquisition cost of the securities held by each sub-fund that are denominated in currencies other than the reference currency of the sub-fund is converted into this currency at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of purchase.

d) Net realised gain/(loss) on sales of securities portfolio

The realised gain or loss on sales of securities portfolio is calculated on the basis of the average acquisition cost.

e) Investment portfolio income

Interest income accrued and payable are recorded, net of any withholding tax.

A part of the interest income consist of the interest income linked to treasury inflation-protected securities.

Pursuant to the legislation and regulations in force, the SICAV is subject to an annual subscription duty ("taxe d'abonnement") of 0.05% which is payable quarterly and calculated on the basis of the net assets of each sub-fund on the last day of each quarter.

Pursuant to Article 175 (a) of the 2010 Law, the net assets invested in investment funds already subject to the "taxe d'abonnement" are exempt from this tax.

The sub-categories "Institutional Shares", "Institutional Shares EUR", "Institutional B Shares" and "Institutional F Shares" benefit from the reduced tax of 0.01% in conformity with Article 174 (2) of the amended 2010 Law.

Note 10 - Belgian subscription tax

The Belgian regulation imposes to Undertakings for Collective Investment which were authorised to market their shares publicly in Belgium, the payment of an annual tax.

As from 1st January 2020, the relevant provisions regarding the annual tax on collective investments vehicles have been transferred from the Succession Duties Code (Book IIbis, Articles 161 to 162/1) to the Code of miscellaneous duties and taxes (Book II, Title XII, Articles 201/20 to 201/28).

This tax amounts to 0.0925% with exception of sub-categories "Institutional Shares", "Institutional Shares EUR", "Institutional B Shares" and "Institutional F Shares" for which this tax amounted to 0.01% on the total of the net sums distributed in Belgium at 31st December of the previous year, starting from their registration with the "Financial Services and Markets Authority" ("FSMA").

The SICAV is required to pay this tax by 31st March of each year at the latest.

This tax is recorded in the caption "Other expenses and taxes" in the statement of operations and other changes in net assets.

Note 11 - Total Expense Ratio ("TER")

The TER disclosed under "Statistical information" of this report is calculated in accordance with the "Guidelines on the calculation and disclosure of the TER of collective investment schemes" issued by the Swiss Funds & Asset Management Association "SFAMA" on 16th May 2008 as modified on 20th April 2015.

Note 17 - Events

Since 24th February 2022, daily monitoring of operational processes and in particular of Russian and Ukrainian positions has been activated. In addition, the Investment Committee was convened on 25th and 28th February 2022, and the decision was made to reduce positions to the maximum extent possible.

However, regarding the sub-funds in scope, there is no direct exposure to Russian and/or Ukrainian positions, except for the sub-fund KBC BONDS EMERGING EUROPE. The main risk related to the Russian-Ukrainian conflict is market and performance risks, as we observe increased volatility in global financial markets. Obviously, countries, sectors and companies more closely linked to the conflict are more heavily impacted than others.

There is unrealised loss on Russian federal bonds amounted to EUR 3,067,596.97 on KBC BONDS EMERGING EUROPE sub-fund as of 30th September 2023, which represents 7.82% of total net assets.

Following the full redemption of its shares, the KBC BONDS STRATEGIC EMERGING OPPORTUNITIES sub-fund has become inactive since 11th October 2021 and has not been reactivated since then. On 28th March 2023 the details of the sub-fund were removed from the Prospectus of the SICAV, as decided by the Board of Directors.

The Management Company implemented the following sub-fund's name changes starting from 12th June 2023:

The benchmark of KBC BONDS CONVERTIBLES has been renamed from "Thomson Reuters Convertible Bond Global Focus EUR Index" to "Refinitiv Global Focus Convertible Bonds EUR Index" and the Prospectus will be amended to reflect this. This change has no impact on the way the sub-fund is currently being managed. Investors were informed about this change on 12th June 2023.

There were no other events affecting the SICAV during the year ended 30th September 2023.

Note 18 - Subsequent events

Until 30th September 2023, IVESAM N.V., the Management Company authorised in Belgium and supervised by the Belgian Financial Services and Markets Authority ("FSMA"), was appointed as the Management Company of the SICAV. On 1st October 2023, IVESAM N.V. has merged into its sole shareholder, KBC Asset Management N.V., also the management company authorised in Belgium and supervised by the Belgian FSMA. As from this date, KBC Asset Management N.V. has become the Management Company of the SICAV.

The merger has not had any impact on the management activities performed by the Management Company for the SICAV nor on the delegation of its functions. All sub-funds whose investment portfolio was managed by IVESAM N.V. are being now managed by its legal successor, KBC Asset Management N.V. The merger has also not caused any additional costs to the shareholders.

The shareholders have been informed of this change via the shareholder letter dated 28th September 2023.

The following sub-funds were launched after financial year end:

Environmental and/or social characteristics

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, by preferring of governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments with a better ESG score;

- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by including governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The concrete objectives of the sub-fund are the following:

	Objectif
Target ESG score	5% above the benchmark index of global bonds (composed of the following benchmark index figures: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR)
Carbon intensity target	10% above the benchmark index of global bonds (composed of the following benchmark index figures: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR)
UN Sustainable Development Goals	Minimum 35% invested in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, including bonds financing green and/or social projects
Target for bonds financing green and/or social projects	Minimum 10% of bonds issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments in which investments are made, should qualify as bonds financing green and/or social projects
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments for the sub-fund	35%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with a social objective	5%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU taxonomy	1%

Other specific objectives	If investments are to be made in instruments issued by corporate issuers, those issuers must meet the negative selection criteria set out in the section "How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?".

The sub-fund pursued (directly or indirectly) these objectives based on a dualistic approach: the negative screening and the positive selection methodology. This approach was gradually implemented in the portfolio as of 9 September 2022. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in the section 'Did this financial product have a sustainable investment objective?' only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. The sub-fund invested 93.25% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 1.36% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics.

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund. For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, the described reference portfolio of global government bonds was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

● How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The sub-fund has reached all targets set out under the heading 'To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?' of this Annex.

Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the performance of the sustainability indicators only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

● ...and compared to previous periods?

Not applicable.

● What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The sub-fund promoted a combination of environmental and social characteristics and, even though it didn't have sustainable investments as an objective, the sub-fund invested 93.25% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

(1) UN Sustainable Development Goals

To support sustainable development, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

Governments were assessed on the five pillars described in the ESG score, which contain indicators that can be linked to the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals. If a government scored sufficiently well for one of these pillars and not significantly badly for the others, the bonds of that government and its sub-governments and agencies were considered instruments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

(2) Bonds financing green and/or social projects

To encourage the transition to a more sustainable world, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in bonds financing green and/or social projects (that are aligned with the International Capital Market Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and Social Bond Principles on the Use of Proceeds). Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

The sustainable investments made by the sub-fund did not cause significant harm to a sustainable investment objective through the negative screening. The sub-fund took into account the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 through the negative screening.

The negative screening amounts to the sub-fund's a priori exclusion of issuers from the Responsible Investment universe which fell foul the exclusion policies. The application of these policies meant that issuers involved in countries that do not comply with sustainability principles, have a poor ESG score or are exposed to controversial regimes were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

— — — How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

The sub-fund did not invest in instruments issued by companies. Through the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account for investments in instruments issued by countries, by excluding countries in the worst 10% according to the ESG score model, and by excluding countries that do not comply with sustainability principles and are exposed to controversial regimes.

In addition, through the positive selection methodology on carbon intensity and the exclusions in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investment funds, the following indicators of principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were also considered for all investments of this sub-fund:

- Indicator 15: GHG intensity of investee countries was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for sovereign related investments.

- Indicator 16: Investee countries subject to social violations was taken into account as the subfund did not invest in (i) countries not complying with sustainability principles, and (ii) countries exposed to controversial regimes. More information can be found in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds.

A complete overview of the indicators of principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors that the sub-fund can take into account can be found in Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288.

— — — Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable as the sub-fund did not invest in instruments issued by companies.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account by the exclusion policies applied. More information can be found in the section "How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?" of this Annex. In addition, the principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through Ivesam SA's proxy voting and engagement policies.

What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. On 30 September 2023, the proportion of sustainable investments was 93.25%.

● What was the asset allocation?

The portfolio of the sub-fund was invested in accordance with the investment strategy as set out in section 1.11.1. of the prospectus.

Asset allocation describes the share of investments in specific assets.

