Management Report

Dear Investors,

With this report, we want to give you an overview of the general economic environment and the development of the most important capital markets of our Fund SEB Global Equal Opportunity Fund.

January 2023 – June 2023: AI Revolution, Disinflation Trends and Resilient Economies

The disinflationary trend continued in the first half of the year as energy prices fell due to improvements in supply and demand, while wage costs moderated. Goods inflation declined amid fading supply chain disruptions and weakening demand for goods. Services inflation in Europe and the US remained elevated due to post-COVID demand and strong labour markets, while price pressures in Asia were more moderate. Global growth came in below trend, but above consensus, while first-quarter corporate profits surpassed estimates, leading to upward revisions in growth and earnings forecasts. In the US, hard macro data came in stronger than expected, defying fears that high inflation and interest rates would cause a recession. Concerns for the global banking sector, which arose in March with the US regional banking crisis, eased after quick liquidity support from the US Federal Reserve (the Fed) and stabilisation of bank deposit outflows. The US also avoided defaulting on its debt by raising its debt ceiling in a last-minute deal. The Eurozone entered a technical recession in the first quarter as growth was revised down due to lower household spending and public expenditures. China's recovery disappointed as manufacturing activity slowed, its housing market slumped, and its labour market remained weak, increasing expectations for more stimulus ahead. Global financial conditions eased but remained elevated as central banks continued to tighten policy to curb inflation. Central banks maintained a hawkish stance and signalled further rate hikes to restore their credibility. The Fed held rates steady in June but lifted its rate projection due to persistently high inflation and a resilient economy.

Global stocks, especially US equities, saw a significant rise, with the S&P 500 entering bull market territory. This rally was largely driven by a re-rating of mega-cap tech companies, boosted by optimism around artificial intelligence (AI), but gradually extended to other sectors as well. Despite many investors entering the year with bearish expectations, anticipating a US recession and a sharp decline in corporate profits, the stock market remained resilient. Concerns about the global banking sector, following the collapse of US regional banks, led to a temporary decline in risk sentiment and a move towards safe-haven assets. However, as liquidity issues appeared to be confined, contagion fears subsided, and risk appetite rebounded. Market volatility and credit spreads, which had increased during the financial turmoil, decreased as banking worries faded. Despite the risk of a looming US debt default, equity and credit markets remained relatively stable. Hawkish central bank rhetoric led to an upward shift in market expectations for future interest rates, leading to higher short-term bond yields and an inverted yield curve.

Optimism for AI boosted returns for chip producers and tech companies this year. Valuations of firms like Nvidia, companies seen as key beneficiaries of the technology, skyrocketed. As AI is projected to revolutionise work practices and increase labour productivity across industries, SEB Investment Management AB (SEB IM AB) decided to launch the SEB Artificial Intelligence Fund – a thematic fund focusing on companies that enable the use or development of AI – to capitalise on its growth potential and meet the increasing demand for AI investments. SEB IM AB published its annual sustainability report detailing their progress in working with sustainability and corporate governance issues, and how SEB IM AB, as active owners, continue to engage and influence companies in which they invest.

In the second half of 2023, market focus will likely shift to growth as investors have become less worried about inflation, which has fallen in line with 2023's market forecast. Investors will also focus on when central banks, particularly the Fed, which is nearing its peak rate, will conclude their hiking cycles and start cutting interest rates. Despite a strong US economy, there are signs of a weaker macroeconomic backdrop due to past rate hikes and tightening credit conditions. The question is whether the Fed can avoid a recession with continued rate hikes. The effectiveness of China's measures to boost its recovery and global growth is also a key concern. While we anticipate a slowdown in growth, a severe contraction seems less likely this year due to resilient economic data. We expect inflation to continue falling, which should put downward pressure on bond yields and, in our view, lead to a shift in monetary policy. Lower yields, a robust economy, and stable corporate earnings should support risk assets like equities and credit. Given investors' historically low exposure to stocks, we see the potential for stable equity returns over the next three to six months.

On behalf of SEB Investment Management AB and our board of directors, we thank you again for your continued commitment. And as always, we are here to assist you should you have any concerns.

Notes to the Financial Statements

As at 30 June 2023

Note 1. Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Luxembourg regulations relating to Undertakings for Collective Investment.

The financial statements have been prepared based on the last official Net Asset Value of the period which has been calculated on 30 June 2023 with the prices of that date.

Investments are valued as follows:

Investments	Last available price	Administrative Agent	Last available settlement prices	A price no lower than the bid price and no higher than the ask price	Latest available forward exchange rates
Listed Transferable securities and money markets instruments	X
Unlisted Transferable securities and money markets instruments				X
Units or shares of UCI(TS)		X

In the event that such prices are not in line with market conditions, or for securities and money market instruments other than those covered above for which there are no fixed prices, these securities and money market instruments, as well as other assets, will be valued at the current market value as determined in good faith by the Management Company, following generally accepted valuation principles.

In the case that extraordinary circumstances occur which make it impossible or even wrong to make a valuation in accordance with the above-mentioned criteria, the Management Company is entitled to temporarily apply other generally accepted valuation procedures, which are determined by it in good faith, in order to make an appropriate valuation of the Fund's Assets.

Gains and losses on the sale of securities are determined using the average cost method.

Swing pricing:

When substantial sums flow in or out of a Fund, the Investment Manager has to make adjustments, such as trading on the market, in order to maintain the desired asset allocation for the Fund. Trading can incur costs that affect the Unit price of the Fund and the value of existing Investors' investments. Swing pricing is designed to protect Investors' investments in this kind of situation.

The Unit price of the Fund may thus be adjusted upwards in case of large inflows and down-wards in case of large outflows on a certain Business Day. The thresholds that trigger swing pricing as well as the size of the adjustments ("swing factor") are set by the board of directors of the Management Company or by a swing price committee appointed by the board of directors of the Management Company.

The Board of Directors of the Management Company or swing price committee may also decide a maximum swing factor to apply to a -Fund. The list of Funds that currently apply swing pricing, including the size of a maximum swing factor, is available on SEB Investment Management's website. Investors may also request this information, free of charge.

Fund	Maximum applied adjustment
SEB Global Equal Opportunity Fund	0.99% of the NAV

No swing pricing adjustment has been applied to the period end Net Asset Value per unit calculated on 30 June 2023.