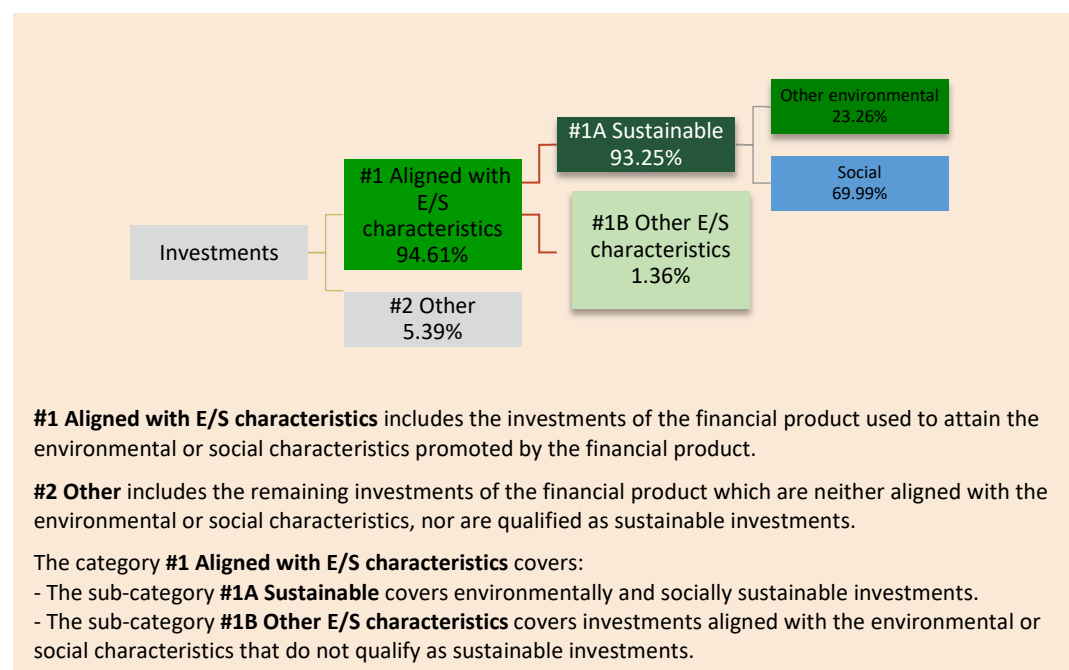

Within the categories of eligible assets as described in section 1.11.1. of the prospectus, the sub-fund invested 94.61% in assets that promote environmental or social characteristics and 5.39% in other investments. More information on what investments were included under “other investments”, can be found in the section ‘What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?’ of this Annex.

The sub-fund invested 93.25% of the assets in ‘sustainable investments’ as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 1.36% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics. 23.26% of the sustainable investments are environmentally sustainable investments which were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy and 69.99% are socially sustainable investments.

The sustainable investments are equal to the sum of investments that are considered "sustainable" based on the published methodology on contributing to the achievement of the UN Sustainable Development Goals, plus investments in bonds that can be considered as bonds to finance green and/or social projects.

More information can be found at the section 'What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?' of this Annex.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

● In which economic sectors were the investments made?

On 30/09/2023 the investments were made in the following sectors:

Sector	%Assets
Governments	94.65
Various	5.35

Sectors and sub-sectors of the economy that derive revenues from exploration, mining, extraction, production, processing, storage, refining or distribution, including transportation, storage and trade of fossil fuels are part of the exclusion policy. Consequently, the sub-fund did not invest in these sectors and sub-sectors. However, an exception is foreseen in the policy for investments in bonds financing green projects of these companies, facilitating the energy transition. As a result, it is possible that for the proportion of the investments invested into bonds financing green projects, there is exposure in these sectors.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The percentage invested in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy on 30 September 2023 is 0%.

● Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

- Yes:
 - In fossil gas
 - In nuclear energy
- No

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

¹ Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change (“climate change mitigation”) and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

● What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

Not applicable.

● How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

At the date of this annual report, the actual values are only available for the end of September 2023. These numbers are included in the table above.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2022. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 23.26%.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

This percentage can be explained in part by the fact that the sub-fund did not invest in instruments issued by companies and the fact that there is no appropriate methodology to determine the Taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of socially sustainable investments was: 69.99%.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

There were technical items such as cash. The sub-fund held or invested in these types of assets to achieve investment objectives, to diversify the portfolio, for liquidity management purposes and to hedge risks.

For investments included under “#2 Other”, there are no environmental or social safeguards. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, by preferring of governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments with a better ESG score;
- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by including governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The negative screening amounts to the sub-fund's a priori exclusion of issuers from the Responsible Investment universe which fell foul the exclusion policies. The application of these policies meant that issuers involved in countries that do not comply with sustainability principles, have a poor ESG score or are exposed to controversial regimes were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe.

These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board. Ivesam SA also applied the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy for the issuers invested in by the sub-fund.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or government-linked agencies, the reference portfolio of global government bonds (composed of the following benchmarks: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR) was used as a basis of comparison to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

Environmental and/or social characteristics

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of issuers (companies, governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments), by preferring issuers with a better ESG score;

- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring issuers with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The concrete objectives of the sub-fund are the following:

	Objectif
Instruments issued by corporates
Target ESG score	10% better than target allocation as described under the title “KBC Bonds Strategic Accents Responsible Investing” of the prospectus.
Carbon intensity target	Pathway to 50% reduction by 2030 based on target allocation as described in the prospectus of end 2019. An immediate 30% reduction is introduced for 2019, followed by a 3% reduction each year.
UN Sustainable Development Goals	Minimum 60% of investments in instruments issued by corporates should contribute to UN Sustainable Development Goals, including the green, social & sustainability bonds within the corporate bonds part.
Target for bonds financing green and/or social projects	Minimum 10% of corporate bonds in which investments are made, should qualify as bonds financing green and/or social projects.
Instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments
Target ESG score	10% above the benchmark index of global bonds (composed of the following benchmark index figures: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR)

UN Sustainable Development Goals	Minimum 60% invested in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, including bonds financing green and/or social projects

Target for bonds financing green and/or social projects	Minimum 10% of bonds issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments in which investments are made,, should qualify as bonds financing green and/or social projects
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments for the sub-fund	30%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with a social objective	5%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU taxonomy	1%
Other specific objectives	Not applicable

The sub-fund pursued (directly or indirectly) these objectives based on a dualistic approach: the negative screening and the positive selection methodology. This approach was gradually implemented in the portfolio, as of 9 September 2022. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in the section ‘Did this financial product have a sustainable investment objective?’ only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. The sub-fund invested 96.41% of the assets in ‘sustainable investments’ as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 0% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics.

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, the described reference portfolio of global government bonds was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

● How did the sustainability indicators perform?

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

The sub-fund has reached all targets set out under the heading ‘To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?’ of this Annex. As the sub-fund did not invest in instruments issued by corporates during the financial year, the targets set out for ‘instruments issued by corporates’ under this heading are not relevant for this reporting period.

Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the performance of the sustainability indicators only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

● ...and compared to previous periods?

Not applicable.

● What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The sub-fund promoted a combination of environmental and social characteristics and, even though it didn't have sustainable investments as an objective, the sub-fund invested 96.41% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

(1) UN Sustainable Development Goals

To support sustainable development, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals (including both social and environmental objectives).

Governments were assessed on the five pillars described in the ESG score, which contain indicators that can be linked to the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals. If a government scored sufficiently well for one of these pillars and not significantly badly for the others, the bonds of that government and its sub-governments and agencies were considered instruments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

(2) Bonds financing green and/or social projects

To encourage the transition to a more sustainable world, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in bonds financing green and/or social projects (that are aligned with the International Capital Market Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and Social Bond Principles on the Use of Proceeds). Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

● How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

The sustainable investments made by the sub-fund did not cause significant harm to the sustainable investment objective through the negative screening. The sub-fund took into account the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 through the negative screening.

The negative screening amounts to the sub-fund's a priori exclusion of issuers from the Responsible Investment universe which fell foul the exclusion policies. The application of these policies meant that issuers involved in countries that do not comply with sustainability principles, have a poor ESG score or are exposed to controversial regimes were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

— — — How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

The sub-fund did not invest in instruments issued by companies. Through the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account for investments in instruments issued by countries, by excluding countries in the worst 10% according to the ESG score model, and by excluding countries that do not comply with sustainability principles and are exposed to controversial regimes.

In addition, through the positive selection methodology on carbon intensity and the exclusions in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investment funds, the following indicators of principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were also considered for all investments of this sub-fund:

- Indicator 15: GHG intensity of investee countries was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for sovereign related investments.

- Indicator 16: Investee countries subject to social violations was taken into account as the subfund did not invest in (i) countries not complying with sustainability principles, and (ii) countries exposed to controversial regimes. More information can be found in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds.

A complete overview of the indicators of principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors that the sub-fund can take into account can be found in Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288.

— — — Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Not applicable as the sub-fund did not invest in instruments issued by companies.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account by the exclusion policies applied. More information can be found in the section "How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?" of this Annex. In addition, the principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through Ivesam SA's proxy voting and engagement policies.

What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. On 30 September 2023, the proportion of sustainable investments was 96.41%.

● What was the asset allocation?

The portfolio of the sub-fund was invested in accordance with the investment strategy as set out in section 1.15.1. of the prospectus.

Within the categories of eligible assets as described in section 1.15.1. of the prospectus, the sub-fund invested 96.41% in assets that promote environmental or social characteristics and 3.59% in other investments. More information on what investments were included under “other investments”, can be found in the section ‘What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?’ of this Annex.

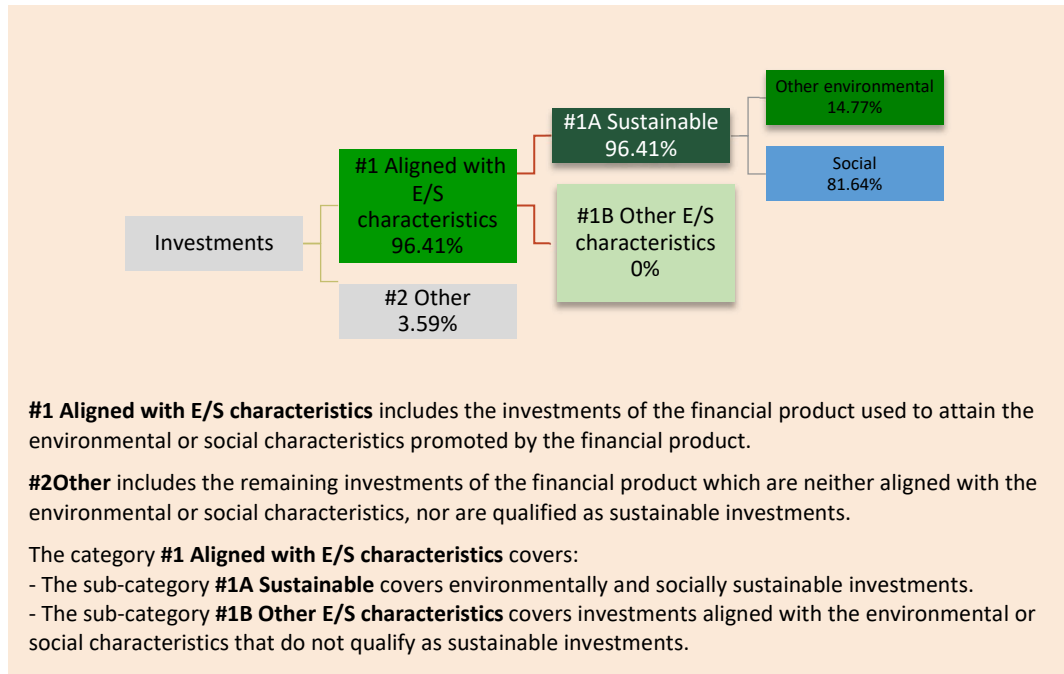

The sub-fund invested 96.41% of the assets in ‘sustainable investments’ as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 0% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics. 14.77% of the sustainable investments are environmentally sustainable investments which were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy and 81.64% are socially sustainable investments.

The sustainable investments are equal to the sum of investments that are considered "sustainable" based on the published methodology on contributing to the achievement of the UN Sustainable Development Goals, plus investments in bonds that can be considered as bonds to finance green and/or social projects plus instruments that are considered "sustainable" by the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

More information can be found at the section 'What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?' of this Annex.

Asset allocation describes the share of investments in specific assets.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

● In which economic sectors were the investments made?

On 30/09/2023 the investments were made in the following sectors:

Sector	%Assets
Governments	96.33%
Various	3.67%

Sectors and sub-sectors of the economy that derive revenues from exploration, mining, extraction, production, processing, storage, refining or distribution, including transportation, storage and trade of fossil fuels are part of the exclusion policy. Consequently, the sub-fund did not invest in these sectors and sub-sectors. However, an exception is foreseen in the policy for investments in bonds financing green projects of these companies, facilitating the energy transition. As a result, it is possible that for the proportion of the investments invested into bonds financing green projects, there is exposure in these sectors.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The percentage invested in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy on 30 September 2023 is 0%.

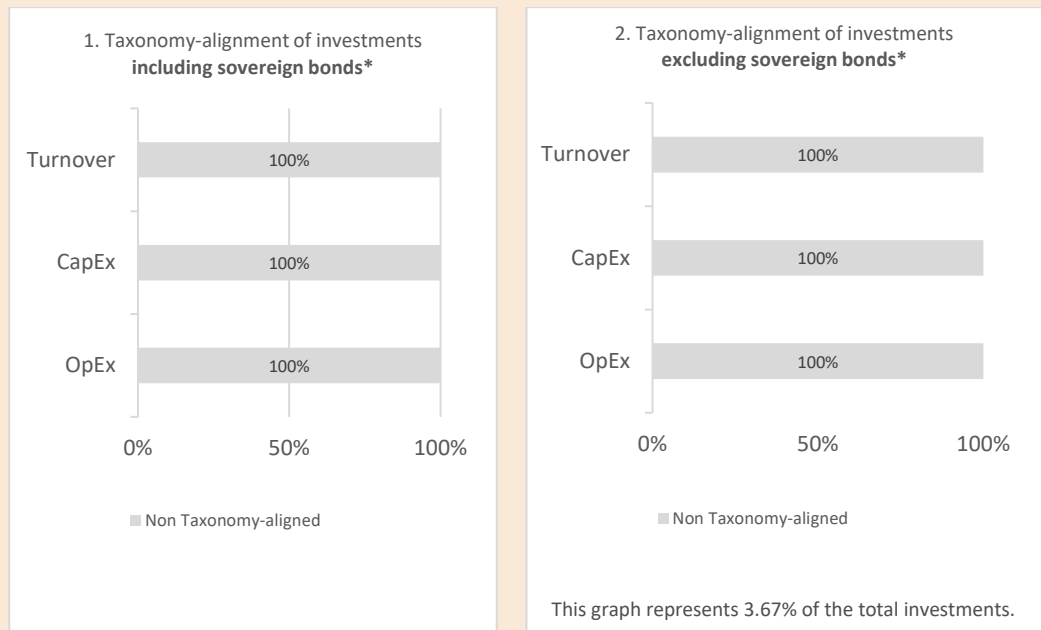

● Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

- Yes:
 - In fossil gas
 - In nuclear energy
- No

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.*

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

¹ Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

● What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

Not applicable.

● How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

At the date of this annual report, the actual values are only available for the end of September 2023. These numbers are included in the table above.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2022. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 14.77%.

This percentage can be explained in part by the fact that the sub-fund did not invest in instruments issued by companies and the fact that there is no appropriate methodology to determine the Taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of socially sustainable investments was: 81.64%.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

There were technical items such as cash. The sub-fund held or invested in these types of assets to achieve investment objectives, to diversify the portfolio, for liquidity management purposes and to hedge risks.

For investments included under “#2 Other”, there are no environmental or social safeguards. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30

September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of issuers, by preferring issuers with a better ESG score;
- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring issuers with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by including issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The negative screening amounts to the sub-fund's a priori exclusion of issuers from the Responsible Investment universe which fell foul the exclusion policies. The application of these policies meant that issuers involved in countries that do not comply with sustainability principles, have a poor ESG score or are exposed to controversial regimes were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe.

These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board. Ivesam SA also applied the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy for the issuers in which the sub-fund invested..

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or government-linked agencies, the reference portfolio of global government bonds (composed of the following benchmarks: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR) is used as a basis of comparison to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU taxonomy	1%
Other specific objectives	Not applicable

The sub-fund pursued (directly or indirectly) these objectives based on a dualistic approach: the negative screening and the positive selection methodology. This approach was gradually implemented in the portfolio, as of 9 September 2022. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in the section 'Did this financial product have a sustainable investment objective?' only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. The sub-fund invested 80.96% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 18.27% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics.

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instrument issued by companies, the benchmark IHS Markit iBoxx Euro Corporates was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund. For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, the described reference portfolio of global government bonds was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

● How did the sustainability indicators perform?

(1) UN Sustainable Development Goals

To support sustainable development, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals (including both social and environmental objectives).

Instruments of companies that are aligned with at least one of the 15 first UN Sustainable Development Goals, while not being misaligned with any of these UN Sustainable Development Goals, were designated as 'sustainable investments'.

In addition, the Responsible Investing Advisory Board can award the 'sustainable development' label to instruments of companies.

Governments were assessed on the five pillars described in the ESG score, which contain indicators that can be linked to the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals. If a government scored sufficiently well for one of these pillars and not significantly badly for the others, the bonds of that government and its sub-governments and agencies were considered instruments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

(2) Bonds financing green and/or social projects

To encourage the transition to a more sustainable world, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in bonds financing green and/or social projects (that are aligned with the International Capital Market Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and Social Bond Principles on the Use of Proceeds). Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

● How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

The sustainable investments made by the sub-fund did not cause significant harm to the sustainable investment objective through the negative screening. The sub-fund took into account the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 through the negative screening.

The negative screening amounts to the sub-fund's a priori exclusion of issuers from the Responsible Investment universe which fell foul the exclusion policies. The application of these policies meant that issuers involved in activities such as fossil fuels, the tobacco industry, weapons, gambling and adult entertainment were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. Investments in financial instruments linked to livestock and food prices were also excluded, and companies active in the palm oil industry were subject to strict criteria. Companies that derive at least 5% of their income from production or 10% of their income from the sale of fur or special leather were excluded. The negative screening also ensured that issuers based in countries that encourage unfair tax practices, that seriously violate basic environmental, social or good governance principles (through normative screening and through a poor ESG risk score) as well as countries not meeting the sustainability principles and controversial regimes were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Through the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds and, in particular, the normative screening and ESG risk assessment, all indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account for instruments issued by companies. The sub-fund did not invest in companies that seriously violate the principles of the United Nations Global Compact and the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, and any companies involved in serious controversies related to environmental, social or good governance issues were also excluded. Also excluded were companies that deviate significantly (score of -10) from any of the UN's first 15 Sustainable Development Goals (based on MSCI SDG Net Alignment Score), as well as companies with an ESG risk score of more than 40 according to data provider Sustainalytics. For investments in instruments issued by countries, the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account by excluding countries in the worst 10% according to the ESG score model, and by excluding countries that do not comply with sustainability principles and are exposed to controversial regimes.

In addition to the normative screening and ESG risk assessment, through the positive selection methodology on carbon intensity and the exclusions in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investment funds, the following indicators of principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were also considered for all investments of this sub-fund:

- Indicator 3: greenhouse gas ('GHG') intensity of investee companies was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for companies.
- Indicator 4: exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that are active in the fossil fuel sector.
- Indicator 10: Violations of the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC) Principles and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that seriously violate UNGC principles or OECD guidelines.
- Indicator 14: exposure to controversial weapons (anti-personnel mines, cluster munitions, chemical weapons and biological weapons) was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that are active in controversial weapons.
- Indicator 15: GHG intensity of investee countries was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for sovereign related investments.
- Indicator 16: Investee countries subject to social violations was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in (i) countries not complying with sustainability principles, and (ii) countries exposed to controversial regimes. More information can be found in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds.

A complete overview of the indicators of principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors that the sub-fund can take into account can be found in Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Yes. Companies involved in severe controversies related to environmental, social or governance issues were excluded. The United Nations Global Compact has formulated ten guiding sustainability principles regarding human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption which are part of the internal screening. In addition, Ivesam SA assessed the companies' involvement in violations of the International Labour Organization's (ILO) Conventions, the OECD Guidelines for multinational enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGPs). All companies on KBC Group's 'Human Rights List' were excluded. More information regarding the Policy on Human Rights can be found on the website of Ivesam SA.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account by the exclusion policies applied. More information can be found in the section "How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?" of this Annex. In addition, the principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through Ivesam SA's proxy voting and engagement policies.

What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. On 30 September 2023, the proportion of sustainable investments was 80.96%.

● What was the asset allocation?

The portfolio of the sub-fund was invested in accordance with the investment strategy as set out in section 1.17.1. of the prospectus.

Within the categories of eligible assets as described in section 1.17.1. of the prospectus, the sub-fund invested 99.23% in assets that promote environmental or social characteristics and 0.77% in other investments. More information on what investments were included under "other investments", can be found in the section 'What investments were included under "other", what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?' of this Annex.

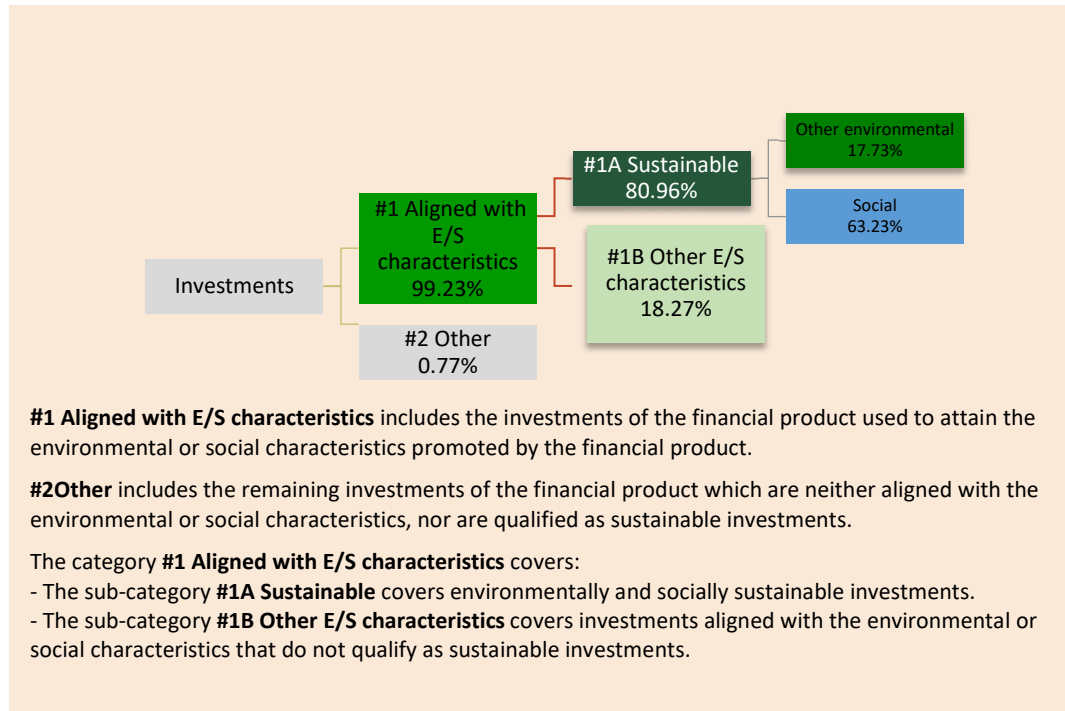

The sub-fund invested 80.96% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 18.27% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics. 17.73% of the sustainable investments are environmentally sustainable investments which were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy and 63.23% are socially sustainable investments.

The sustainable investments are equal to the sum of investments that are considered "sustainable" based on the published methodology on contributing to the achievement of the UN Sustainable Development Goals, plus investments in bonds that can be considered as bonds to finance green and/or social projects plus instruments that are considered "sustainable" by the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

More information can be found at the section 'What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?' of this Annex.

Asset allocation describes the share of investments in specific assets.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

● In which economic sectors were the investments made?

On 30/09/2023 the investments were made in the following sectors:

Sector	%Assets
Governments	51.35%
Financials	18.85%
Telecommunication	5.51%
Consumer Services	5.05%
Health Care	3.58%
Utilities	3.52%
Industrials	3.45%
Technology	2.62%
Not Specified	2.13%
Consumer Goods	2.10%
Basic Materials	1.16%
Various	0.65%

Sectors and sub-sectors of the economy that derive revenues from exploration, mining, extraction, production, processing, storage, refining or distribution, including transportation, storage and trade of fossil fuels are part of the exclusion policy. Consequently, the sub-fund did not invest in these sectors and sub-sectors. However, an exception is foreseen in the policy for investments in bonds financing green projects of these companies, facilitating the energy transition. As a result, it is possible that for the proportion of the investments invested into bonds financing green projects, there is exposure in these sectors.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The sub-fund did not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy, it cannot be ruled out that the sub-fund does contain investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy. The percentage invested in EU Taxonomy-aligned investments was set at 30 September 2023. Given the limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, Ivesam SA determined that sufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was not available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy was therefore set at 0%.

● Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

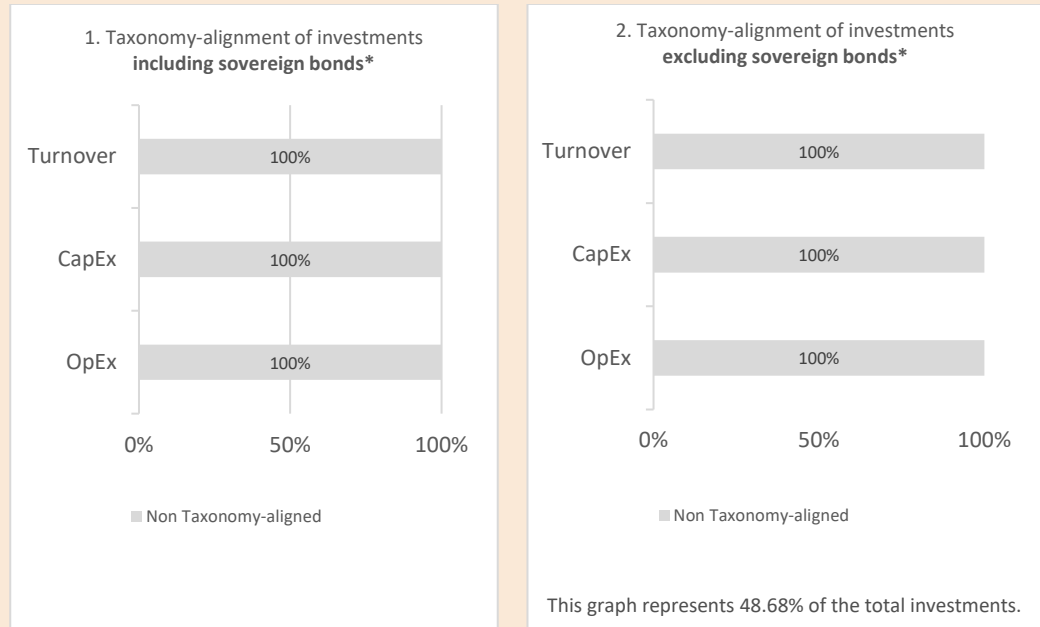

- Yes:
 - In fossil gas
 - In nuclear energy
- No

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

¹ Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

● What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

Not applicable.

● How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

At the date of this annual report, the actual values are only available for the end of September 2023. These numbers are included in the table above.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2022. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 17.73%.

There is currently a lack of sustainability data available as not all entities are yet required to publish sustainability information under the Corporate Sustainability Reporting

Directive. This has created the risk that investment funds currently report a very low percentage of investments that comply with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of socially sustainable investments was: 63.23%.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

There were technical items such as cash and derivatives which are not part of the screening methodology. The sub-fund held or invested in these types of assets to achieve investment objectives, to diversify the portfolio, for liquidity management purposes and to hedge risks.

Derivatives were used to hedge risks as described in permitted derivatives transactions as set out in section 1.17.1. of the prospectus. Investments in derivatives were not used to attain the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product and will not affect them.

For investments included under “#2 Other”, there are no environmental or social safeguards. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of issuers, by preferring issuers with a better ESG score;
- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring issuers with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by including issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The sub-fund excluded issuers involved in activities such as fossil fuels, the tobacco industry, weapons, gambling and adult entertainment from the sub-fund's investment universe. Investments in financial instruments linked to livestock and food prices were also excluded, and companies active in the palm oil industry were subject to strict criteria. Companies that derive at least 5% of their income from production or 10% of their income from the sale of fur or special leather were excluded. The negative screening also ensured that issuers based in countries that encourage unfair tax practices, that seriously violate basic environmental, social or good governance principles (through normative screening, through a poor ESG risk score, due to involvement in unsustainable countries and controversial regimes) were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe.

These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board. Ivesam also applied the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy for the issuers in which the sub-fund invested.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or government-linked agencies, the reference portfolio of global government bonds (composed of the following benchmarks: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR) is used as a basis of comparison to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.

Environmental and/or social characteristics

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Did this financial product have a sustainable investment objective?

Yes

It made sustainable investments with an environmental objective: ___%

in economic activities that qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

It made sustainable investments with a social objective: ___%

No

It promoted Environmental/Social (E/S) characteristics and while it did not have as its objective a sustainable investment, it had a proportion of 71.29% of sustainable investments with an environmental objective in economic activities that qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

with a social objective

It promoted E/S characteristics, but did not make any sustainable investments

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of issuers (companies, governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments), by preferring issuers with a better ESG score;

- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring issuers with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The concrete objectives of the sub-fund are the following:

	Objectif
Instruments issued by corporates
Target ESG score	10% better than the reference portfolio determined by IHS Markit iBoxx Euro Corporates.
Carbon intensity target	Pathway to 50% reduction by 2030 compared with the reference portfolio determined by IHS Markit iBoxx Euro Corporates at the end of 2019. An immediate 30% reduction is introduced for 2019, followed by a 3% reduction each year.
UN Sustainable Development Goals	Minimum 60% of investments in instruments issued by corporates should contribute to UN Sustainable Development Goals, including the green, social & sustainability bonds within the corporate bonds part.
Target for bonds financing green and/or social projects	Minimum 10% of corporate bonds in which investments are made, should qualify as bonds financing green and/or social projects.
Instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments
Target ESG score	10% above the benchmark index of global bonds (composed of the following benchmark index figures: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR)
Carbon intensity target	25% above the benchmark index of global bonds (composed of the following benchmark index figures: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR)
UN Sustainable Development Goals	Minimum 60% invested in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, including bonds financing green and/or social projects

Target for bonds financing green and/or social projects	Minimum 10% of bonds issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments in which investments are made, should qualify as bonds financing green and/or social projects
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments for the sub-fund	35%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with a social objective	5%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU taxonomy	1%
Other specific objectives	Not applicable

The sub-fund pursued (directly or indirectly) these objectives based on a dualistic approach: the negative screening and the positive selection methodology. This approach was gradually implemented in the portfolio, as of 9 September 2022. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in the section 'Did this financial product have a sustainable investment objective?' only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. The sub-fund invested 71.29% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 28.01% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics.

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instrument issued by companies, the benchmark IHS Markit iBoxx Euro Corporates was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund. For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, the described reference portfolio of global government bonds was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

● How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The sub-fund has reached all targets set out under the heading 'To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?' of this Annex.

Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the performance of the sustainability indicators only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

● ...and compared to previous periods?

Not applicable.

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

● What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The sub-fund promoted a combination of environmental and social characteristics and, even though it didn't have sustainable investments as an objective, the sub-fund invested 71.29% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

(1) UN Sustainable Development Goals

To support sustainable development, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals (including both social and environmental objectives).

Instruments of companies that are aligned with at least one of the 15 first UN Sustainable Development Goals, while not being misaligned with any of these UN Sustainable Development Goals, were designated as 'sustainable investments'.

In addition, the Responsible Investing Advisory Board can award the 'sustainable development' label to instruments of companies.

Governments were assessed on the five pillars described in the ESG score, which contain indicators that can be linked to the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals. If a government scored sufficiently well for one of these pillars and not significantly badly for the others, the bonds of that government and its sub-governments and agencies were considered instruments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

(2) Bonds financing green and/or social projects

To encourage the transition to a more sustainable world, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in bonds financing green and/or social projects (that are aligned with the International Capital Market Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and Social Bond Principles on the Use of Proceeds). Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

● How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

The sustainable investments made by the sub-fund did not cause significant harm to the sustainable investment objective through the negative screening. The sub-fund took into account the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 through the negative screening.

The negative screening amounts to the sub-fund's a priori exclusion of issuers from the Responsible Investment universe which fell foul the exclusion policies. The application of these policies meant that issuers involved in activities such as fossil fuels, the tobacco industry, weapons, gambling and adult entertainment were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. Investments in financial instruments linked to livestock and food prices were also excluded, and companies active in the palm oil industry were subject to strict criteria. Companies that derive at least 5% of their income from production or 10% of their income from the sale of fur or special leather were excluded. The negative screening also ensured that issuers based in countries that encourage unfair tax practices, that seriously violate basic environmental, social or good governance principles (through normative screening and through a poor ESG risk score) as well as countries not meeting the sustainability principles and controversial regimes were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

Through the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds and, in particular, the normative screening and ESG risk assessment, all indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account for instruments issued by companies. The sub-fund did not invest in companies that seriously violate the principles of the United Nations Global Compact and the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, and any companies involved in serious controversies related to environmental, social or good governance issues were also excluded. Also excluded were companies that deviate significantly (score of -10) from any of the UN's first 15 Sustainable Development Goals (based on MSCI SDG Net Alignment Score), as well as companies with an ESG risk score of more than 40 according to data provider Sustainalytics. For investments in instruments issued by countries, the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account by excluding countries in the worst 10% according to the ESG score model, and by excluding countries that do not comply with sustainability principles and are exposed to controversial regimes.

In addition to the normative screening and ESG risk assessment, through the positive selection methodology on carbon intensity and the exclusions in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investment funds, the following indicators of principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were also considered for all investments of this sub-fund:

- Indicator 3: greenhouse gas ('GHG') intensity of investee companies was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for companies.
- Indicator 4: exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that are active in the fossil fuel sector.
- Indicator 10: Violations of the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC) Principles and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that seriously violate UNGC principles or OECD guidelines.
- Indicator 14: exposure to controversial weapons (anti-personnel mines, cluster munitions, chemical weapons and biological weapons) was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that are active in controversial weapons.
- Indicator 15: GHG intensity of investee countries was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for sovereign related investments.
- Indicator 16: Investee countries subject to social violations was taken into account as the subfund did not invest in (i) countries not complying with sustainability principles, and (ii) countries exposed to controversial regimes. More information can be found in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds.

A complete overview of the indicators of principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors that the sub-fund can take into account can be found in Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288.

Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Yes. Companies involved in severe controversies related to environmental, social or governance issues were excluded. The United Nations Global Compact has formulated ten guiding sustainability principles regarding human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption which are part of the internal screening. In addition, Ivesam SA assessed the companies' involvement in violations of the International Labour Organization’s (ILO) Conventions, the OECD Guidelines for multinational enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGPs). All companies on KBC Group’s ‘Human Rights List’ were excluded. More information regarding the Policy on Human Rights can be found on the website of Ivesam SA.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a “do not significant harm” principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The “do no significant harm” principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account by the exclusion policies applied. More information can be found in the section "How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?" of this Annex. In addition, the principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through Ivesam SA's proxy voting and engagement policies.

What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. On 30 September 2023, the proportion of sustainable investments was 71.29%.

● What was the asset allocation?

The portfolio of the sub-fund was invested in accordance with the investment strategy as set out in section 1.18.1. of the prospectus.

Within the categories of eligible assets as described in section 1.18.1. of the prospectus, the sub-fund invested 99.30% in assets that promote environmental or social characteristics and 0.70% in other investments. More information on what investments were included under “other investments”, can be found in the section ‘What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?’ of this Annex.

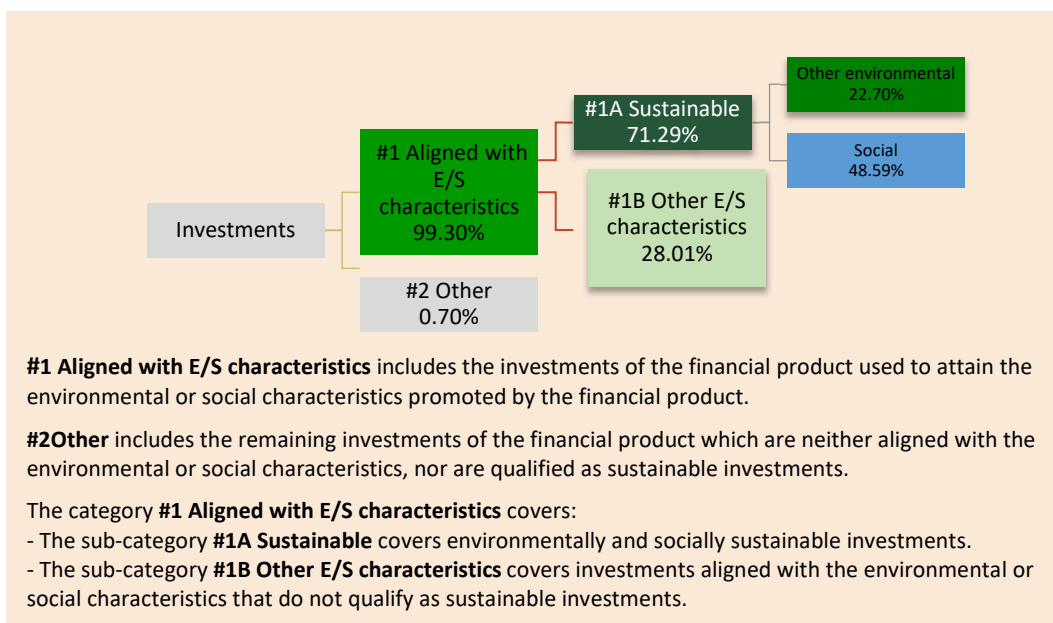

The sub-fund invested 71.29% of the assets in ‘sustainable investments’ as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 28.01% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics. 22.70% of the sustainable investments are environmentally sustainable investments which were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy and 48.59% are socially sustainable investments.

The sustainable investments are equal to the sum of investments that are considered "sustainable" based on the published methodology on contributing to the achievement of the UN Sustainable Development Goals, plus investments in bonds that can be considered as bonds to finance green and/or social projects plus instruments that are considered "sustainable" by the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

More information can be found at the section 'What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?' of this Annex.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

● In which economic sectors were the investments made?

On 30/09/2023 the investments were made in the following sectors:

Sector	%Assets
Governments	15.13%
Financials	39.81%
Telecommunication	10.02%
Industrials	7.79%
Consumer Services	7.74%
Not Specified	5.61%
Health Care	5.56%
Consumer Goods	2.97%
Utilities	2.45%
Technology	1.61%
Basic Materials	0.84%
Various	0.47%

Sectors and sub-sectors of the economy that derive revenues from exploration, mining, extraction, production, processing, storage, refining or distribution, including transportation, storage and trade of fossil fuels are part of the exclusion policy. Consequently, the sub-fund did not invest in these sectors and sub-sectors. However, an exception is foreseen in the policy for investments in bonds financing green projects of these companies, facilitating the energy transition. As a result, it is possible that for the proportion of the investments invested into bonds financing green projects, there is exposure in these sectors.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The sub-fund did not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy, it cannot be ruled out that the sub-fund does contain investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy. The percentage invested in EU Taxonomy-aligned investments was set at 30 September 2023. Given the limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, Ivesam SA determined that sufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was not available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy was therefore set at 0%.

● Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

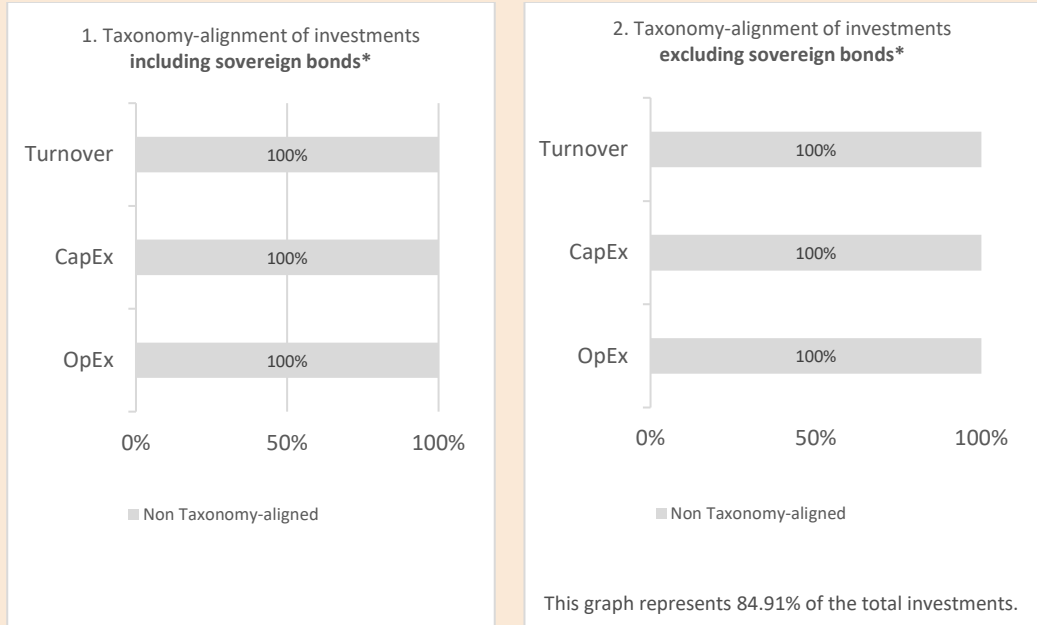

- Yes:
 - In fossil gas
 - In nuclear energy
- No

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

¹ Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

● What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

Not applicable.

● How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

At the date of this annual report, the actual values are only available for the end of September 2023. These numbers are included in the table above.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2022. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 22.70%.

There is currently a lack of sustainability data available as not all entities are yet required to publish sustainability information under the Corporate Sustainability Reporting are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

Directive. This has created the risk that investment funds currently report a very low percentage of investments that comply with the EU Taxonomy.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of socially sustainable investments was: 48.59%.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

There were technical items such as cash and derivatives which are not part of the screening methodology. The sub-fund held or invested in these types of assets to achieve investment objectives, to diversify the portfolio, for liquidity management purposes and to hedge risks.

Derivatives were used to hedge risks as described in permitted derivatives transactions as set out in section 1.18.1. of the prospectus. Investments in derivatives were not used to attain the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product and will not affect them. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

For investments included under “#2 Other”, there are no environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of issuers, by preferring issuers with a better ESG score;
- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring issuers with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by including issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The sub-fund excluded issuers involved in activities such as fossil fuels, the tobacco industry, weapons, gambling and adult entertainment from the sub-fund's investment universe. Investments in financial instruments linked to livestock and food prices were also excluded, and companies active in the palm oil industry were subject to strict criteria. Companies that derive at least 5% of their income from production or 10% of their income from the sale of fur or special leather were excluded. The negative screening also ensured that issuers based in countries that encourage unfair tax practices, that seriously violate basic environmental, social or good governance principles (through normative screening, through a poor ESG risk score, due to involvement in unsustainable countries and controversial regimes) were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe.

These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board. Ivesam SA also applied the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy for the issuers in which the sub-fund invested.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or government-linked agencies, the reference portfolio of global government bonds (composed of the following benchmarks: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR) is used as a basis of comparison to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

Environmental and/or social characteristics

Sustainable investment means an investment in an economic activity that contributes to an environmental or social objective, provided that the investment does not significantly harm any environmental or social objective and that the investee companies follow good governance practices.

The EU Taxonomy is a classification system laid down in Regulation (EU) 2020/852, establishing a list of environmentally sustainable economic activities. That Regulation does not include a list of socially sustainable economic activities. Sustainable investments with an environmental objective might be aligned with the Taxonomy or not.

Did this financial product have a sustainable investment objective?

Yes

It made sustainable investments with an environmental objective: ___%

in economic activities that qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

It made sustainable investments with a social objective: ___%

No

It promoted Environmental/Social (E/S) characteristics and while it did not have as its objective a sustainable investment, it had a proportion of 69.04% of sustainable investments with an environmental objective in economic activities that qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU Taxonomy

with a social objective

It promoted E/S characteristics, but did not make any sustainable investments

To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of issuers (companies, governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments), by preferring issuers with a better ESG score;

- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring issuers with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The concrete objectives of the sub-fund are the following:

	Objectif
Instruments issued by corporates
Target ESG score	10% better than the reference portfolio determined by IHS Markit iBoxx Euro Corporates.
Carbon intensity target	Pathway to 50% reduction by 2030 compared with the reference portfolio determined by IHS Markit iBoxx Euro Corporates at the end of 2019. An immediate 30% reduction is introduced for 2019, followed by a 3% reduction each year.
UN Sustainable Development Goals	Minimum 60% of investments in instruments issued by corporates should contribute to UN Sustainable Development Goals, including the green, social & sustainability bonds within the corporate bonds part.
Target for bonds financing green and/or social projects	Minimum 10% of corporate bonds in which investments are made, should qualify as bonds financing green and/or social projects.
Instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments
Target ESG score	10% above the benchmark index of global bonds (composed of the following benchmark index figures: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR)
Carbon intensity target	25% above the benchmark index of global bonds (composed of the following benchmark index figures: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR)
UN Sustainable Development Goals	Minimum 60% invested in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, including bonds financing green and/or social projects

Target for bonds financing green and/or social projects	Minimum 10% of bonds issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments in which investments are made, should qualify as bonds financing green and/or social projects
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments for the sub-fund	35%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with a social objective	5%
Minimum percentage of sustainable investments with an environmental objective in economic activities that do not qualify as environmentally sustainable under the EU taxonomy	1%
Other specific objectives	Not applicable

The sub-fund pursued (directly or indirectly) these objectives based on a dualistic approach: the negative screening and the positive selection methodology. This approach was gradually implemented in the portfolio, as of 9 September 2022. The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in the section ‘Did this financial product have a sustainable investment objective?’ only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. The sub-fund invested 69.04% of the assets in ‘sustainable investments’ as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 29.94% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics.

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instrument issued by companies, the benchmark IHS Markit iBoxx Euro Corporates was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund. For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or agencies linked to governments, the described reference portfolio of global government bonds was used as a basis of comparison, to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

● How did the sustainability indicators perform?

The sub-fund has reached all targets set out under the heading ‘To what extent were the environmental and/or social characteristics promoted by this financial product met?’ of this Annex.

Given the gradual implementation of this dualistic approach as of 9 September 2022, the performance of the sustainability indicators only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

Sustainability indicators measure how the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product are attained.

● ...and compared to previous periods?

Not applicable.

● What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?

The sub-fund promoted a combination of environmental and social characteristics and, even though it didn't have sustainable investments as an objective, the sub-fund invested 69.04% of the assets in 'sustainable investments' as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

(1) UN Sustainable Development Goals

To support sustainable development, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals (including both social and environmental objectives).

Instruments of companies that are aligned with at least one of the 15 first UN Sustainable Development Goals, while not being misaligned with any of these UN Sustainable Development Goals, were designated as 'sustainable investments'.

In addition, the Responsible Investing Advisory Board can award the 'sustainable development' label to instruments of companies.

Governments were assessed on the five pillars described in the ESG score, which contain indicators that can be linked to the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals. If a government scored sufficiently well for one of these pillars and not significantly badly for the others, the bonds of that government and its sub-governments and agencies were considered instruments that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals. Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

(2) Bonds financing green and/or social projects

To encourage the transition to a more sustainable world, the sub-fund invested a part of its portfolio in bonds financing green and/or social projects (that are aligned with the International Capital Market Association (ICMA) Green Bond Principles and Social Bond Principles on the Use of Proceeds). Instruments that meet these requirements were labelled 'sustainable investments'.

Principal adverse impacts are the most significant negative impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors relating to environmental, social and employee matters, respect for human rights, anti-corruption and anti-bribery matters.

How did the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made not cause significant harm to any environmental or social sustainable investment objective?

The sustainable investments made by the sub-fund did not cause significant harm to the sustainable investment objective through the negative screening. The sub-fund took into account the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 through the negative screening.

The negative screening amounts to the sub-fund's a priori exclusion of issuers from the Responsible Investment universe which fell foul the exclusion policies. The application of these policies meant that issuers involved in activities such as fossil fuels, the tobacco industry, weapons, gambling and adult entertainment were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. Investments in financial instruments linked to livestock and food prices were also excluded, and companies active in the palm oil industry were subject to strict criteria. Companies that derive at least 5% of their income from production or 10% of their income from the sale of fur or special leather were excluded. The negative screening also ensured that issuers based in countries that encourage unfair tax practices, that seriously violate basic environmental, social or good governance principles (through normative screening and through a poor ESG risk score) as well as countries not meeting the sustainability principles and controversial regimes were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe. These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?

Through the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds and, in particular, the normative screening and ESG risk assessment, all indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account for instruments issued by companies. The sub-fund did not invest in companies that seriously violate the principles of the United Nations Global Compact and the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises, and any companies involved in serious controversies related to environmental, social or good governance issues were also excluded. Also excluded were companies that deviate significantly (score of -10) from any of the UN's first 15 Sustainable Development Goals (based on MSCI SDG Net Alignment Score), as well as companies with an ESG risk score of more than 40 according to data provider

Sustainalytics. For investments in instruments issued by countries, the indicators of the principle adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors as stated in Table 1 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288, as well as the relevant indicators for the principle adverse impacts of investments decisions on sustainability factors in Tables 2 and 3 of Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288 were taken into account by excluding countries in the worst 10% according to the ESG score model, and by excluding countries that do not comply with sustainability principles and are exposed to controversial regimes.

In addition to the normative screening and ESG risk assessment, through the positive selection methodology on carbon intensity and the exclusions in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investment funds, the following indicators of principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were also considered for all investments of this sub-fund:

- Indicator 3: greenhouse gas ('GHG') intensity of investee companies was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for companies.
- Indicator 4: exposure to companies active in the fossil fuel sector was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that are active in the fossil fuel sector.
- Indicator 10: Violations of the United Nations Global Compact (UNGC) Principles and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that seriously violate UNGC principles or OECD guidelines.
- Indicator 14: exposure to controversial weapons (anti-personnel mines, cluster munitions, chemical weapons and biological weapons) was taken into account as the sub-fund did not invest in companies that are active in controversial weapons.
- Indicator 15: GHG intensity of investee countries was taken into account through the carbon intensity reduction target for sovereign related investments.
- Indicator 16: Investee countries subject to social violations was taken into account as the subfund did not invest in (i) countries not complying with sustainability principles, and (ii) countries exposed to controversial regimes. More information can be found in the exclusion policy for Responsible Investing funds.

A complete overview of the indicators of principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors that the sub-fund can take into account can be found in Annex I of Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1288.

— — — Were sustainable investments aligned with the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights? Details:

Yes. Companies involved in severe controversies related to environmental, social or governance issues were excluded. The United Nations Global Compact has formulated ten guiding sustainability principles regarding human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption which are part of the internal screening. In addition, Ivesam SA assessed the companies' involvement in violations of the International Labour Organization's (ILO) Conventions, the OECD Guidelines for multinational enterprises and the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights (UNGPs). All companies on KBC Group's 'Human Rights List' were excluded. More information regarding the Policy on Human Rights can be found on the website of Ivesam SA.

The EU Taxonomy sets out a "do not significant harm" principle by which Taxonomy-aligned investments should not significantly harm EU Taxonomy objectives and is accompanied by specific Union criteria.

The "do no significant harm" principle applies only to those investments underlying the financial product that take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities. The investments underlying the remaining portion of this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities.

Any other sustainable investments must also not significantly harm any environmental or social objectives.

How did this financial product consider principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors?

The principal adverse impacts on sustainability factors were explicitly taken into account by the exclusion policies applied. More information can be found in the section "How were the indicators for adverse impacts on sustainability factors taken into account?" of this Annex. In addition, the principle adverse impacts on sustainability factors were implicitly taken into account through Ivesam SA's proxy voting and engagement policies.

What was the proportion of sustainability-related investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. On 30 September 2023, the proportion of sustainable investments was 69.04%.

● What was the asset allocation?

The portfolio of the sub-fund was invested in accordance with the investment strategy as set out in section 1.19.1. of the prospectus.

Within the categories of eligible assets as described in section 1.19.1. of the prospectus, the sub-fund invested 98.98% in assets that promote environmental or social characteristics and 1.02% in other investments. were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?’ of this Annex.

The sub-fund invested 69.04% of the assets in ‘sustainable investments’ as defined by art. 2.17 SFDR and 29.94% in other investments aligned with environmental or social characteristics. 24.75% of the sustainable investments are environmentally sustainable investments which were not aligned with the EU Taxonomy and 44.29% are socially sustainable investments.

The sustainable investments are equal to the sum of investments that are considered "sustainable" based on the published methodology on contributing to the achievement of the UN Sustainable Development Goals, plus investments in bonds that can be considered as bonds to finance green and/or social projects plus instruments that are considered "sustainable" by the Responsible Investing Advisory Board.

More information can be found at the section 'What were the objectives of the sustainable investments that the financial product partially made and how did the sustainable investment contribute to such objectives?' of this Annex.

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not reliable indicator for future results.

● In which economic sectors were the investments made?

On 30/09/2023 the investments were made in the following sectors:

Sector	%Assets
Governments	12.78%
Financials	32.07%
Telecommunication	9.72%
Not Specified	9.48%
Consumer Services	7.20%
Health Care	7.15%
Consumer Goods	6.29%
Industrials	5.54%
Technology	3.65%
Utilities	3.47%
Basic Materials	1.66%
Various	1.00%

Sectors and sub-sectors of the economy that derive revenues from exploration, mining, extraction, production, processing, storage, refining or distribution, including transportation, storage and trade of fossil fuels are part of the exclusion policy. Consequently, the sub-fund did not invest in these sectors and sub-sectors. However, an exception is foreseen in the policy for investments in bonds financing green projects of these companies, facilitating the energy transition. As a result, it is possible that for the proportion of the investments invested into bonds financing green projects, there is exposure in these sectors.

To what extent were the sustainable investments with an environmental objective aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The sub-fund did not specifically seek to invest in environmentally sustainable economic activities within the meaning of the EU Taxonomy Framework ("investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy"). Although the sub-fund does not aim to invest in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy, it cannot be ruled out that the sub-fund does contain investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy. The percentage invested in EU Taxonomy-aligned investments was set at 30 September 2023. Given the limited guidance on how Taxonomy information should be made public, Ivesam SA determined that sufficient reliable, timely and verifiable data from issuers or investee companies was not available at that time, either from its own research or from services provided by data providers. The percentage invested in investments aligned with the EU Taxonomy was therefore set at 0%.

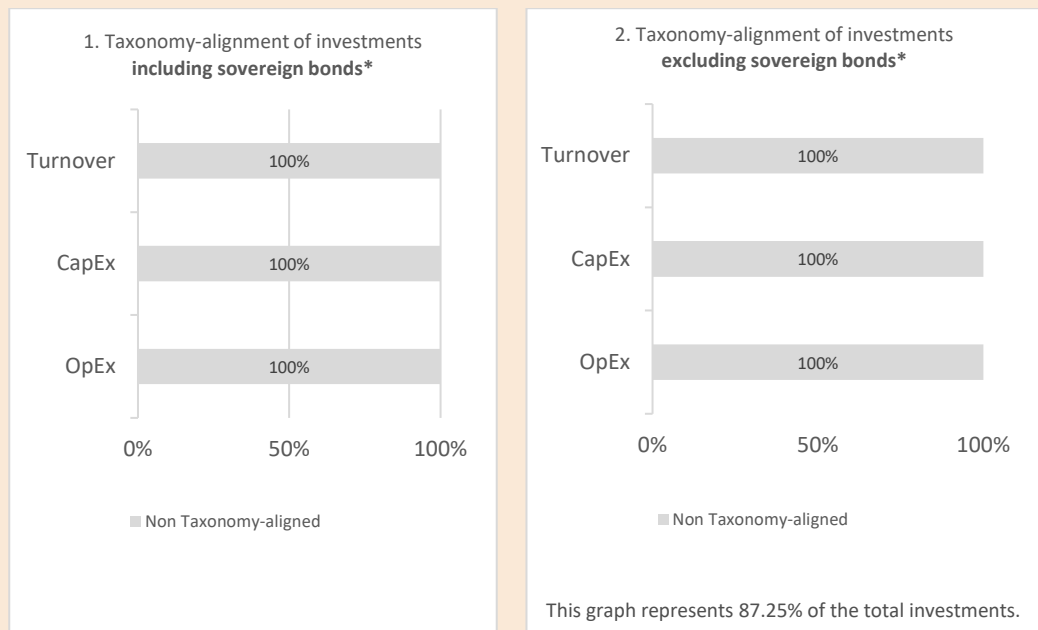

Taxonomy-aligned activities are expressed as a share of:

- turnover reflecting the share of revenue from green activities of investee companies.
- capital expenditure (CapEx) showing the green investments made by investee companies, e.g. for a transition to a green economy.
- operational expenditure (OpEx) reflecting green operational activities of investee companies.

● Did the financial product invest in fossil gas and/or nuclear energy related activities complying with the EU Taxonomy¹?

- Yes:
- In fossil gas In nuclear energy
- No

The graphs below show in green the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy. As there is no appropriate methodology to determine the taxonomy-alignment of sovereign bonds*, the first graph shows the Taxonomy alignment in relation to all the investments of the financial product including sovereign bonds, while the second graph shows the Taxonomy alignment only in relation to the investments of the financial product other than sovereign bonds.

* For the purpose of these graphs, 'sovereign bonds' consist of all sovereign exposures.

Enabling activities directly enable other activities to make a substantial contribution to an environmental objective.

Transitional activities are activities for which low-carbon alternatives are not yet available and among others have greenhouse gas emission levels corresponding to the best performance.

● What was the share of investments made in transitional and enabling activities?

Not applicable.

● How did the percentage of investments that were aligned with the EU Taxonomy compare with previous reference periods?

At the date of this annual report, the actual values are only available for the end of September 2023. These numbers are included in the table above.

¹ Fossil gas and/or nuclear related activities will only comply with the EU Taxonomy where they contribute to limiting climate change ("climate change mitigation") and do not significantly harm any EU Taxonomy objective - see explanatory note in the left hand margin. The full criteria for fossil gas and nuclear energy economic activities that comply with the EU Taxonomy are laid down in Commission Delegated Regulation (EU) 2022/1214.

What was the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2022. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results.

At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of sustainable investments with an environmental objective not aligned with the EU Taxonomy was 24.75%.

There is currently a lack of sustainability data available as not all entities are yet required to publish sustainability information under the Corporate Sustainability Reporting Directive. This has created the risk that investment funds currently report a very low percentage of investments that comply with the EU Taxonomy.

 are sustainable investments with an environmental objective that do not take into account the criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities under Regulation (EU) 2020/852.

What was the share of socially sustainable investments?

The reference period of this annual report is from 1 October 2022 to 30 September 2023. Given the gradual implementation as of 9 September 2022, the figures described in this section only reflect the situation at the end of the financial year of the sub-fund and, for this reason, are not a reliable indicator for future results. At the end of the financial year of the sub-fund, the share of socially sustainable investments was: 44.29%.

What investments were included under “other”, what was their purpose and were there any minimum environmental or social safeguards?

There were technical items such as cash and derivatives which are not part of the screening methodology. The sub-fund held or invested in these types of assets to achieve investment objectives, to diversify the portfolio, for liquidity management purposes and to hedge risks.

Derivatives were used to hedge risks as described in permitted derivatives transactions as set out in section 1.19.1. of the prospectus. Investments in derivatives were not used to attain the environmental or social characteristics promoted by the financial product and will not affect them.

For investments included under “#2 Other”, there are no environmental or social safeguards.

What actions have been taken to meet the environmental and/or social characteristics during the reference period?

The sub-fund:

- promoted the integration of sustainability into the policy decisions of issuers, by preferring issuers with a better ESG score;
- promoted climate change mitigation, by preferring issuers with lower carbon intensity, with the objective of meeting a predetermined carbon intensity target;
- supported sustainable development, by including issuers that contribute to the UN Sustainable Development Goals;
- supported sustainable development by encouraging the transition to a more sustainable world via bonds financing green and/or social projects.

The sub-fund excluded issuers involved in activities such as fossil fuels, the tobacco industry, weapons, gambling and adult entertainment from the sub-fund's investment universe. Investments in financial instruments linked to livestock and food prices were also excluded, and companies active in the palm oil industry were subject to strict criteria. Companies that derive at least 5% of their income from production or 10% of their income from the sale of fur or special leather were excluded. The negative screening also ensured that issuers based in countries that encourage unfair tax practices, that seriously violate basic environmental, social or good governance principles (through normative screening, through a poor ESG risk score, due to involvement in unsustainable countries and controversial regimes) were excluded from the sub-fund's investment universe.

These principles of negative screening are not exhaustive and may be modified on the advice of the Responsible Investing Advisory Board. Ivesam SA also applied the Proxy Voting and Engagement Policy for the issuers in which the sub-fund invested.

How did this financial product perform compared to the reference benchmark?

No reference benchmark has been designated for the purpose of attaining the environmental or social characteristics promoted by this sub-fund.

For investments in instruments issued by governments, supranational debtors and/or government-linked agencies, the reference portfolio of global government bonds (composed of the following benchmarks: 67% developed markets: J.P. Morgan GBI Global Unhedged EUR and 33% emerging markets: J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified Composite Unhedged EUR) is used as a basis of comparison to compare certain ESG characteristics promoted by the sub-fund.

- How does the reference benchmark differ from a broad market index?

Not applicable

Reference benchmarks are indexes to measure whether the financial product attains the environmental or social characteristics that they promote.
